SANATORY VIEW OF THE BEARD AND MOUSTACHE

Our attention has been frequently directed by correspondents to the question of "allowing the beard to grow for the purpose of health."—Some have directed our attention to a recent article on the subject which appeared in "Dickens' Household Words," and one has been so kind as to send us the said article cut from one of our cotemporaries, with a few of his own remarks appended, approving of wearing the beard and moustache in all their glory.

We have no doubt but the moustache and beard will be universally worn by our people in the course of four years from the present date; we thus judge from the great number who wear them now, in our city, in comparison with the number who displayed them five years ago. None but foreigners wore them then, now they are worn by one-eighth of our male population.

The masons and millers in the cities of Liverpool, Edinburgh, and Glasgow have adopted the moustache as a health perservative, and during the past winter the engineers and others employed on the Scottish Central Railroad wore the beard by the recommendation of Dr. Simpson, and have addressed a letter to their Superintendent, describing the benefits they derived from such a habit, and recommended its general adoption by all those in similar occupations.

Ten minutes of time spent in shaving every day amounts to one hour and ten minutes every week, or nearly 2½ days in one year. If in this city there are 60,000 men whe each consume this time yearly in shaving, it amounts in the aggregate to 150,000 days in one year, all of which would be saved by wearing the beard.—But what is to become of barbers and Sheffield razors? There is nothing, we admit, that would so readily reconcile any man to the inconvenience of an upper lip ornament as a bad razor. If the beard conduces to health then it should never be shaved. Clergymen, above all their classes, we believe, would be gainers by wearing the beard, it would in many cases prevent bronchitis ,a disease with which they are peculiarly afflicted; they, however, will be the last to adopt the wisker, as they are so conspicucusly shaven and shorn. Among the Anglo-saxon race the beard was universally worn in the days of Shakspeare, and even old John Bunyan displayed the moustache. Fashions in dress' and wearing the hair in various modes, revolve in circles, and now the reign of the beard has begun.

The Miser.—Of all the creatures upon earth none is so miserable as the miser. It is not impossible that the profligate may have a friend, for there is usually left about him some touch of humanity—some one unbroken cord of the finer feelings of our nature; but the miser meets with no sympathy. Even the nurse who is hired to attend him in his latest hours, loathes the ghastly occupation, and longs for the moment of her release: for although the death's damp is already gathering upon his brow, the thoughts of the departing sinner are still upon his gold, and at the mere jingle of a key, he starts from his torpor, in a paroxism of terror, lest a surreptitious attempt is being made upon the sanctity of his strong box. There are no prayers of the orphan or widow for him—not a solitary voice has ever breathed his name in heaven as a benefactor. One poor penny given away in the spirit of charity would now be worth more to him then all the gold that the world contains: but notwithstanding that he was a church-going man, and familar from his youth with those awful texts in which the worship of mammon is denounced, and the punishment of Dives told, he has never yet been able to divorce himself from his solitary love of lust, or to part with one atom of his pelf. An so from a miserable life detested and despised he passes into a drear eternity; and those whom he has neglected or misused make merry with the hoards of the miser!

The ladies of South America, during the hot weather of july, wear cabbage-leaves bonnets, trimmed with radishes. What a horticultural idea.

What ancient sage was the inventor of dancing?—plato (play-toe).

Toast.—The Ladies—the only angels we ever saw, and the only witches we ever desire to meet.

A man, saved from drowning a night or two since in Boston, abused the man who rescued him because he did not save his hat!

A man, praising porter, said it was so excellent a beverage that, taken in great quantities, it always made him fat. "I have seen the time," said another, "when it made you lean." "When?" "Last night—against a wall."

Matches are now split by the most approved machine at the rate of 60,000 a minute. An exchange thinks this will be gratifying news to persons about to apply for a divorce.

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female complaints, &c., &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing anything hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the eminent gentlemen to whom we are allowed to refer for these facts, are Prof. Valentine Mott, the distinguished Surgeon of New York City.

Doct. A. A. Hayes, Practical Chemist of the Port of Boston, and Geologist for the State of Massachusetts.

Ira L. Moore, M. D., an eminent Surgeon and Physician, of the City of Lowell, who has long used them in his extensive practice.

H. C. Southwick, Esq., one of the first merchants in New York City.

C. A. Davis, M. D., Sup't and Surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital, at Chelsea, Mass.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred such names, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the certificates of these eminent public men is shown in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process, in a state of purity and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities; by this, each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effect should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formula by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If however there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject, freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting wherever they exist such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see the wrapper on the Box.
