Irish Songs Spark The P.C. Meeting At Brookfield Hall

Rolling Irish songs by McEzra, Frank Flood, Wilfred McAleer and Barry Balderston opened a Progressive Conservative meeting Monday night in Brookfield hall.

Elpheth Howard presided. On the platform were: Hon. J. Angus MacLean, Heath Macquarrie, Walter R. Shaw, Dr. L. G. Dewar, R. R. Bell, Edwin MacRae and George Rogers.

Mr. Macquarrie in his remarks commended on the tremendous enthusiasm every meeting, also on the fact that the P.C.'s have won every by-election since June 10, which he saw as very significant.

He said the Prime Minister carried out his election promises and did it without compromising with any other party.

One sure sign, Mr. Macquarrie said, of a healthy political party is the way in which they welcome an election and the chance to go before the people for a mandate. He then stated that he and his colleagues are there to do the bidding of the electors, a job that they value above all else.

He concluded by wondering how the Pearson plan could be new when it was proposed by a man who played a big part in the "old" Liberal Government.

MR. MACLEAN
Hon. J. Angus MacLean, Minister of Fisheries, told his supporters that he would much prefer being among his constituents.

ferred that an engineering bung had taken place in regard to the construction of the West River Bridge. He said the original soundings taken were incorrect and when it was attempted to drive piles the piles went out of sight.

"It is a strange thing that an engineer brought from Montreal could not have brought more favorable results. I see where the Premier is objecting to the fact that the Federal Government is bringing in an engineer from Vancouver to survey the causeway."

Mr. Myers noted the item in the Speech from the Throne which made reference to the fact that the local government would like the Federal Government for cancellation of the over payment of a million and a quarter dollars. "Why is this," he said. Premier: "Because Mr. Macquarrie and Mr. MacLean said they would do it if they were claimed it a "wonderful bill" one that would aid every farmer in this country and stated emphatically that potatoes will be brought into the act. Return Diefenbaker and see, he said.

"I'm impressed by saying that 'we included the entire country on June 10 by the P.E.I. Conservative landslide and we impressed them even further when they became acquainted with the ability and integrity of our representatives.'" He said, "do it again on March 31."

Others speaking briefly were, Dr. L. G. Dewar, R. R. Bell, Edwin MacRae and George Rogers.

Following this a lunch was served and a pleasant social hour followed.

around the lowest in Canada, and only 45 per cent of that of Ontario, it might be expected that education, being financed solely by the province, would suffer greatly here," said the Minister.

"Yet I doubt if our educational difficulties are greater than those of other provinces, or our standards lower."

HIGHER PROPORTION
The Government of Prince Edward Island he said, has paid a higher proportion of educational costs than the provincial governments of most other provinces, and added "we are prepared to increase our effort in this connection."

Teachers salaries are lower here than in Central and Western Canada, but, generally speaking, all other salaries are lower here also.

"The product of our schools, our young men and women who leave our province to attend universities throughout Canada, measure favorably with students from other provinces. Many of our island graduates have in later years, brought honour not only to themselves, but to this province and often to the 'little Red Schoolhouse' where they received their early educational foundation."

DIRECTOR'S REPORT
In 1946 our Director of Education, Mr. Clark said very rightly, criticized our schools and I quote from his report, "A day's calling at the schools leaves one with the feeling that in far too many districts the school building where the children and teacher spend most of the day, is the least attractive and most neglected home in the community."

"That was twelve years ago. The next year this Government started a program of school improvement with an initial expenditure of $38,000.

"This program has grown and has been accelerated to the point when this year we will have expended an all time high of $140,000. We have greatly enlarged the original grants for construction from an original minimum of $2,500 per classroom and double this amount for certain types of high school accommodation.

"This last year the government enlarged its policy of guaranteeing school loans so that smaller loans now from $1,000 upward are guaranteed. Loans under $1,000 are obtainable from the Teachers' Superannuation Fund. Three things have been responsible for the new rural schools and greatly improved schools in this province namely: 1. Direct Government grants, 2. Government guaranteed loans and 3. Local participation by the school districts."

The minister reported that the accommodation in the new schools is excellent. Besides the bright new classrooms, in most schools, will be found a teacher's room, a library and other facilities.

Some schools have spacious auditoriums and school auditoriums. New schools or greatly remodelled schools are now to be found practically in every town and village in the province.

"This past year has seen the erection of the second new modern school in Charlottetown.

Part of the $167,797 increase in revenue estimated to be received in the coming year stemmed from the inclusion of all federal property in the real estate assessment plus an increase of almost $380,000 in the assessed value of C.N.R. property, Councillor Gaudet noted.

All members of the new Council were present at the special meeting except Councillor William Boyles.
