Epps's Cocoa.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified by pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

A HIGH CASTE BRAHMIN

GIVES US AN INTERESTING PEEP INTO HIS RELIGION.

The Oldest of the Great Living Religions—Some of Its Manifold Aspects—Its Central Doctrine as Taught in All Its Higher Works.

(The writer is one of the first High Caste Brahmins who have ever been in the country, and the following is the first article written by him for a Canadian newspaper. He is professor of mathematics at Allahabad College, Allahabad, India, and came as a delegate to the Theosophical Convention held at the Parliament of Religions at the World's Fair. He appeared in Toronto at a lecture by Mrs. Annie Besant.)

Brahmanism is decidedly the very oldest of the living religions of to-day, and it often does strike me as strange that this ancient religion, which might be as old as the world itself for aught that historical research can tell us, should for age after age have stood the work of time and decay, while religions much younger should have been completely disintegrated and should have disappeared without even leaving a trace behind. Under the above circumstances, it may be interesting to people even in the West to get a momentary glimpse of some one of its manifold aspects—all of which are now seen in India, not in the beauty of shining youth, but distorted and deeply furrowed with age. To the superficial observer of this grand and transcendental religion, the existence of the so-called idolatry among the people of India is what the red rag is to the bull, and he does not pause to think if there may be, underneath the crust of what he considers "silly superstitions," the great rock of Truth, which alone could withstand for centuries the incessant battering of the waves of destruction from outside. One single fact is enough to dispel the delusion that Brahminism and "debasing idolatry" mean the same thing. Brahmanism, as is now well known in the West, thanks to the labors and researches of European scholars, is essentially pantheistic. It believes that all that exists, from the minutest atom—commonly regarded by the ignorant as dead—to man, the thinking and reasoning being, is permeated by the great Spirit from which, according to its conceptions, all things proceed and into which they finally return. The universe, both seen and unseen, both animate and inanimate, both rational and irrational, is but a manifestation of the Great Divine One, which liveth from chaos to cosmos and from cosmos to chaos, pure, undecaying, and undying; and the universe is therefore in one sense coextensive with God and is God. To any thinking mind it will be evident on a moment's reflection that "Idolatry" can have no place in a system of religion which starts from which all other truths follow. How can a religion which in every page and every line of its sacred writings teaches the One-ness, the All pervading and the Infinite nature of the Spirit, in the same breath inculcate on its followers the belief that God can reside in an isolated portion of matter, is a question which people who run away with the idea that Brahmanism is synonymous with heathenism would do well to answer. From the very earliest dawn of Brahmanic bibliography down to its dim evening, the one idea that has always been kept in the front and never lost sight of is the ephemeral and illusive nature of matter, which is technically called Maya in its philosophical systems. In all the transcendental and mystical works, in all the metaphysical and even scientific writings, in all the allegories and fables, and in all the talk and traditions of the great Hindu race, the one characteristic which gives color to them all, and differentiates them from similar works and institutions of other nations, is the ever-present idea that spirit is the only reality of the universe and that matter in all shape and form, in all its phases of evolution, is an illusion given rise to by the thought of the Devine Spirit, and will finally vanish into its bosom, just as a bubble rising on the breast of the mighty ocean. How a nation which has imbibed this doctrine from its mother's milk and grows and is nurtured in this belief can regard a few cubic inches of matter of the lowest type as Divinity is a problem to be solved by those who jump at the conclusion that the Hindus are heathens immersed in barbarous superstitions, and need the light of modern religions and philosophic thought to take them out of their intease darkness. The fact, however, is that no other nation realizes so deeply, so intensely and so vividly, as the Hindu the Reality and the Eternity of the Spirit, because the Hindu has inherited this belief as the result of centuries of thought on those lines. And Brahmanism insists, as probably no other religion does, upon forcing matter to take its proper place in the economy of nature, and not allowing it to assert its ascendency in the sublimer realms by usurping the throne which really belongs to Spirit. That a man, constantly realizing the transitory and illusive character of all that can be perceived by the five senses, should strive to direct his body, mind and soul toward that which is Permanent and Undying, is the kernel of all Brahmanical teachings. So long as a person is immersed in matter and pursues vainly the gratification of his senses, his reason will be clouded, his intuition blinded, and his upward path blocked, for not with the dead weight of material tendencies can one mount up to the regions where the light of Spirit shines forever. One of the aphorisms of our philosophical system is "Only by Spirit is the Spirit cognized," and therefore he who would fain have a glimpse of the ineffable glories of the Great Spirit must approach it with the wings of the Spirit, and be in it unburdened and unstained with the rubbish of material conceptions and attachments.

Origin of Calico Toys.

There is a story to those calico prints of cats and dogs and rabbits which, sewed together and stuffed with cotton, serve as admirable toys for small children. The idea of such a toy occurred to a woman, and she tried vainly to convince several calico printers that the thing would be profitable. She found, at length, a manufacturer who was willing to undertake the experiment of printing her toys and he has since paid her many thousands of dollars of royalties upon the patent.

ALL THREE CURED.

Neil McKechnie, with his wife and mother-in-law cured of Constipation by Dodd's Kidney Pills—These Pills better Than Ordinary Cathartics.

TORONTO, Feb. 19.—Neil McKechnie, a popular barber of this city, has been a sufferer from chronic constipation for years. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and not only obtained immediate relief, but a permanent cure. His wife and mother-in-law were similarly afflicted, and used these pills with the same good result. Ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief and leave the patient worse than before using them. While Dodd's Kidney Pills are not cathartics, their peculiar action on the liver and kidneys is such that the causes of constipation are permanently removed. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of a Writ of Statute Execution to me directed, issued out of Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature, at the suit of Thomas W. May against John Martin, I have taken and seized as the property of the said John Martin all his right, title and interest in and to the following property, namely, all that tract piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being at Dundas, in Township Number Fifty-five, in Kings County, in Prince Edward Island, bounded and described as follows:—On the North by land lately sold to Jonathan Matheson; on the East by land now or formerly in possession of Daniel Nicholson; on the South by land now or formerly in possession of Alexander McLeod; and on the West by the Cumberland road, containing one hundred acres of land, a little more or less. And I do hereby give Public Notice that I will on Friday, the Tenth day of August next, A. D. 1894, at the hour of Twelve o'clock noon, at the Court house, in Georgetown, in Kings County, set up and sell at Public Auction the said property, or as much thereof as will satisfy the levy marked on the said writ, being Six Hundred and twenty-nine dollars, and interest on Five Hundred and twenty-six dollars, from the Fifteenth day of July, A. D. 1893, till paid at the rate of Seven per cent., per annum besides sheriff's fees and all incidental expenses.

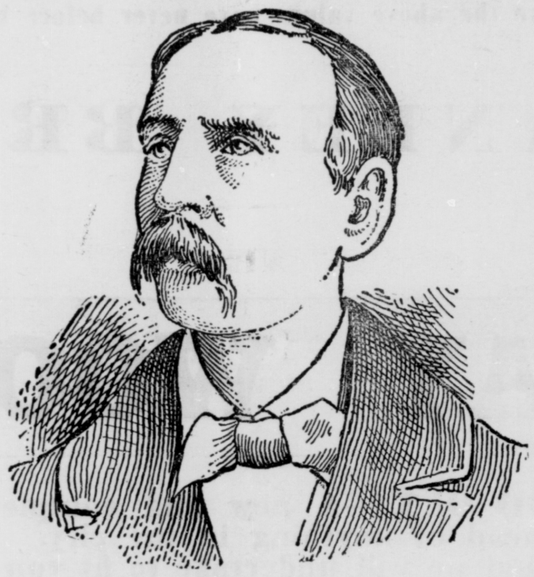
POET, AUTHOR AND ARTIST.

His Royal Highness Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, Writes Him a Special Letter.

LORD TENNYSON, LATE POET LAUREATE, SENDS HIM KINDLY GREETINGS.

Professor Wemyss Strongly Endorses Paine's Celery Compound, the Medicine that Makes People Well.



PROF. H. G. WEMYSS.

Professor A. G. Wemyss, poet, author and artist, is a resident of Brockville, Ont., and is well and favorably known in England and the United States. Possessing great literary abilities, he has been the recipient of many honors in the past. Among those who have acknowledged Prof. Wemyss' abilities as a poet are His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, and the late Lord Tennyson, England's Poet Laureate. From the former he received a special letter of thanks for poetical contributions written for the Queen's Jubilee; and from the latter came a letter bearing kindly greetings and wishes.

Prof. Wemyes in his life work has always kept in view one great object, viz., doing good to men and women of all ranks and conditions. Already the talented professor has conferred blessings on scores of men and women who suffered from various causes. To Prof. Wemyss, nature's great healer, Paine's Celery Compound, brought strength, vigor, perfect digestion and a new life. Having secured these inestimable blessings for himself, he pointed out to others the great highway to health. The professor has loudly proclaimed the curing powers of Paine's Celery Compound; he has closely followed the results, and says "it worked like magic," Prof. Wemyss, who has given us permission to use his letter says:—

"I write to say that I have been a sufferer for years from irritable stomach and debility. No medicine has done me so much good as Paine's Celery Compound. I fully endorse all that is said in its favor as a powerful recuperator for a run-down system. My wife had a very bad attack of salt rheum. Her hands were terrible to look at, and she suffered intense pain and torture. She was getting worse under treatment she tried, but when Paine's Celery Compound was used it worked like magic, and up to the time of writing she is nearly cured. I gave a few trial doses to a friend of mine suffering from debility, and she found such benefit from it that she is going under a regular course of the Compound; her husband also will use it for rheumatism."

The World's Columbian Exposition.

1. The whole civilized world has been interested in the Great Celebration. The crowned heads of Europe, the governments of all the famous nations of the globe, the lands of the Orient and the islands of the sea have all been co-operating to render the Exhibition worthy of the greatest event of modern times. Its magnitude and marvelous character can only be described by saying that it has comprised all the rarest products of land and sea, the most dazzling wonders of nature and the grandest productions of human genius.

2. The Great Fair which celebrates the discovery of America by Columbus has never been equalled. It was larger and more magnificent than any similar exhibition ever held. Over twenty million dollars was expended in its grand spacious buildings, and the result was the most attractive Exhibition the world ever saw.

3. This gorgeous display is vividly portrayed in our PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION. This captivating volume is a brilliant panorama of the Great Fair which has awakened such a world wide interest.

This wonderful work is a royal octavo volume of over 800 large double-column pages, 10½ inches long by 7½ inches wide. It contains nearly twice the amount of matter in an ordinary quarto book, and is therefore equal to a large volume of 1600 pages.

It contains a complete history of the World-renowned Exposition at Chicago; captivating descriptions of the magnificent Buildings and marvellous Exhibits, such as Works of Art, Textile Fabrics, Machinery, Natural Products, Latest Inventions, Discoveries, etc., with a full description of Chicago, its wonderful Buildings, Parks, etc., by ex-Governor Wm. E. Cameron, of the World's Columbian Exposition History Co., with an introduction by Hon. Thomas W. Palmer, ex-U. S. Senator and ex-Minister to Spain, including a chapter on the Women's Department by Frances E. Willard, President of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance Unions.

CONDITIONS—It is printed from clear, new type, on fine calendered paper, and is embellished with a large number of BEAUTIFUL ENGRAVINGS, which charm everyone who sees them.
