On behalf of the inhabitants, PETER EMBRY, DOUGALD McISAAC, DUNCAN TAYLOR, DONALD TAYLOR, DOUGALD McDONALD.

Wood Islands Settlement, August 21, 1855.

REPLY.

GENTLEMEN: I have received with great satisfaction the address you have presented to me on behalf of yourselves and the other inhabitants of Wood Islands Settlement.

The advanced stage of civilization and industry conspicuous in this and the neighbouring Districts in the Island must afford to all who visit them a subject of the highest gratification. To those claims to respect and admiration the sentiments expressed in your address give additional interest, and in the position in which it has pleased Her gracious Majesty to place me, it affords me great pleasure to be able to bear testimony to your unflinching attachment to Her Majesty's throne and person, founded as it justly is on the rights and privileges conferred on her subjects, under her mild and constitutional laws.

In regard to the kind expressions used in your address towards myself in a personal sense, I beg to assure you that whatever experience I may have derived from a long intimacy with Colonial affairs shall be employed, to the best of my ability, to promote your own and the general welfare.

I rejoice to witness the happy prospect of an abundant harvest, and feel convinced that such a blessing, combined with deference to the laws which are necessary to bind society together, cannot fail to be accompanied by progressive improvement and prosperity.

I beg to thank you for your kind wishes towards myself and family.

D. DALY, Lieut. Governor.

GRAND PANORAMA OF THE RUSSIAN WAR.—As every one must feel deeply interested in all that concerns the war in the Crimea, we have no doubt there will be a large concourse of people in attendance at the Temperance Hall this evening, to witness the Grand Panorama of the Russian War, which arrived here a few days ago, and which has attracted such immense crowds wherever it has been exhibited.

We are requested to state that there will be an Exhibition of the above Panoramata on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, for the accommodation of people from the country, when the price to all parts of the house will be only 1s. 6d.

Correspondence.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER.

Sir:

Considerable amusement has been created in our locality by the appearance of a letter in Hazard's Gazette of the 25th ult., signed "Patrick Bearney," an ex-Commissioner of works for this quarter. We learn from the letter that the person whose name is signed to it has laboured under a serious moral blindness for several years—that he was, poor simple man, for a long time, a strenuous supporter of the gentlemen who compose the existing Government, but more particularly of the Hon. Mr. Coles. He has discovered, however, that he was quite wrong to support such people—that they do not deserve the approbation of the country—that they are all a set of usurpers and impostors—because, forsooth, they did not appoint the said Patrick Bearney to a Road Commissionership, from which he had been dismissed by the Tories. The recovery of this man's sight, according to his own showing, is owing entirely to the loss of the £10 per annum. And the ungrateful man sets to work to abuse Mr. Coles for not re-appointing him to office! If Mr. Coles did such a thing, Mr. Pat. Bearney would surely have remained blind, and society would not have benefited by his wonderful discoveries since the miraculous recovery of his sight. He ought, therefore, to be grateful to Mr. Coles as well as the late Government,—his admiration for the Tory party now is evidently owing to the fact of his being dismissed from office by them; and on the same principle he should thank Mr. Coles for not re-appointing him.

One of Mr. Bearney's greatest discoveries is—that his "countrymen are entirely neglected by the present Government, and are only used as steps in the ladder by which usurpers climb into power."

Well, that is something new. Many of Patrick Bearney's countrymen, whose names are signed to this letter, learn for the first time, with surprise, that they have been "neglected" by the Government, or that they have been used in the manner described. And they are not morally blind! They never, any of them, had a Road Commissionership, never wanted, never expected anything of the kind. They have always had the full use of their faculties, and have been able to watch closely the proceedings and judge rightly of the merits of the party in power; and they can remember, too, something of what transpired during the "golden days of Toryism." They can remember how poor men had to barter away their little road orders for goods and trash, because the Treasury could not, or would not pay them—how Treasury Warrants, whenever they did fall into their hands, were depreciated in value from five to ten per cent.—how the poor man was smothered and frowned down if he had the hardihood to go to Charlottetown and look some of the "big men" full in the face—how the patronage of the Government was confined exclusively to the servile dependents and relations of the aforesaid "big men" in office—Patrick Bearney's countrymen can well remember when the circumstance of being an Irishman was considered the greatest disqualification for office—and when civil and political liberty was long and obstinately denied to Catholics by the party he now professes to admire.

Mr. Bearney wants to know what the present Government have done to entitle them to public confidence. "Ask," says he, "the Irishmen of Lot 34 what Coles has done for them?" Well, the Irishmen of Lot 34 can answer him, that Mr. Coles and his colleagues have done all that honest men could do—they have given to every class of the people of this Colony the just and inherent rights so long withheld from them by the faction to which Patrick Bearney is now ready to sell himself; but if he happens to be bought at any price, we think he will be a bad bargain. What has Mr. Coles's Government done? Why, that Government gave the people political power, which they never before enjoyed; they gave protection to the tenantry against the exactions of the landlords in the Small Debt Court; they gave nearly universal suffrage at elections; they liquidated a large public debt, and applied the revenues of the country to the development of its resources; they reduced taxation on dutiable articles; and, the noblest work of all, that same Government established a system of free education, which is the envy and admiration of the surrounding Colonies.

Mr. Bearney has made another extraordinary discovery, and that is, that the Tories amended the Education Act! We know that they appropriated the public moneys to the Church Society Schools, when they had already funds enough from the proceeds of the Globe Lands. He will have some trouble in trying to make us believe that that is an amendment.

Mr. Bearney talks of a great many other things, of which we believe he is perfectly ignorant, and which consequently makes his folly appear greater than his wisdom. But we wish to be more charitable than he is. We do not intend to meddle with his private character, of which he boasts so much; but we advise him to look a little more to himself before he again attacks other people. Our only object in now noticing him is merely to let the people in other parts of the Island know that the men of Lot 34 pay very little attention to anything he says, and that they are as willing as ever to support Mr. Coles and his Government, so long as they act as they have done. We have only to say, in conclusion, that when Mr. B. again thinks of writing for the newspapers, he had better let the Covehead Road people alone, as he may find them too troublesome to manage.

We remain, Sir, Yours very respectfully,

MR. WHELAN.

Sir,—A few days since I happened in at the Mayor's Court, where some conversation was going on among the members of the Body Corporate then present, in reference to the amount of road tax to be levied on persons liable to perform Statute Labour, when the Recorder gave it as his opinion, that the present Collector had no right to assess any person who had been in the habit of paying five shillings with more than four shillings—that he for one had paid the larger amount, and would call on the Collector to refund the extra sum of one shilling. Of course this announcement to interested parties took immediate hold of their ideas, and without getting a copy of the Act of Incorporation, (whence the Recorder pronounced this doctrine), to see whether he was right or wrong, they in their turn to pay the tax refused to give more than the four shillings, alleging with much acrimony and injustice that the Collector wanted to pocket the other shilling, which has caused that functionary very much annoyance, and almost impeded him in the road work. Now, I consider it but common justice to the Collector, to say that other persons in this community, quite as competent as the Recorder to give an opinion, say that the Collector is perfectly right in exacting the five shillings, until after the Bye-laws of the Corporation shall have abrogated a portion of the Statute Labour Act, and ordered the sum of four shillings to be collected next year! It is a pity that the indiscretion of one of the City functionaries should be made available against another City officer, so as to annoy the latter in the discharge of his duty; and the Recorder should be extremely cautious how he throws poison broadcast, as he must be fully aware that establishments divided against themselves cannot stand, and that in such an event he may be among the first to be thrown overboard.

Yours, A TAX PAYER.

Charlottetown, 25th August, 1855.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER.

Sir: The Editor of the Examiner, in a late editorial which he wrote in defence of his pupil, Josiah McLeod, says that the letters which I wrote in my own defence against Campbell and him were crammed with falsehoods. Now, I would ask the public if such were the case would not Campbell and he have exposed these falsehoods? We find, on the contrary, that they did not attempt to disprove anything that I wrote.

He produces my note to J. J. Fraser, which I wrote when pressed by business, and without the least thought that even Fraser was base and unprincipled enough to give publicity to a private communication, as a proof that I did not write the letters to which my name was appended. This is the common resource of his party whenever they find that a person has ability enough to defend himself from their slander.

I intended to give Dominie a rub for his cowardice and uncalculated interference, but I am glad to see that he is undergoing a purifying process in better hands. I hope he will come out a better coin, despite of his pretended neutrality. I suspected him all along of being a rank Tory in disguise—what else could be expected from one coming out of Dunoon McLean's school. I hope that he did not imbibe his pernicious doctrines in things of greater importance than politics, although I strongly suspect it.

Well, he seems to be an adept in all the instruction given him, and to have even surpassed his teacher in one quality at least.

Let the whole pack of hounds rave and bark at me; unless I change my mind, I shall henceforth give myself no further trouble about them.

N. J. BROWN.

St. Eleanor's, 23d August, 1855.

Police Office.

August 20.—John McKinnon, Preventive Officer at this Port, preferred a charge against James Hennessey, John McAtee and William Wyse, for assault. McAtee and Wyse convicted and fined, the former in the sum of ten shillings, and the latter in the sum of twenty shillings, both with costs, and each to find sureties for good behaviour for six months.

Sylvester Doyant, of Rustico, Constable, preferred a charge of assault and battery, committed on him on Sunday, (yesterday), he being stoned through the streets of this City by a number of persons, chiefly boys. The following persons, convicted of the assault, were fined as follows:—Michael Toole, the sum of three pounds, with costs, or two months' imprisonment; George Larier, two pounds with costs, or two months' imprisonment; and John McGear, William Smith, and Donald McDonald, one pound each with costs, or one month's imprisonment each.

[This was a most unprovoked and wanton attack on a Constable, who had, in the discharge of his duty, delivered two prisoners that were committed to his custody, at Rustico, being deserters from M. H. S. Espigale, now in this harbour; and much credit is due to his Worship the Mayor and to the several officials under him for the promptness with which they treated this first attempt at a riot since their installation—which augurs well for the peace of the City.]

August 21.—Ellen Ryan preferred a complaint against Henry Edmunds for assault. Case dismissed—parties paying their own costs.

August 23.—Sambel Martin, otherwise known as "Black Sam," was convicted of an assault on W. H. Hobkirk, Esq., M. D., fined five shillings and costs, or he imprisoned for seven days, and to find security for keeping the peace, and be of good behaviour for twelve months.

John Cairns, for an assault on John McKinnon; convicted and fined 10s. with costs.

August 24.—Nancy Mitchell, otherwise known as "Nancy the Squaw," for being drunk and disorderly; convicted and sentenced to forty-eight hours imprisonment.

Kezlie Myres, for alleged assault and battery on Mary Cosgrove; complaint dismissed.

August 25.—Peter Williams and Michael McLaughlin, for being drunk and disorderly; the latter convicted of both charges, was fined five shillings with costs, and the former ordered to pay costs.

Mayor's Court, August 27.—Councillor for this week, Silas Barnard, Esq.

One or two active and intelligent lads, not under 15 years of age, with a fair share of education, will be taken as Apprentices to the Printing Business, if early application be made to the Examiner and Royal Gazette Office.

TAPE WORM CURED BY DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE.

NEW YORK, August 2, 1855.

A certain lady in this city testifies that, after using Dr. M'LANE'S Vermifuge, she passed a tape worm ten inches long; and has no hesitation in recommending it to every other afflicted now in use; as, in her opinion, it far exceeds every other remedy now in use. The name of the lady, and further particulars, can be learned by calling on Mrs. Hardie, Manhattan place, or E. L. Theall, Druggist corner of Rutgers and Monroe streets.

P. S. The above valuable remedy, also Dr. M'LANE'S Celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in this city. Purchasers will please be careful to ask for, and take none but Dr. M'LANE'S Vermifuge. All others, in comparison, are worthless.

THE MOST SATISFACTORY PROOF

Of the remarkable efficacy of the Oxygenated Bitters. Read the following certificate from J. C. Dunn, Esq., City Treasurer.

Boston, June 6, 1850.

MESSRS. STIMPSON & REED: Gentlemen—I have been for some years troubled occasionally with severe attacks of indigestion; have consulted many physicians, tried Allopathy and Homoeopathy and can truly say, I have received more speedy and effectual relief from the use of the Oxygenated Bitters, procured from you, than from all other remedies, and most cheerfully recommend them to all who suffer from a similar affliction.

Yours truly, JAMES C. DUNN.

Numerous certificates have been received from citizens of the highest respectability, attesting the superiority of these Bitters. Every Dyspeptic who wishes to find a sure and agreeable remedy, will be amply repaid for a trial of this medicine.
