WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower pledged Thursday the United States will continue to maintain a "fair share" of its land, sea and air forces in Europe to guard against Communist attack.

In a special message to the premiers of seven European allies, he said the U. S. will keep American troops in Europe "while a threat to that area exists."

The pledge was aimed at producing European approval of the Paris-London treaties for rearming West Germany.

TO ALLAY FRENCH FEARS

The promise was designed to allay fear in France, for example, that German armed strength is being added to other European powers the U. S. would remove its troops from the continent.

Six divisions of American troops are stationed throughout western Europe, mostly in West Germany. Facing them are 18 wings of American bombers, fighters, transports and troop carriers, and the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The president's pledge, addressed to premiers in Great Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, was intended to replace a similar policy declaration made last April 16.

The latter lapsed after earlier plans for integrating West German armed forces into the European Defence Community collapsed because of French opposition.

WANT GERMANS IN In reaffirming American intentions of staying in Europe, the president noted that agreements made in London and Paris last September would enable West Germany "to make its appropriate contribution to peace and security."

The new plan for controlled German rearmament is called the Western European Union. Only Britain has completed parliamentary ratification.

Timing of the President's message obviously was designed to influence the French upper house—the Council of the Republic—expected to debate the measure later this month.

In his 1,000-word declaration the president made only one new pledge. It expressed American willingness to consult any agency set up in West Europe to control armament and block any menacing buildup among members of the seven-power union.

Proposed by France, it would be a new device for preventing a rebirth of German militarism.

UNFAIR BARGAIN He dwelt at some length with the unfair bargain which the Maritime governments had received from the Federal Government, and enumerated many instances where Ottawa had not fulfilled the terms of Confederation.

He strongly defended the policies of his Government from 1931 to 1935, pointing out that two disastrous fires at Falconwood and at Prince of Wales College were matters with which the Government had to deal at a time when the economy of the country was at its lowest ebb.

He said that Prince of Wales College was built, completely furnished, for the sum of $300,000 "a lesson in economy."

In rising to speak, Dr. MacMillan made reference to a recent editorial, wherein it was noted that the sessions of the House were more peaceful than in years gone by.

S'ide Man Gets Patent On Invention

The above photo shows an invention by Mr. Edgar Cannon of Summerside for which he has secured Canadian and American patent rights.

It is in practical use on the trade of a large tractor and has been used on heavy tractors of Curran and Briggs Ltd. since 1950. Mr. Cannon is master mechanic with the firm.

The device, termed a "mud lug" is designed to provide good traction under conditions in which the trade of a large tractor, and which are usually replaced when worn, is otherwise unsatisfactory.

As seen above the invention as described in the patent is a detachable mud lug for an endless traction tread, which is strong and durable, having few parts, which are readily replaceable when worn.

The object of this invention is to overcome this difficulty by attaching one or more of these "mud lugs" to as many tread links as necessary, although in local use. Mr. Cannon has found that one set on each side of the tractor was adequate.

Mr. Edgar Cannon, master mechanic with Curran & Briggs Ltd., of Summerside, is seen fitting an invention of his to one of the firm's heavy tractors. The invention, described right, has proved itself an extremely serviceable, time-saving device in practical use during the past four or five years.

House added, "I never allowed my feelings in the House to go outside of this rail, but I often went to one of my opponents later and asked him 'how did you like it?'"

Speaking of water pollution in Island villages, he said it was a problem that is giving great concern. He believed it was one that should be solved chiefly by the people themselves but that the Government should offer some assistance and advice in the matter.

Continuing, the Doctor said that 93 per cent of all confinement cases are handled in the hospitals. Although people should foresee such an event and make some provision for at least a partial payment on their bill, they come year after year, knowing that the hospital will not turn them away.

"If it comes to the time when the hospitals can no longer carry on, who is going to take over? My health insurance," said the Doctor, who went on to show that in a recent survey made in Nova Scotia it was found that such a plan of health insurance would cost the Province $47,000,000.

Dr. MacMillan praised the Department of Health for taking the precaution of immunizing children against polio. He emphasized the need for additional space for the treatment and rehabilitation of polio victims.

Mr. Ronnie MacArthur is still confined to the Prince County Hospital after suffering painful injuries to his face and head as a result of an accident while playing hockey last Monday.

New Edition Of "The Magpie"

The second and final edition for the 1954-55 season of "The Magpie", a booklet published by the commercial students of the Summerside High School, to which students of all grades contribute their literary talents, was issued yesterday and contains 33 pages of editorials, prose, verse and illustrations.

The editor, Miss Lorna Lawson has written two salient editorials about "Our Flag" and "Education" calling attention in the first to rededicating our loyalty and allegiance to our flag and in the second editorial she points out that education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army.

Some very interesting features, including a story on some of the historical highlights in the life of Sir Winston Churchill, contributed by Betty MacDonald, a grade 12 student, are to be found in this issue of "The Magpie" along with several short stories, poems and other engaging items that reflect the high quality of this Summerside High School magazine, which is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

HOSPITAL GRANTS

As a follow-up to his remarks in the Draft Address, Dr. MacMillan again made a strong appeal for increased grants to hospitals. He said that during the past year, there were 16,109 patients admitted to Island hospitals with a total of 151,829 patient days. This, he said, at a cost of $8 per day amounted to $1,284,000 and of this amount the Government pays only eight cents on the dollar.

Continuing, the Doctor said that 93 per cent of all confinement cases are handled in the hospitals. Although people should foresee such an event and make some provision for at least a partial payment on their bill, they come year after year, knowing that the hospital will not turn them away.

"If it comes to the time when the hospitals can no longer carry on, who is going to take over? My health insurance," said the Doctor, who went on to show that in a recent survey made in Nova Scotia it was found that such a plan of health insurance would cost the Province $47,000,000.

Dr. MacMillan praised the Department of Health for taking the precaution of immunizing children against polio. He emphasized the need for additional space for the treatment and rehabilitation of polio victims.

Mr. Ronnie MacArthur is still confined to the Prince County Hospital after suffering painful injuries to his face and head as a result of an accident while playing hockey last Monday.
