A second Ebbesleet resident, Carl Joseph Doucette, charged with the same offense, also pleaded guilty and was ordered to keep the peace and be of good behavior, conduct himself in a proper manner at all times, particularly towards the staff of Rix's Canteen, to appear for sentence when called on to do so and to post a recognizance bond in the amount of $100.

Gary Elwood Rennie, Elmisdale, pleaded not guilty of failing to report an accident and the case was adjourned to June 9.

Donald Keir Campbell, Elmisdale, was fined $10 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in a 40-mile zone.

An Alberton South youth, charged with possession of liquor, was remanded to June 9 on bail of $100 when he told the magistrate he didn't know the person who got him the liquor.

DEATH NOTICES
 Received too late for Classified death notice column.

LEWELLYN — At the Kings County Hospital on June 1, 1965, Mrs. Elmer Lewellyn of Bridgetown in her 71st year. Burial at the Catholic Cemetery, St. John's, on June 3, 1965, at 11 o'clock. Interment in the Acorn cemetery.

RENDEZVOUS
 "They are both in a high state of physical fitness," Berry said. As Gemini IV sails eastward over Hawaii on its second orbit, McDivitt and White will open the spacecraft. White will stand. At the manned space centre in Houston, Berry will keep a close watch on White's pulse and blood pressure, automatically transmitted from the spacecraft.

MAY TOUCH BOOSTER
 At a signal from McDivitt, White will leave the craft and move toward the spent rocket. It is expected to be tumbling slowly.

White will decide whether to move close enough to touch it. "There is a very slight possibility that it will be stable," said Dr. George E. Mueller, associate administrator for manned spaceflight.

The prime danger from a tumbling booster is that the ragged ends would rip the astronaut's spacesuit. Kraft said it was doubtful that it could hit him hard enough to harm him, but this isn't known definitely. "We'll leave the decision to him," Kraft said.

BOLINGS — At the Prince Edward Island Hospital, June 1, 1965, G. Woodrow Bolings of Rustico Harbor in his 69th year. Resting at the MacLean Funeral Home from where the funeral will be held today, June 3, with service commencing at 2 p.m. Interment will take place in Hunter River cemetery.

EARTH WILL LISTEN
 Kraft said communications between the two astronauts will be received by tracking stations. He said there was no reason why the conversations shouldn't be broadcast simultaneously to the American people.

But if this isn't done, he added, it will not be an indication of trouble.

There will be no television pictures because the spacecraft didn't have room for the television equipment, Kraft said.

After the second rendezvous attempt, which will come in the fifth orbit, McDivitt will manoeuvre the spacecraft into a higher orbit designed to last for the duration of the mission. At intervals, Space Agency officials will evaluate the condition of the spacecraft and the astronauts to determine whether the mission should continue.

BROWN — At the Charlottetown Hospital, Wednesday, June 2, 1965, Mrs. Alexander Brown, 7 Valley Street, in her 62nd year. Resting at the Charlottetown Funeral Home from where the funeral will be held Friday morning leaving the funeral home at 10.45 for Requiem High Mass at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer at 11 o'clock. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

WRIGHT — At the Prince County Hospital, June 1, 1965, John S. Wright, 119 Kirk Street, Summerside, in his 62nd year. Resting at the Compton Funeral Home until noon today, June 3, then to Trinity United Church for service at 2.30 p.m. Interment in the People's cemetery.
