OMAHA

Iowa-Nebraska reaches downstream from Sioux City, Ia.

The crest—actually a somewhat flat top on a broad, high-water arc, several hundred miles long—is due in the Omaha-Council Bluffs area Thursday morning.

River forecasters stayed by their prediction of a 31.5 foot crest. Today's reading passed 27 feet. The previous record high was 24.6 feet in 1881. Dikes and flood walls were designed originally to withstand a 26.8 foot crest.

On Borrowed Time

Thus Omaha's Council Bluffs, still not actually flooded, were on what Brig.-Gen. Don Shingler, Missouri River division engineer, called "Borrowed time."

Freeboard or safety margin gives shanty protection over 25.6 feet. And a mighty effort to add two feet and more of topping to this freeboard was just about complete tonight.

The peacetime army of soldiers, engineers, civilians and construction men mobilized in the Omaha-Council Bluffs levee-holding effort reached 8,000. The Fifth Army in Chicago began movement of another 2,800 troops from Camp McCoy, Wis.

For the entire Omaha River district, from the Dakotas to Southern Nebraska, the flood-fighting army exceeded 14,600 persons.

OLD LAKE PORT

Coburn, on the north shore of Lake Ontario, was first settled in 1802 when the first store was opened there.

END OF POLIO

most of us have had polio without ever knowing it. Our blood antibodies stopped the disease in time.

John Hopkins seems to have proved this beyond a reasonable doubt. There the animals were given booster shots of antibodies taken from blood which already had produced the protective substances. In every case these boosters saved the monkeys and chimpanzees from paralysis.

Hunters can get the booster shots with blood of persons who already have polio antibodies. Dr. Bodian said there is also a possibility that a vaccine can be made.

Island Odds And Ends

During the past ten days more than fifty laborers and carpenters have been sent to Labrador by the National Employment Office in Charlottetown. The movement to the north will pick up speed as the weather improves.

At present, the working force at Goose Bay is small because of seasonal difficulties. Materials as well as men must be moved to the job from outside points, and heavy building supplies can only go by water. The workmen, on a great deal of lighter machinery can, and does go by air.

A daily air shuttle service is maintained to the scene of operations from Moncton, N. B. Navigation to Goose Bay does not open, usually until late May or early June, and until then the huge working force which will be needed will build up slowly. About two hundred men are listed at the local Employment Office waiting the call to go north. This is in addition to the more than fifty who have already left.

Charlottetown citizens are worried about the poor condition of the city's streets. Now that the concealing layer of snow has melted, every paved street in the city seems to have suffered damage during the winter. According to Mr. Fullerton, whose duties at City Hall include supervision of street construction and repairs, the paved thoroughfares are being torn up for the annual "Furturets." Mr. Fullerton explained it in this way: "The asphalt, which is the basic binding force in our pavements loses its elasticity after years of use. It no longer expands and contracts, as readily as in its youth. It thus becomes brittle and eventually breaks up under continued traffic."

Mr. Fullerton estimates that it will take several months to repair the many streets which need attention, and that a crew of fifty to sixty men will be employed from May 1st or thereabouts until late summer.

The most travelled streets will be reconditioned first, but all will be serviced as quickly as possible. An inspector from Upper Canada, experienced in modern paving practices will be engaged to help out in the restoration programme.

"Bill" Gillespie, secretary of the Prince Edward Island Colt Racing Association has the usual first prize of up to three year olds lined up for the annual "Furturets." Year after year "Bill" carries on the job of encouraging island breeders to raise their own track talent. Eighty or so island owners have responded to the 1952 call, and will make the "Furturets" meet this fall, the success it deserves to be. Bill is something of a "Piper" in the business of attracting entries. Everybody seems to fall in line when he issues his invitation for the annual stakes.

It has been found necessary to import a number of skilled workmen to assist in defence contracts, now being carried out in Charlottetown. Some local people, unemployed during the winter months have complained about the arrival of the newcomers. Unfortunately, Islanders with the needed experience and skills are definitely not available. Moreover, every skilled man who can be obtained makes it possible to employ some unskilled help. Seen in proper perspective, the importation of manpower means more work for Island-born workers. It is understood that the local firms holding defence contracts, are under an obligation to turn out a stated amount of work in a given time. It is impossible to do this without a highly skilled nucleus of skilled men. When the number of unskilled and semi-skilled, gets out of proportion to the skilled nucleus, the terms of the agreements cannot be met. When and if this situation arises, there is more than an even chance that some other town might fall heir to the contracts.

Early reports are trickling in from those trout fishermen who braved the chill winds of opening day. One lucky bait caster snared a three pounder at Morell, and limit catches were landed at Bristol, Lot 40.

That deft manipulator of rod and line, Lloyd Woodcock of the Charlottetown Post Office staff, brought home a good creel of trout, but left behind him two fine salmon. Lloyd landed the salmon but released them when unfeeling bystanders reminded him that the season on the king of the streams was not yet open. One of the salmon measured over three feet in length.

About sixteen hundred residents of Queen's and King's Counties were drawing unemployment insurance benefits during the peak of seasonal unemployment in mid-March. According to officials of the National Employment Office Charlottetown, this figure has now dropped to approximately one thousand, and if it follows the pattern of other years will dwindle to a fraction of this total by mid-May. Between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars weekly was paid out by the Charlottetown Office for a good part of the winter. It is worth noting that the Island Employment Office pay out in benefits each year more than the Island contributes to the Unemployment Insurance Fund. The reason? Seasonal unemployment hits the province harder than it does the manufacturing parts of Canada.

NEW TAX RATE

Asked about the amounts of the proposed increases in teachers salaries, Major T.E. MacNutt, Secretary of the School Board, stated that teachers with 10 years experience would receive $150 and those with only one or two years would get an increment of $15 a year until the $150 figure was reached.

Both Councillor Johnstone and Councillor Frank Storey, Chairman of the Street Committee, felt that it was unfair to raise the salaries of the teachers and not increase those of the rest of the workers.

His Worship Mayor J.D. Stewart pointed out that the School Board members were appointed by the Council and were not receiving anything for the work they were doing. He felt that they were doing a lot of work and doing it as well as they could and that if the Council did not like their work then they could fire them.

The expenditures for the Street Department were estimated at about $7,000 below last year's figure. One of the big items in the Street Department was $30,000 for snow removal. Of this amount $23,000 was paid out in labor.

More Money, Fewer Men

Speaking of the labor policy of the Street Committee, Councillor Storey stated that they planned to pay more money and hire fewer men. We plan to have the highest type men in our department; possible, he stated.

Second reading to the amendment of a by-law by which the property tax rate could be set at 2.35% was given last night. The meeting then adjourned until 12.05 this morning to pass the amendment. The old rate of property tax was three percent but property holders will pay considerably more this year due to the higher valuation of property.

Street Work

A consultant from an engineering firm in Ontario will likely be used to advise the Street Department in mapping out its work and to assist it during the coming summer. The costs for his professional services will amount to $600 a month.

Councillor Storey in his report for the street committee suggested that it was advisable to procure such a man. He stated that he had been in contact with several such men and had located a man with a lot of experience who was working with a highly regarded firm in Toronto.

It was decided that such a man would be brought here and that if the Council felt his services were meritorious he would be kept for the summer months. The man is expected to arrive here in about two weeks time.

Councillor Storey reported street work would begin early in May and that there would be a tremendous amount of it. He suggested that the cooperation of the Sewerage and Water Department was required so that the City might have the use of the hose in cleaning down the streets and sidewalks.

Says Pumper Dangerous

"The LaFrance pumper used by the Fire Department is a menace," stated Councillor P. R. McCormack in his report as chairman of the Fire Department. He stated that pressure was being built in the hose as it was being used and that it was a source of danger for firemen who were standing on the sides of buildings and using it. The pumper is 23 years old.

Mayor Stewart suggested that all three pumps be given tests. He also expressed dissatisfaction with the new air horn on the fire engine and thought it was very similar to the horns in the diesel. The horn, ordered by last year's council cost about $3,460.

Councillor McCormack also raised the question of whether or not the Council should purchase the MacLean-Horne property running between Grafton and Kent Streets. It was decided that considerable study should be given to any such purchase. Mayor Stewart then suggested that the City should have a respectable building code.

"The City has gone to the dogs," stated Councillor Johnstone in reference to the question of stray dogs. Councillor Farmer, chairman of the Police Committee stated that the dog catcher had been fired as he was doing very little work in

Arrange Blood Donor Clinics

Dates have now been arranged for the next three visits of the Red Cross Mobile Blood Donor Team from Halifax to this province. The first of these is to be during the first week of May, the second during the first week of August and the third during the first week of November.

Because of the condition of the roads at this time of the year it was decided that the May clinics would be held at Charlottetown, the R. C. A. F. Station, Kensington and Summerside on May 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th respectively. The objective for the May Clinics has been set at 950 donors. Of this number, Charlottetown's share will be 500 for the two afternoons and evenings of clinics on the Monday and Tuesday of that week, with the balance apportioned as follows: R. C. A. F. Station, 150; Kensington, 100; and Summerside, 200.

Resolutions

Among the resolutions passed was one resolving that the Council negotiate with the Department of Transport to have a survey made to ascertain what land should be acquired to provide runways at the local airport which would be adequate to accommodate all types of present day aircraft. The Council also wanted to know how much the Department of Transport would participate in this development.

Another resolution asked that the Council obtain a temporary loan of $600,000 from the Royal Bank of Canada instead of the $500,000 loan they asked for last month. It was also agreed that the purchase of $75,000 worth of Ontario Hydro-Electric Company four per cent bonds (guaranteed by the Ontario Government) at 99 with accrued interest by the Finance Committee be approved.

H. R. Doane and Company were appointed auditors for the year 1952 at the fee of $1100.

A notice of motion to change a by-law which states that places of public amusement and entertainment must be closed at midnight was given.

The notice of motion was given after a letter from Mr. George Walters, theatre manager, asking permission to hold shows twice a week until 1 a. m. was read. Chief of Police C. W. MacArthur stated he had had no complaints about noise or misbehavior as the result of the midnight shows which were being held twice a week.

According to the present by-law in force all places of amusement except those run for benevolent or charitable purposes must be closed down at midnight.

Two letters were read from persons seeking damages for injuries caused by falling on the street. Another letter from the Municipal Employees Association of the City requested an increase in salaries and a letter from the Board of Trade asked to have the Peddlars by-law amended. Another letter asked that a probable fire hazard in the building next the Old Spain restaurant be checked and a committee of three was appointed to look into the matter.

At the outset of the meeting Mr. Stewart stated that he was glad to see members of the Board of Trade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce present.

The matter of a Legion Delegation to a previous meeting asking for easier terms regarding veterans housing was deferred for one year to be given further study. It was pointed out that nothing could be done about it this year as the Legislature had already been closed.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 15 — (CP) — The motor vessel Placentia, second Newfoundland vessel to return from the sealing grounds, today reported that she had been hemmed in by heavy ice for all but a few hours of her five-week voyage.

Capt. Abe Kelloway said his ship was jammed in the Strait of Belle Isle for almost the entire trip. Engine trouble forced him to return with only a partial load of 3,900 pelts.

It is now six months since any clinics of this kind have been held in the province, so the Island's credit will be exhausted by the time the first of May arrives. The early May clinics will have to provide a sufficient amount to cover the needs of patients in our local hospitals for the following three months, as well as the province's share of the requirements for Canadian troops in Korea for the same period.

Red Cross officials expressed confidence that Prince Edward Islanders would again respond generously to this appeal for donors since they realize the great benefits that have been derived from the more than 6,000 free transfusions that have been given to residents of the province since the service was started in December, 1948.

Jap Peace Treaty Effective April 28

By ROGER D. GREENE
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP) — President Truman today signed the Japanese peace treaty which will formally end the long and bitter struggle that began when Japanese bombers rained destruction on the United States Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941.

The State Department announced the treaty will become effective April 28, restoring Japan to independence and full sovereignty over her home islands 6½ years after the end of the Second World War.

Truman signed his name to the blue-and-gold bound document at 11:25 A. M. E. S. T.

He also affixed his signature to three related treaties designed to set up a new Pacific defence system aimed at blocking the extension of Russia's power, directly or indirectly, into that strategic area.

One of the security pacts, with Japan, gives the U.S. the right to station military forces in and around Japan indefinitely to protect it against the Communists.

Truman is expected to nominate Robert D. Murphy, possibly tomorrow, as the first post-war ambassador to Japan. He has been ambassador to Belgium.

Operetta Scores Hit At Moncton

Victor Herbert's ever-popular "Naughty Marietta" presented by the St. Francis Xavier Dramatic Society and the Caecilian Chorus of Mount St. Bernard thrilled a host of Monctonians in the opening performance Monday night. The Operetta will be staged here Thursday and Friday nights.

The Moncton reports states in part: "An outstanding feature of presentation was the captivating over-all performance, considering the fact that in the cast there was only one previously-trained voice, that of a woman in the title role of Marietta.

"She was Mary Lou Harding, of Yarmouth, N. S. Throughout the charming operetta she enthralled the audience both with her lyrics and histrionics. The lead male role of Captain Richard Warrington was sung by Jack Finn, of Peterborough, Ont., who built up his part to an effective climax in Herbert's "I'm Falling in Love with someone" and also glowed in the key piece "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life."

"The dual role of Etienne, son of the lieutenant-governor, and Gras Pique, the buccaner, was played by Paul O'Connor, of Quebec City, who turned in a fine job. The role of Adah, dusky quadroon beauty, was played by Margaret Keely, of Antigonish.

"The comical part of Silas was done up well by Ralph MacIntosh, of Antigonish, who found an effective comedian partner in Ann Dalton, of Newcastle, doing the part of Lizette."
