

A First Lesson in Handling a Gun.

The first thing to be learned is to stand properly. Plant both your feet naturally and firmly on the ground, so that the joints of your legs are neither stiff nor bent; then lean the upper part of your body slightly forward. Grip the gunstock just behind the guard with the right hand, the fore-finger lightly touching the foremost trigger, that is, the trigger of the right-hand barrel. The stock of the gun, a few inches in front of the guard, must rest easily in the hollow of the left hand. Hold the muzzle of the gun up and slanting away from you, so that the lower end of the butt is just lower than your right elbow. Now, if both hammers have been cocked and you gently and swiftly draw the butt of the gun up to and against the hollow of the right shoulder, you will find yourself in good position for taking aim, which is best done by keeping both eyes wide open, and looking straight over the rib between the barrels with the right eye.

You will soon discover the trick of doing this, by fixing your aim with both eyes open, and then, holding it perfectly steady, closing the left eye; if the line of sight changes, you have not sighted correctly; if it remains fixed, the aim has been taken with the right eye.

Be careful after firing never to set your gun down with a hammer up. That is the cause of many deplorable accidents. To avoid accident you must be constantly on the alert and cautious, not overlooking even the slightest precautions.

SOMETHING NEW.—There has always been great difficulty in getting water-proof coats to fit satisfactorily about the neck and shoulders, for stout and round-shouldered men. You can avoid this and have a perfect fit by leaving your measure with us. We have made arrangements with an English firm to have these coats made on our own patterns, so that we are in a position to warrant a good fit. We can show over 100 samples of the goods from which the coats will be made, ranging in price from $8 to $24. Every coat warranted to come the same as sample of goods shown. You can have better material and cheaper than buying ready-made goods.—John McLeod & Co., Merchant Tailors. aug27 11
