Entertainment Plentiful During Alberton Exhibition

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

The Centennial Prince County Exhibition at Alberton concluded last evening with the traditional mammoth dance. The Lowell Huestis orchestra provided music for round dancing and the Leonard Barnett Orchestra for square dancing.

In addition to both Wednesday and Thursday evening concerts in the arena, entertainment during the three-day fair was provided by the sky divers and Holmes midway.

The entertainment committee was chaired by Herbert Matthews. A public address system was in operation during the exhibition and the main announcers were Keir Ramsay and Raynall MacNeill.

The Centennial Youth Chorus and the Charlottetown Centennial Majorettes were featured in Wednesday's entertainment. The youth chorus of 16 voices comes from the Charlottetown area and is under direction of Chrisopher Gledhill. The group, accompanied on the harpischord by Mr. Gledhil, gave renditions of Canadian folk songs, sacred selections and a group of songs from the British Isles. Mr. Gledhill was heard in a harpischord solo.

FLAG WAVING

The majorettes, sponsored by the city of Charlottetown and trained by Ivan Berrigan, are believed to be the first flag swinging majorettes in the Maritimes. Flag swinging originated in Switzerland with a very large flag being used, it has been stated, and the swinging was usually done by men. When it was brought to the United States a smaller flag came into use.

The Charlottetown majorettes are 44 students of grades eight and nine at Birchwood High School who have given up much of their free time during weekends for the past eight months or more to attain this skill.

In smart red and white uniforms, swinging solid colour flags of red, black, white and yellow, they presented a colorful spectacle as they did precision marches and performed dance steps dating from 1864 to 1964.

Their first public appearance was in a parade during the curling bonspiel last January and they participated in most of the major parades in connection with centennial celebrations in the province.

DRAGOONS BAND

The Royal Canadian Dragoons band from Octawa presented a concert in the Jacques Cartier Memorial Arena Thursday evening. The 65 piece band has been termed the largest one ever to perform in Alberton. Its appearance was part of a program of entertainment presented during the three-day exhibition. Local talent provided entertainment in the evening. It included music by Don and Elaine Olson, accordion music by Henry Myers, violin solo by Alfred Gillis, vocal solos by Mrs. Wallace MacLean, Bannerman Webb and John Webb, a vocal trio by Marlene Gionet, Susan and Carol Fraser, and stepdancing by Henery Myers, Marlene Gionet and 81-year-old James O'Brien.

During the evening there was a livestock parade of stars wearing their championship ribbons. Leading the parade was Harold Palmer of Kensington, one of the largest winners as Guernsey breeders, his Guernsey herd sire, Northern M. Mary's Royal.

At the conclusion of the evening four special awards were presented. Blankets donated by the T. Eaton Co. were presented to Mrs. Lucille Arsenault of Abrams Village, who had most points in the handicraft class, and to Mrs. Erskine Clark of Alberton who had most points in domestic science. Another blanket, donated by MacAusland's Woollen Mill, was presented to W.A. Moase and Sons of New Annan who showed the best flock of sheep.

A rose bowl, donated by Ralph K. Adams of O'Leary, was presented to Hilton E. Barbour of Alberton, exhibitor of the champion steer in the show.

Animal Judging Concludes At Ex.

ALBERTON BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

The coveted Bank of Commerce Trophy for the best group of three dairy females at Alberton Exhibition was taken home by Harold Palmer of Kensington. This is the eighth time Mr. Palmer has won the trophy. He also won both male and female grand championships and reserves and captured firsts in all sections except two with his herd of Guernseys.

Sanford Phillips of Mount Royal won second place for his junior and senior herds, group of three females, and progeny of dam.

In his first year as a Guernsey exhibitor Elwood Smallman of O'Leary made a creditable showing and Raynall MacNeill of O'Leary also carried off a number of prizes.

In the Ayrshire class Roy O'Meara of Alberton was the main exhibitor. He showed the grand champion and reserve champion males and the reserve grand champion female. The grand champion female was shown by Walter Darrach of O'Leary.

Sanford Phillips of O'Leary and Harry Pridham of Montrose were the only exhibitors of Jerseys. The grand champion female was shown by Mrs. Phillips and the reserve champion by Mr. Pridham.

HOLSTEIN CLASS

Competition was keen in the well-filled Holstein classes and judging continued until mid-afternoon on Friday. Grand champion male was exhibited by Arnold Smallman, O'Leary, and the reserve grand champion by Allan Clow and Sons of Freetown. The grand champion female was shown by Elmer Smith of Freetown and the reserve grand champion by Gliorice Cormier and Sons of Egmont Bay.

The junior bull championship went to Mr. Smallman and the reserve champion to the Clows. The senior female champion was shown by Mr. Smith and the reserve champion by the Cormiers. The junior female champion was shown by the Clows and the reserve champion by the Cormiers.

In the junior herd section Mr. Smith came first, the Cormiers second and the Clows third. In the senior herd section Mr. Smith and the Cormiers were

Tyne Valley Centennial Days Open Yesterday With 'Flash'

TYNE VALLEY — Things began with a flash last night as the new rink here as the people from Tyne Valley and surrounding districts gathered for their centennial celebrations.

The flash was a small flash fire in the oil stove used for cooking the hot dogs. It was quickly extinguished.

Well over 2,000 people turned out to view the evening's program that included junior and senior fiddling contests, men's and women's tap dancing contests and the initial judging for the oyster queen. People came from all over, from Tyne Valley, a few from Freeown and even more from Enmore. They poured in from Portage and Port Hill, and from Bideford, Birch Hill and Arlington.

The 15 contestants in the oyster queen competition were presented to the audience and a short biography of each girl was given. The girls were all dressed in short cocktail dresses and had banners across one shoulder identifying their sponsors.

The attendance was larger than anticipated and ticket taker William Ramsay had a full time job on his hands. As it is with all these affairs there are the usual complainers, "They just take your money and they don't care whether you get a seat or not", harped one woman, as all around her men were bringing all the extra chairs they could find.

The evening was brought to a close with what was termed a successful dance.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Today the celebrations continue all day, beginning with sports for the children in the morning. There is a parade at 1.30 p.m. in the afternoon, followed by the official opening of festivities by Premier Walter R. Shaw. Other dignateries expected include: Henry Wedge, minister of welfare and labor. Dr. George Dewar, minister of education and Dr. Frank Mackinnon of the P.E.I. Centennial committee.

From 2.30 to 4.30 the 65 piece band of the Royal Canadian Dragoons from Camp Gagetown will be giving a band concert. At 4.15 the secondary judging of the oyster queen contestants takes place and from 4 p.m. till 8 turkey supper is being served. At 7 o'clock a folk singing group, "The Rovers Three", will perform for an hour.

At 8 o'clock the final judging for the oyster queen takes place followed by the crowning of the oyster queen. There will be a presentation of prizes for the sports events that were held during the day and at 9 there is the coronation ball lasting till 11.45, when a fireworks display will be held.

In the above Pass List for Kinkora High School the names of Peggy Murphy and Myrne Aylward should have appeared without an asterisk. Miss Murphy's name should have been listed in Class I, not Class II. This error occurred because it was only after the Pass List had been prepared that it was learned that both students had credit for their French taken during their teacher training year.

SIGNS BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed into law Wednesday a bill that will send fatter pay cheques to almost every United States serviceman by the first of next month. All of them will share in the $207,000,000 pay raise except draftees and lowest ranking enlisted men.

HISTORIC NOVA SCOTIA
THE PROVINCE THAT WAS MADE FOR HOLIDAYS
The story of Canada begins with the story of Nova Scotia. Here it was that John Cabot planted the English flag five years after the voyage of Columbus and here was the first settlement of Europeans north of the Gulf of Mexico. The excitement of our history is preserved in landmarks, forts, museums, historical houses and parks all over this historic province by the sea. All this awaits you—with warm hospitality, modern accommodations and all the fun under the sun.
