In Memoriam

In loving memory of

MR. NELSON HOOPER

who died April 9th, 1953.

The rolling stream of life goes on
But still the empty chair
Reminds us of the face
Of one who once sat there.

God saw the road was getting rough,
And the hills were hard to climb
So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."

Lovingly Remembered by the Family.

FESTIVAL OFFERS GRACE NEEDED IN DAILY LIFE

God prepared the Jews for the first Holy Week by almost 2,000 years of instruction. Perhaps the most vivid foreshadowing of what was to happen during Holy Week took place about the 13th century B. C. God had chosen Abraham to be the father of the Chosen People. He showed Abraham the Promised Land of Palestine.

Abraham's great - grandson, Joseph, was sold by his brothers as a slave to traders going into Egypt. When a famine came in the land of Palestine, and Joseph by God's help had risen to prominence in Egypt, the brethren of Joseph came with Israel, their father, and they all dwelt there.

The Egyptians, however, seeing them prospering and increasing in number, ended by making them slaves. For hundreds of years they had to endure increasingly bitter conditions. God at last raised up Moses as the leader of the Israelites. Moses asked the Pharaoh to let the Israelites return to Palestine. Each time the Paharoh refused, God sent a grievous plague on Egypt.

The tenth plague was the death of the first-born of every family and of all cattle. God told Moses how the Israelites could escape from this plague themselves. They were to kill a lamb in each family and sprinkle its blood on their door posts. This blood would save them from death.

At midnight death struck the land. All Egypt was in mourning. The Pharaoh sent the Israelites away before dawn. Moses led them to the Red Sea. While they were encamped there Pharaoh had a change of heart and sent his army after them to recapture them.

MIRACULOUS CROSSING

With no way of escape, the Israelites were terrified. When Moses raised his hand, however, the Red Sea was miraculously dried up, and the Israelites passed over on dry land, and the waters returned, drowning every one.

The Israelites kept a feast day every year till the time of Christ, commemorating this event. On the fourteenth day of the month Nisan they killed a lamb, ate it in haste and sprinkled the blood on their door posts. This feast was called the Pasch of Passover, because the destroying angels passed over the houses of the Israelites when they were killing the first-born.

The Israelites were keeping all this time what they thought was a remembrance of the past. But really it was all a symbol of the future. All that the Passover stood for took place in the Holy Week, when Christ celebrated the last Passover and died the next day.

The slavery in Egypt stood for the world under original sin, before the coming of Christ. The Paschal Lamb stood for Christ, Whom St. John the Baptist called the Lamb of God, the innocent and sinless Son of God. The passage of the Red Sea stood for baptism, by which we leave behind the slavery of sin and enter the way to the Promised Land, which stood for Heaven.

IDENTICAL OFFERINGS

At the last paschal supper Our Lord changed bread and wine into His Body and Blood. He then offered His Body and Blood to His Father for the salvation of the world. That Body and Blood would be separated on Good Friday, the next day. Our Lord's Body and Blood were really present under the appearance of bread and wine. The offering of Them was identical with the offering of His Body and Blood which Our Lord made when hanging on the Cross. Only the manner of offering was different.

On the Cross, Christ died in a bloody manner. At the supper, Christ is represented by the separate consecration of the bread and wine, as slain. He is thus offered in an unbloody manner. And Our Lord instituted this real offering of His Body and Blood in an unbloody manner as a perpetual feast to be observed by us. "Do this in commemoration of Me."

And this feast is not to be observed by us just once a year, on Holy Thursday, but every day; or at least every Sunday. Perhaps that is why He chose bread and wine, two very common foods; to show us that He wants us to eat this supper often.

This new Passover is not just a remembrance of what Our Lord has done for us. It is a reality, the renewal of Calvary. It is a real application to our souls of the fruits of Our Lord's death on the Cross. It applies to us the graces we need to overcome sin in our daily life. Holy Week is not just a remembrance of Christ's death and resurrection It is an opportunity to gain now, the grace necessary for us more thoroughly to overcome sin and grow in likeness to Christ, the innocent Lamb.

Such is, however, not the case, the earth on being released from bondage turns into a sullen, uncooperative mass which refuses to stand on its own feet and persists on sticking on those of everyone else. Fortunately this mood passes away and in the course of a few days the earth returns to a more normal frame of mind and

Among The Farmers

Federation of Agriculture Newsletter

BUDGET 1955

Every Canadian citizen will be, to a greater or lesser extent, affected by the recent budget. The greatest effect will possibly come indirectly through leaving in the hands of the general public an indefinite number of extra millions of purchasing power. Most people spend all the money they make and if the government takes less, then there is more remaining for the purchase of goods, products and services, thus if conditions remain normal the general economy should be stimulated to greater activity.

The general effect of the change made in the new budget will not likely be marked so far as agriculture is concerned, the average farmer is not in the happy position of being liable to pay income tax, a reduction in the price of automobiles will not benefit any substantial number as the large majority of people who wish to acquire a new car have an old one to trade in and its value is depreciated also. A lower tax on tires and tubes will, on most mechanized farms, results in the saving of a few dollars each year.

To summarize, the effects of the budget upon agriculture, if noticable, will come, for the most part, in an indirect way.

POTATO TARIFFS

Holding out some promise of relief to the potato grower is the announcement contained in the budget that the Tariff Board will be requested to make an investigation and recommendations upon the position of the potato industry.

The government, of course, has the power to make changes upon its own authority and if it were so inclined relief would be brought about more rapidly than will be the case where a Board must investigate and recommend to the government which then decides whether or not to act. We think the potato industry is in a strong position to establish an excellent case with the Tariff Board and no stones should be left upturned when the Board meets here in making the strongest possible representation. While the Tariff Board may not act quickly yet we feel that it will act with fairness and that it's recommendations will be accepted by the government.

FEDERATION MEETINGS

Within a few days advertisements will appear in the press announcing the fact that Monday, April 18th is the date set for the holding, in school districts throughout the Province, of meetings of farmers interested in their Federation of Agriculture. At these meetings a Chairman and Secretary for each district will be appointed or re-appointed, they then become the official voting delegates at County annual and semi-annual meetings. These meetings also afford the opportunity of renewing memberships and bringing to the attention of the provincial organization matters which may be problems at the local level.

It is suggested that farmers and their wives make plans to leave Monday evening, April 18th free to attend this meeting. Notices will appear in the press and in addition the Secretary in each district will be provided with the necessary material to conduct the meeting.

While the Federation has been active over a period of years it can only remain active if adequately supported financially. Farmers would be mistaken indeed if they took for granted the automatic existance of the Federation. The Federation can remain a vital force in agriculture only if the individual farmer is prepared to take an interest in it and support it with a small portion of his time and money.

PRODUCTION AND MARKETS

The depressed years of the thirties which found agriculture with an abundance of goods to sell and few, if any, buyers developed an active interest in the question of marketing. Up to this period farmers had been told by the experts that their salvation lay in more production and in more efficient production. Produce, Produce, had been the watch-word of agricultural advisors but the skeptics among the farmers came to the conclusion that something more was needed and to the discomfort of the experts and the annoyance of the handlers of farm products began to suggest that marketing also was worthy of attention.

Thus there grew up two schools of thought in the business of farming, those who pinned their faith in production and those who nailed their banner to the flagstaff of marketing and even after twenty years the differences of opiaion still remain strong. Certainly it would appear that if farmers as a group think of nothing else and confine their activities only to production, that some strange things are bound to happen in the handling of products between the farm cart and the grocery cart. Also if farmers think only of marketing aod disregard production there are plenty pitfalls in such a policy.

Very rarely is the farmer told at the present time to produce more but he is being constantly told that he must produce more efficiently; this, after establishing the fact that with fewer and fewer workers he has produced more and more food and as a worker has increased his output more than the workers in any other industry, is comforting advice. Where inefficiency in agricultural production exists the farmer has no means of passing it on to the consumer, he pays the cost of his own inefficiency, such is not always the case in other fields of endeavour.

MUD, MUD, MUD

Prince Edward Island at this season of the year is famous for both the quantity and quality of its mud. Soil that has been frozen exhibits some very unusual properties when acted upon by the mildness of the Spring sun and the Spring rains. If soil were capable of feelings we would expect that its release from the winter bondage of frost would produce such a feeling of relief that its very happiness would produce a co-operative frame of mind.

Wild horses in the western part of North America are believed descended from stock brought to Mexico by the early Spaniards.
