Look at this from the Telegraph, London: "Miss Rosa had acted the part, and looked the best ideal of a gay and brilliant society." The Misses Webber appear at the Opera House here on the 25th inst.

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY.—One correspondent says: "There is one story of modern times which has the prettiest moral lesson, the most womanly attributes and the most delightful contrasts, and which, unfortunately, our city has not had the pleasure of witnessing, viz., Mrs. Frances Burnet's 'Little Lord Fauntleroy.' Could not Mr. Lindley, who little daughter Ethel is so clever, put on the play before his departure. It would be appreciated by the ladies of Charlotteville."—St. John Sun.

ISLAND HORSES ABROAD.—W. S. McKie who came over from Charlottetown to be one of the officials in to-day's race, was seen at the Dufferin by a reporter last night. Mr. McKie brought Provender over with him and left the horses at J. L. Cox of Amherst who will handle him this season. Mr. Cox also has the great four-year-old Kickapoo, which is owned by Mr. McKie. Provender is expected to win the same race as Dot, and Kickapoo is by the same sire out of Nixons, a full sister of Dot. These two horses should give a good account of themselves this year.—St. John Sun.

FELL FROM A SCAFFOLD.—Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. Thomas Campbell, of this city, in company with a man named Kelly, was working on a scaffold inside the new building being erected on Gratton street west by Mr. Campbell, the scaffold gave way and the two were precipitated to the floor, a distance of about twenty-seven feet, the brick and mortar on the boards falling upon them. Mr. Campbell was severely hurt about the back, and Mr. Kennedy had his head cut and was considerably shaken up. It is expected, however, that they will be able to be about again in a few days.

Priest; Dr. Darrach, of Kennington, G. Scribe, and H. W. Anderson, of Charlottetown, G. R. A. C.

Carter's for Wall Paper

"OUR BOYS." This play obtained the best house of the season, and Mr. Lindley and his company more than fulfilled the expectations of the public. "Laughter holding both his sides" may aptly be applied to last night's representation. Every part was ably sustained. Little Ethel, belittled the audience not only convulsed but delighted the audience. Her dancing was so charming that it obtained the honor of a call before the curtain.

To-night His Honor the Lieut. Governor has, with his usual urbanity, tendered his patronage to the performance, which will consist of the four-act society play, "A Gilded Fool." In this the horrors of Wall Street gambling are depicted, and a beautiful story runs through the comedy. Little Ethel, who has received several requests for a repetition of her dancing, accedes, and in addition will sing new ballads.

The matinee on Saturday afternoon should prove attractive.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

Wm. S. Harkins and his company of New York players play a four night engagement at the Masonic Opera House each Wednesday, opening with "In Old Kentucky." In the course of a long article reviewing its merits, the Boston Globe said:

"'In Old Kentucky' brings one nearer to the men and woman Heaven created. The plantation scene in which thirty or forty pickaninny take part is thoroughly original and away ahead of anything of the kind ever seen here. It is sure to be the talk of the town. There is in it the most realistic scene ever seen on any stage with a troupe of blooded horses and jockeys that do not simply walk on in the conventional way, but dash across with the real appearance of genuine. The stage settings all deserve the highest praise. It is evident that neither money nor brains have been spared in mounting the play; even in minor scenes, so apt to betray makeshift expedients in ordinary productions, the smallest details were all carefully provided for."

I. O. F.—The High Court of Foresters meets to-day at Montague Bridge. The first session will begin at 8.30 this evening, continue Friday, and conclude with a public meeting Friday night. A number of representatives came from west of Summerside last evening.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

MR. POWELL WILL SPEAK.

A Liberal-Conservative meeting will be held at Clifton to-morrow afternoon. It will be addressed by the talented candidate for Westmoreland, N. B. Mr. H. A. Powell, and by other gentlemen. Mr. Powell will address a meeting at Cape Traverse on Saturday evening.

THE CANVASS IN EAST PRINCE.

A Conservative meeting was to be held in Bonshaw Hall last evening, but owing to the rain had to be postponed. Mr. Hunt and a number of electors adjourned to the house of Mr. John H. McNevin, where matters were discussed and preliminary arrangements made for election day. Mr. Hunt has every prospect of a large gain in the Bonshaw poll.

MEETINGS IN QUEEN'S EAST.

A large number of electors assembled at Milltown on Saturday, June 6th, to hear Messrs. Martin and Welsh, the candidates for East Queen's. Mr. Henry Campbell, on being appointed chairman, called upon Mr. Welsh, who addressed the electors for an hour. He said the C. P. R. cost the Dominion $100,000,000, besides a large land grant.

Mr. Martin, on rising to reply, was heartily applauded—something that seemed to be forgotten when Mr. Welsh was called upon—showed how that gentleman had been but $25,000,000 astray in his reference to the C. P. R., and that his statement was on a par with other statements made there and at other meetings, where he said the duty on iron was $50 a ton. He showed from Hansard the stand the commodore had taken on the railway question, which caused Mr. Welsh to get very uneasy. His able treatment of various questions had a remarkable effect upon the audience.

Mr. McKinnon, M. L. A., followed. Three cheers were given for Mr. Martin and the rails, but Mr. Welsh received none. The meeting, which was to be held at 6 o'clock, owing to a mistake with regard to the place of meeting was not opened till about 8 o'clock, and it being nearly 11 when Mr. McKinnon resumed his seat, Mr. C. W. thought it prudent to make but a few remarks. The assembly was widely scattered throughout. All the speakers received a good hearing, and the candidates seemed to be on the most friendly terms.

The Schoolhouse at Grand View was crowded on Monday night, 8th inst., to hear the public questions of the day discussed by the candidates and their friends. Mr. Donald Gillis occupied the chair. Mr. Martin spoke for an hour and a half and fully explained his views on the trade and Manitoba school questions. Mr. Martin is a clever politician and a good speaker. He made a deep impression upon the intelligent electors of this section of East Queen's, and on resuming his seat was again and again cheered by the large audience.

The next speaker was Mr. Welsh, who spoke fairly well and received a fair hearing. His statements, as usual, were wild exaggerations. Mr. John Grant spoke at considerable length, and endorsed the able speech made by Mr. Martin.

Mr. Hector C. McDonald made a feeble reply, and was subjected to continual jeers, under which he floundered pitifully. The meeting closed at a late hour, and was a most satisfactory one for Mr. Martin.

MEETING IN WEST QUEEN'S.

A big meeting was held at Clifton yesterday afternoon. It opened at two o'clock and was not closed until seven. About 300 persons were present. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Jenkins and Messrs. Davies, Stewart and Laird. In the course of his speech Mr. Davies spoke of the "big dividends" obtained by the manufacturers under the N. P. Mr. Laird, however, stated that before the N. P. the manufacturers of bicycles divided them as at present. Mr. Stewart spoke so effectively and well that before long the grip ring-leaders on the platform sent persons into the crowd with instructions to get their partitions to call out "time." The Oppositionists grew restless under the fire of Mr. Stewart's facts and arguments. They have received a scare and are resorting to tactics.

MEETINGS IN KING'S.

To-night evening, the 2nd inst., a large meeting of the electors of this poll was held in the Little River Hall to listen to the policies of the respective candidates in the forthcoming contest.

The canvassing was called to order by appointing Wm. Norton, Esq., chairman, and the undersigned secretary.

Mr. McIntyre was the first speaker called on. He endeavored to show the electors that they would be benefited by free trade with the United States; that they would get so much more for potatoes, oats, eggs, etc. His explanation of how revenue and expenditure could be equalized under his policy was not very clear to the audience, but he was greeted with several compliments to the N. P.

A. C. McDonald, the Conservative candidate was the next speaker. He was in splendid form, and delivered one of the best canvassing speeches listened to by this audience for a long time. He completely riddled the Doctor's arguments or after another, and his clear exposition of the policy of his party, and his manly and straightforward manner of enunciating the kind ever seen here.

Mr. Rickham, although not a candidate this time, in progress of his duty to his party in a brief address. He was followed by J. C. Underhay, Esq., who always gets an attentive hearing here. His explanation of the school question was clear and made a deep impression. Mr. Underhay is deservedly respected here and his words always have great weight.

Mr. Hughes made a few remarks in favor of Mr. Laurier, but to a reading people, such as we have here, his remarks did not apply and consequently made no impression. E. MACDONALD.
