BALLOT MISTAKE NOTED

Sir,—May I be permitted to point out a discrepancy to the voting public, in the printing of the Provincial Election ballot and also the Election Proclamation.

When nominated to contest this Election as a candidate for the C. C. F. party, my name and occupation were duly given, and sworn to before the county sheriff, as Alexander MacLean, C. N. R. Express Motorman.

This sworn statement was changed when the ballots were printed, and the proclamation issued, and my occupation is shown as Truckman.

In order that my identity may not be confused with that of someone else of the same name may I point out that the information on the ballot and proclamation should agree with that given on my affadavit.

Space in your newspaper to bring this to the attention of the public will be very much appreciated.

I am, Sir, etc.
ALEXANDER MACLEAN
Charlottetown, April 21.

ROADS AND POLICIES

Sir,—In a couple of your issues of the past week, I notice the Liberal Party has gone to the trouble to send to the Province of Ontario to procure, pictures of the Tory roads of that Province, and have them reproduced in your valuable publication as election propaganda to try and mislead our people. Apparently they have travelled quite a distance to get these pictures. All they would have to do is to come to West Prince, and if a photographer could approach near enough to some of the spots which are quite numerous, without getting bogged and losing his camera, they could procure enough different pictures to fill a full issue of your paper, especially between St. Louis and Palmer Road, also St. Louis and Ebbsfleet, where people walking have to leave the road and take to the fields to reach their destinations.

Ask the residents of Ebbsfleet why they cannot move their fishing supplies from St. Louis, but have to store them in St. Louis.

The last few days quite a flurry of activity is taking place with trucks hauling clay and maintainers trying to do something to show they mean business on the eve of an election, as was the case in all previous elections.

This flurry of activity would certainly not be taking place if an election was not coming in a few days. Where is the paved road from Elmsdale to Tignish and St. Louis promised before the last election? Also our electric power?

Now we are given another promise, if the present party is returned to power we are to receive two paved roads to Tignish, the completion of the one from Montrose to Tignish and another to follow the main highway from Elmsdale to Tignish with a branch to St. Louis.

At present the representatives are very busy passing out the hand shakes. Grasp it and shake it well, if they are returned you will not have the opportunity to shake it for another term; as they will return to their den and forget all about their unfilled promises until the eve of the next election when they will again come forth with a new batch of promises. If it is correct, and I presume it is, the present party is in the red to the tune of around the 17 million mark. They can't say that West Prince is the cause of the debt. In Mr. Jones' speech of a few days ago did he mention anything to be done west of O'Leary. Nothing what so ever, and apparently that is what we can expect.

We cannot even compete with Lennox Island they have electric power.

I am, Sir, etc.

MAYORS & THE LEGISLATURE

Sir, — May I take time out to answer a letter signed "Fair Play" appearing in The Guardian issue of April 23rd.

Summerside is indeed fortunate in having as its chief magistrate, Mr. Henry Wedge. It is indeed fortunate also, in that its Act of Incorporation allows for its Mayor or Councillors to be members of the Legislative Assembly of the Province.

Anyone with common ordinary sense can readily see that this is a great advantage to any municipality, especially when there is no Minister of Municipal Affairs portfolio in the Provincial setup, as in other Provincial governments. Secondly, if the Mayor or a Councillor is selected as a candidate for the Legislature and is elected, then the City is not forced to conduct a civic election. Why should Charlottetown not have the same privileges as Summerside in this regard?

I do not believe Mayor MacDonald asked for the legislation to be changed. I would suppose it was a request from the Council, which is a non-political body who, knowing Summerside was in this preferred position, wanted the same for Charlottetown.

This was not an ambitious move on the part of our Mayor, but one can see the good, common sense and foresight in our Council's resolution to the Provincial Legislature. Evidently they have no doubt of his election.

I am, Sir, one who feels that if Summerside Town Fathers can sit in the Legislature, Charlottetown City Fathers are entitled to the equal right.

Mr. Keith Boswell On P. E. I. Election Issues

The following address on Provincial election issues was given recently by Mr. Keith Boswell, one of the Progressive Conservative candidates for the Fourth District of Prince.

"Electors of Prince Edward Island, at a convention held in Bedeque Mr. Ernest Strong, K.C., and myself were nominated to contest the Fourth District of Prince.

"I must admit that it takes courage to consider running an election under such adverse circumstances. No time to place a fair picture of conditions before the electorate, no roads on which to travel and little opportunity to meet the people to encourage them to place their confidence in us as their future representatives.

"We ask then, ladies and gentlemen, why these unfavorable conditions? And the answer is,—because of the mismanagement and lack of foresight of the present administration, no consideration for the ordinary man and fear that he will learn the true condition of affairs under their long term of wastefulness. Little wonder that they are asking where is the prosperity that the Liberals promised to us as farmers? I come to you in all humility as a farmer. I do not pretend to be smarter than anyone else; but I do pretend to know that we are working much too hard and for too little.

"No security for our investments, no guarantee that what we raise we can sell, and no intimation of what we will get for it. In fact no freedom from fear; or encouragement that the future will be safe for us. We do not want political hand-outs, last minute bargains, we are willing, and prefer to work for what we get; but we must be reasonably paid for our work—and it is hard work.

"We did not complain during the war when our butter and eggs sold below cost of production. We were patroitic, but why in the last years we were still selling below cost of production? Because the government at Ottawa has seen fit to set our floor prices much too low. And here we come to this matter of the Federal Government ruling our roast—so to speak. What have we in the Maritimes got from Ottawa anyway? They keep telling us keep in line. I remember my uncle, the late Premier Lea using, as his favorite expression "the wheel that squeaks the loudest gets the most grease."

"It is time we in the Maritimes and on Prince Edward Island, did some squeaking and as long as we keep electing Liberal governments in line with Ottawa, we will con-

Large Audience Enjoys Y's Men's Annual Show

Once in a long while a stage show hits the boards in one of the local theatres and sets an entire audience rocking with mirth and hoping the show would never end.

This was certainly the case last evening when the fourth annual Y's Men's show played before a capacity audience at the Prince Edward Theatre. Packed full of humorous innovations, "Come To The Fair" is undoubtedly the best show of its kind to be seen locally in a long time, and the enterprising Y's Men should be commended very highly on producing excellent entertainment of this type with local talent.

Directed by Mr. Jock Lawson, the fast moving show centres around a rural district, with the first part of the program played before the red barn, and the second half on the midway of a visiting fair. Syd Jeffery, "Jasper", contributed greatly to the success of the evening as master of ceremonies, played in an entirely different manner, and Mrs. Jock Lawson, as his wife, brought many chuckles from the audience as they saw in her a caricature of the farmer's better half.

A show-stealer was presented last night in the person of little Marlene Weatherbie, who danced her way into the hearts of everyone with a vivacity and personality which could not be resisted.

The Russian Ballet presented the "Dying Swan," to the complete delight of everyone. With a corps de ballet of four, and one premier danseuse, they performed this difficult number with a lack of grace which brought tears of laughter Performed entirely by members of the Y's Men, it is a number which will long be remembered by everyone fortunate enough to see it.

The hillbilly singing of Janet Rupert and Irene Giddings was another highlight, and the "Moe and Joe" dialogue and duets of Ralph Rupert and Harvey MacPherson should not be missed by anyone who enjoys a good laugh at the expense of local personalities.

The Y-Nots, always a feature of these annual shows, were on hand again last evening, and choral selections by the entire cast helped to round out a very pleasing and varied program.

Other specialties which were received with round after round of applause included, "The String Busters"—Charles Peters and Wendell Burke; Harold Bauer and his saxaphone; "Tally-Ho"— Frank Mellish; "The College Medley,"—Y's Men; Violinist George Weatherbie; accompanied by Leona Weatherbie; Strong Man and Spieler —George Ives and George Walters; Horse Race—Y's Men; Humpty and Dumpty—Wendell Mutch and Art Duvar; Little Egypt, Aloha and Spieler—Art Hogan, Clarence MacGinn and Ralph Rupert; Basso Raoul Reymond accompanied by Mrs. Raymond, and accordionist Phillip Doyle.

Members of the Russian Ballet were Allison Owen, Ralph Jenkins, Roy Smallman, Jock Lawson, and Charlie Wilkins.

Throughout the entire evening a city slicker, played by Jock Lawson, was seen at intervals as he pursued a most attractive young lady across the stage. At the final curtain she succumbed to a race horse which apparently belonged to the slicker, thus bringing a happy ending to their dashing romance.

Members of the Y-Nots were Marilyn Rupert, Elaine Bourke, Joan Scales, Barbara Rupert, Hilda Pickard, Doreen Hutchison, Barbara Pickard and Doreen Campbell. Assisting on the program, in addition to the Y's Men and the specialties already mentioned were: Dolly Wilkins, Jean Presby, Sheila MacInnis, Nancy MacNevin, Barbara Rogers, Muriel Hurst, Eva MacLean, Marjorie Stewart, Jean Kennedy and Mary Morrison.

O. K. Presby directed the music for the program and acted as accompanist, and Frank Johnstone was in charge of the choral work. Dolly Wilkins designed and executed the costumes for the Y-Nots. Members of the orchestra were, piano, O. K. Presby; violin, Alf McKearney; bass violin, Cecil Santry, and traps, Jackie Brown.

"Come To The Fair" will be presented again this evening and tomorrow night, and is a must for all those who enjoy an evening of good, clean fun.

Large Meeting At Bradalbane

A very largely attended meeting at Breadalbane last night heard the Provincial election issues discussed by the Progressive Conservative candidates for First Queen's, Messrs. Walter MacKenzie and Frank Myers. Other speakers were Messrs. Samuel Gillespie, Springfield, Arthur Stewart, Seaview, Bennett Carr, Oyster Bed Bridge, and Preston McCaskell, Mt. Stewart. Mr. Bennett Deighen presided.

As at former meetings in this district, the Liberal candidates failed to appear.

BEDEQUE W. M. S.

The Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of Bedeque United Church, held their April meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pearl Affleck, with twelve members present.

The president, Mrs. Ernest Weeks presided and led the worship service. The meeting opened by all singing hymn, "O Zion Haste Thy Mission High Fulfilling." Mrs. Carrie Leard read a poem written by a mother, entitled "To My Son". Prayers by several of the members for the Ministers and Missionaries who have gone out from the congregation, and for the young people of the church, that they may respond to God's call to Christian service. After singing the hymn "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult", this part of the meeting was closed by prayer.

The minutes of March meeting were given by Mrs. Orville Johnson, recording secretary. Miss Louise Callbeck, temperance secretary, read an article on temperance, showing the large amount of money spent in the Province on liquors during the past year. It was moved and seconded to send a resolution to the P. E. Island Temperance Federation requesting that in view of the present misuse of the word temperance, the name of that organization be changed to "The Prince Edward Island Total Abstinence Federation."

Five hospital calls and fifteen house calls were made. Seventeen cards and two bouquets were sent to shut-ins, since the last meeting. A box of clothing and bedding was packed by the Y.W.A. and the Missionary Society members ready for shipment for overseas relief. Miss Mildred Callbeck, treasurer, received the collection of $13.80; emergency, $1.00; temperance fund, $1.00.

Two Missionaries were chosen for prayer, Miss May MacLaughlin in Japan and Miss Kate Rutherford of Angola, Africa. Miss Louisa Callbeck conducted the program "Look Through Missionary Windows in Africa, India, Trinidad and Japan."

City Police Teach Scouts

Staff Sergeant L. McInnis, a veteran of fifteen years in City police work and presently in charge of traffic control, conducted the first in a series of lectures designed to teach Scouts how to control traffic.

The course opened last evening in City Hall with twenty-six Scouts in attendance. Police Chief MacArthur opened the session by stressing accident prevention through knowledge of the law. He pointed out that each Scout could be an ambassador of good will by explaining to his friends the need of observing traffic regulations.

Staff Sgt. McInnis then carefully outlined the City by-laws and how each should be interpreted and applied by a traffic control officer. He concluded by pointing out the need of trained Scouts in local emergencies and, in the event of another world war, in civil defence.

Wednesday evening Scouts will see films on traffic problems and on Friday and Saturday will help control traffic on City intersections.

The following were in attendance St. James: Ian Taylor; Zion: R. Hickox, F. Hickox, J. MacDonald, B. Nelson; St. Pauls: B. Ives, A. Massey, A. MacLaren, A. Cauty, L. Dalziel, R. Ainsworth; Trinity: R. Hutcheson, J. Phillips, T. Davies, A. Campbell, F. Seller, D. Livingstone, R. Partridge, I. Finlayson; Parkdale: T. Beer, R. Seaman, J. Burke, R. Beer; East Royalty: D. Heartz, F. Corcoran, J. Gill.

Quebec Theatres Threaten To Close

QUEBEC, April 23 — (CP)— Theatre owners today said the city's 13 theatres will close April 30 if a proposed new admission tax is put into effect.

The owners, who declined to be named, said the new tax would cause a 20 per cent drop in attendance.

City administrative committee last Friday approved a new amusement tax of five cents on theatre tickets less than $1.00 and 10 cents on tickets more than $1.00.

City Council next Friday will vote on the tax, which city treasurer C. R. Fontaine described as necessary to help balance the 1951-52 budget.

Mellick - Youland Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Trinity United Church on the evening of March 14th when the Rev. H. E. D. Ashford united in holy bonds of matrimony Katherine Ethel, daughter of William Youland, Stanhope, to Alman Stewart Mellick, Suffolk, son of Mrs. Ethel Mellick, Charlottetown.

Given in marriage by her uncle, J. K. Lacey, Charlottetown, the bride looked lovely in a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridesmaid, Mrs. George Rattray, sister of the groom wore a grey suit with matching pink accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

The groom was ably supported by William Youland, Jr., brother of the bride. The ushers were Eugene MacCabe relative of the bride and Roy Stewart, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. R. Haines, 10 Hawthorne Ave., to immediate relatives and friends, toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. H. E. D. Mr. Rodd Sells Champion Sire To New Brunswick

Brooknill Romulus Forward, grand champion Guernsey sire at the Provincial Exhibition last year, and owned by Mr. Guy Rodd, Brackley, has been sold to the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture.

An outstanding Guernsey sire, who received honorable mention in the All-Canadian Award last year, the bull will be used in an artificial insemination unit at Norton, N.B.

The sire, who is four years old, was bought by Mr. Rodd as a yearling. His half brother, imported here last fall, will take his place as herd sire of Mr. Rodd's Guernseys.

Rosewald Hononor's Gloria, produced 400 pounds of fat for Mr. Rodd in the four year old Guernsey class during March according to a bulletin prepared by the Canadian Breeders' Association.

Another Guernsey breeder, Mr. Eric Hurry, Winsloe, also owned a high producer. Patosie Rosie, owned by Mr. Hurry, made 677 pounds of fat in the mature class, 365 day division during March.

Island Guernsey breeders have also purchased a highly recommended young calf from Ontario. The calf, Kingfield Nimbus from Kingfield Farms, King, Ontario, is about seven months old and has not been transported here yet.

He is sired by McDonald Farms Fore Nimble, imported to a group of Ontario farms for $7,000 in May, 1949. The dam, Mary Lou 4th produced 15,491 pounds of milk and 678 pounds of fat as a three year old and classified very good.

Drift Ice Moving Slowly In Strait

Drift ice was moving slowly eastward through the Northumberland Strait yesterday, Capt. Angus Brown reported after an aerial survey for the Department of Transport. The ice extended from West Point light to a line between Cape Bear and Cape George. Summerside harbor was closed to navigation yesterday but Charlottetown was still open.

Southerly wind was moving the ice closer to the Prince Edward Island shore.

During the survey a tanker was observed proceeding eastward through the scattered drift ice without trouble. A sealing vessel, a schooner from Souris, P. E. I. was observed working some 10 miles off Cape Egmont light. However the main body of seals was far to the east, many of them off Wood Islands and Little Sands.

The ice is expected to drift out to sea through the Strait of Canso.

Springtime On The Island

(Dedicated to recurrent life)

When it's Springtime on the Island
And the tides are running high,
On its crescent shores of russet
'Neath a blue Canadian sky,—

There is joy among its people
In its springtime's sun and toil,
As the farmer's team and tractor
Tills the fertile reddish soil.

When it's springtime on the Island
All along its sandy shore,
There's the gainful work of fishing
Lobsters from the ocean's floor,—

Garnered in the potted wickets
Of the baited slatted crate
Anchored in adjacent waters
Of the Gulf and parting Strait.

When it's springtime on the Island
There is working rush and glee,
In each city, town and hamlet
Meeting needs of farm and sea,—

And the people's hearts are joyful
As new gladness fills the soul—
In the Springtime of Creation
Entering newness on Life's Scroll.

the successive Liberal administrations. His running mate Mr. George Kitson, confined himself to general election issues, as did Philip Matheson, the second Conservative candidate.

Other speakers heard were Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Industry and Natural Resources, who supported the Liberal candidates. Mr. Cullen spoke of what the Liberal Government had done for the fishermen with particular emphasis on the efforts made to aid the North Shore fishermen. The only other speaker was Mr. Peter Gallant who dealt with the aims and efforts of the Conservative Party locally.

The vast overflow throng filled every seat, stood or sat in the aisles, and even filled the stairway from the front door to the hallway. The meeting was orderly throughout.

Election Campaign Issues Reviewed By Premier Jones

"It is now the closing hour for radio campaign speeches and it would be well to review first what our opponents are emphasizing at the last moments. We note there are no roorbacks at this date, no charges of graft or incompetence. One candidate in his speech a few days ago said twice there would be disclosures of evil misdoing before election day. There are not any disclosures so we shall regard his statement as we would the croaking of an East River bull frog.

"I took particular note of the speeches of the two Charlottetown Tory Candidates. They covered the same subjects which is significant. They discussed Debt, School Taxes, Turnover Tax, cost of building, marine slip and Trans-Canada road. Their statements were grossly exaggerated. I think the speech of the old master twister himself who must consider he is in a jam this time, is the one I shall now discuss as discussion of it will answer all others.

"As for the debt, the Provincial Treasurer, Mr. Darby, has already given you authoritative statements. I asked our Deputy Treasurer, Mr. Massey, to furnish me statements of debt and ordinary expenditures in 1935 and in 1950. His reply was:

	1935	1950
Debt	$5,221,746	$14,157,172
Ordinary Expenditure	$1,900,844	$ 6,199,882

"So that twist figures as you please, it would take nearly four years to pay of the debt in 1935 and a little more than two years in 1950. That was approximately our statement and it shows that the debt today is much easier carried than in 1935 because our revenues are so much higher.

Plan Women's Division Of R.C.A.F.

OTTAWA, April 23 — (CP) —An R.C.A.F. magazine inadvertently beat Defence Minister Claxton to the punch today in disclosing publicly what hasn't been a well-kept secret anyway.

The magazine, the Roundel, indicated there is going to be a women's division in the peacetime R.C.A.F.

Mr. Claxton is expected to make it official shortly when he launches Commons' debate on his department's $1,600,000,000 estimates in the present fiscal year.

The gist is expected to be that, in the beginning, the R.C.A.F. will be the only one of the three services to recruit women. In time, however, all three forces are expected to have full-time women's divisions.

WANT PRICE CONTROL?

The Liberals removed Price Controls

The Conservatives supported that removal

ONLY THE CCF fought to keep price control.

ONLY the CCF fights today to have them restored.

Support the CCF in this fight by sending your CCF candidate to the Legislature.

REMEMBER:

When you vote old party you are supporting old party policy of "No Price Control". Ottawa will take a solid old party vote as a vindication of its refusal to restore controls.

REMEMBER TOO:

You can protest the high cost of living and the government's refusal to bring controls by sending your CCF candidate to Charlottetown.

THAT WAY, THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WILL KNOW THAT THERE'S A RISING TIDE OF PROTEST AGAINST ITS "NO CONTROL" POLICY, AND A GROWING SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF PRICE CONTROL.
