By JIM CRERAR TORONTO (CP) — A gelding bought a year ago as a $1,000 bargain will be among 11 horses parading to the post for the 107th running of the Queen's Plate Saturday.

Plat's Radiant Colors, a bay gelding owned by a 15-man Toronto syndicate headed by Paul Joseph, 26-year-old financial analyst.

The probable odds against his winning were set at 20 to 1 Thursday following the draw for post positions.

Only one of the owners has a background in horse racing. That's Derek Runtain, whose father, George Runtain of Charlottetown, raised standardbreds in Prince Edward Island.

Bye and Near, owned by Conn Smythe of Toronto and ridden by Sam McComb of Ireland, drew the eighth position.

George Duff's Jockey Club oddsmaker lists Titled Hero now as a 2-to-5 favorite. Other odds are Bright Monarch, 6 to 1; Arctic Troops and Bye and Near, 8 to 1; Holartic and Radiant Colors and Solar Park, 20 to 1.

Display Is Set Up At Centre

Helmut Gerth, who is on the public relations staff for the 1967 Exposition in Montreal, was in Charlottetown yesterday supervising the setting up of a display in the Confederation Centre.

The display, which deals with the variety of art and entertainment features that will be part of "Expo" will be on display in the Confederation Centre course throughout the summer.

Mr. Gerth said that the 20' long, 12' high display depicting the various things in the scope of the arts that are planned for "Expo" was specifically designed for the Centre. It is meant to appeal, particularly, to people who showed enough interest in the arts to visit the Confederation Centre in the first place, Mr. Gerth explained.

Speaking generally on "Expo", Mr. Gerth said that construction of the exhibition is proceeding on schedule and even the longshoremen's strike in Montreal had little effect on the work schedule.

He said many of the 72 participating countries are constructing their individual pavilions at home and transporting them to Canada for assembling. Japan, one of the countries doing this, he added, had nothing but a lot of a month ago and now the outside construction of the pagoda type pavilion is virtually finished.

The exterior designs of some of the pavilions are magnificent. Mr. Gerth said, "The American pavilion will be a translucent glass globe, the West German pavilion is to be covered in an enormous plastic filigree net that will absorb heat, cold, rain and still permit clear light; the Thailand pavilion will be representative of the architecture of that country with gilded minarets and so on. He said that some people visit "Expo" primarily to see the magnificent structures.

On the site itself, Mr. Gerth said, 8000 trees have already been planted and much of the area has been sodded. A system of canals have been dug and within the fair site, itself, one will be able to travel by water, as well as by other means. Gondolas are being brought over from Venice for transportation.

Mr. Gerth told of the "Expo" program explaining that each country will have a national day, in which the best in that country's entertainment, art and so on will be highlighted. The "Expo" theatre, Place des Arts, and La Comedie Canadienne are all co-operating to bring a marvelous variety of entertainment to Montreal for "Expo". A multi-million dollar collection of art will also be part of the collection. Mr. Gerth has spent the past months visiting many countries setting up displays and so on in connection with "Expo '67". Among the countries where displays are set up are Sweden, Pakistan, and Scotland and shortly Mr. Gerth will be traveling to Hawaii to do a display for that state.

New City Baseball Organized

A progressive step towards baseball in Charlottetown has been taken with the amalgamation of the city recreation department and the Charlottetown Legion Branch to form a Charlottetown Baseball League. The league will allow ball players from the age of seven to 20 to play in a highly organized league.

Presently the executive of the league is meeting nightly to complete plans for a great opening night of the Charlottetown Junior Baseball League which is scheduled for Memorial Field July 6th. The schedule has not yet been drawn up.

City Councillor Ivan Doherty, chairman of the recreation committee, said last night: "I am most delighted to see plans finalized to spearhead the renaissance of baseball in Charlottetown at the junior age level."

He added, "It instills enthusiasm in the younger boys, below this age, to know that there is an avenue open for their continued recreation in baseball up to the age of 20." He attributed much of this enthusiasm to the success of last year's Legion Junior team that travelled to Winnipeg last summer to compete in a national competition. This was highlighted by the success of some of the players of this team.

The nightly meetings of the executive will continue until all plans for the league and the opening night of the juniors have been completed. The final plans will be announced soon, it was suggested.
