ELECTION NEWS.

The Presidential Contest.

HARRISON ELECTED.

Republican Majorities Increased.

BOSTON, Nov. 7. Returns from all parts of the country up to two o'clock this morning indicate that Harrison is elected President by the votes of all states that went for Blaine in 1884, and the State of New York also giving him 218 electoral votes, or 17 more than a majority. It is possible that he has also carried Indiana and Connecticut, but the vote in those States is very close.

There is no news at all from the Pacific Coast States, but it is not expected that any defection there can change the result. Cleveland was defeated in his own State by great losses in Brooklyn, where he was supposed to be strongest.

There are no indications as to the complexion of the next Congress yet obtainable.

In all so-called Republican States the Republican majorities are increased over those of 1884. In the Democratic States South the Democratic majorities are increased.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

THE SACKVILLE MATTER.

AGAINST SLAVES AND ARMS.

LONDON, Nov. 7. Parliament re-assembled to-day.

In the House of Lords Salisbury stated in response to an enquiry that papers relating to the Sackville affair would be issued by the Government to-morrow, and in the meantime he would reserve his statement in regard to the matter.

Salisbury further stated that Germany had invited England to co-operate with her in the work of preventing more effectively the exportation of arms to East Africa. England promised to aid in the work, as it was in accordance with her traditional policy. The proposed measures would be effected by a naval force and not a military one. France had also agreed to render assistance, and would send a man of war to co-operate with the German and English vessels in the blockade against slaves and arms-bearing vessels. The vessels forming the blockade would have the right to search vessels under any flag.

Lord Sackville's Recall.

The Papers Made Public.

A NEWSPAPER INTERVIEW

The Principal Reason.

LONDON, Nov. 6. The papers on the Sackville case were made public this evening. The first is a letter from Salisbury to Sackville, dated Oct. 27, stating that Phelps informs the writer that Bayard's request for his recall is not based upon his letter to Murchison, but upon a newspaper interview. He must be taken as having intended it for publication. The writer says, before admitting the need for recall: "I was bound in justice to you to know exactly what the alleged objection was. I wired Mr. Phelps for a copy of the interview, to ascertain from you whether you had been accurately reported. I told him I would then bring the matter before my colleagues. Mr. Phelps replied that he had not received the text of the interview, but would take steps to procure it. We consequently understood that until a copy was received there should be no answer to the request for your recall."

On Oct. 28th Sackville informed Salisbury that the letter was a political Republican plot. I have mailed explanation The plot was due to approaching election. If my recall is demanded I express deep regret. On the 30th Sackville cabled that he had received his passport. On the 31st inst. Mr. Phelps informed Salisbury that the United States Government had given Sackville his passport and added that President Cleveland hoped another Minister would be sent to Washington. The same day Sackville sent this despatch to Salisbury: "I beg to repudiate Bayard's statement of the reasons for my dismissal as an unjust attack on my integrity." Salisbury replied: "Place Mr. Herbert as senior secretary on the spot in charge of the Legation."

November 1st Salisbury, in a communication to Mr. Phelps, referred to his promise to furnish him with a copy of Sackville's interview, and informed him that as he had no information as to what Sackville's statements contained or to whom they were made, he was unable to form any judgment upon the considerations which dictated the request for his recall or the forwarding of his passport. To this, on the next day, Phelps replied that it was not intended that the letter should have no part in the reasons for the request for the recall of Sackville. He did not say the Minister's remarks in a republished interview was the principal reason. He was still without a copy of the interview. The letter written by Sackville on Oct. 26 was received by Salisbury on the 4th inst. It enclosed Murchison's letter and his reply to it. He says: "I have certain information that the Murchison letter was fictitious, and was concocted by a well-known firm in conjunction with the Republican Committee in New York. It was sent from Southern California to prevent suspicion. Bayard said he regretted the incident very much. He accepted my disclaimer of any thought or intention to interfere with the domestic policy of the country. He said it was a campaign trap, but he frankly told me I had been indiscreet. I expressed my deep regret, and Mr. Bayard assured me he bore me no ill will."
