Wage-Hour Dispute With Railway Nears Showdown

MONTREAL, July 30 (CP) - Representatives of 90,000 rail workers meet here tomorrow to bring the wage-hour dispute with Canadian railways one step nearer a showdown.

Already spokesmen for one union group numbering 30,000 men, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.R.E.) and the Brotherhood of Express Employees (C.B.E.), have announced their membership has voted "overwhelmingly" in favor of a strike if necessary.

Tomorrow, representatives of the 15 international brotherhoods will sit down to compute results of a strike ballot completed last Monday, and plan their next move.

All 126,000 men in two union groups are non-operating employees. They hold such jobs as clerks, express workers and telegraph operators.

Demands of both groups, on which conciliation boards have recommended compromises, include straight rate increases and the 40-hour week instead of the 48-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay.

The international brotherhoods are asking a seven-cent hourly boost while the Canadian unions are seeking a 10-cent increase and the checkoff for union dues.

The demands which the railways estimated would cost $84,000,000 a year, were investigated by conciliation boards early this year. The boards recommended shortening the work week to 44 hours and increases in hourly pay, but not enough in some cases to give the same take-home pay as at present.

Union leaders rejected the reports but the railways accepted them, estimating their cost at between $19,000,000 and $27,000,000 annually.

Harbour Cruise Enjoyed Saturday

The new and glistening motor launch "Ran-A-Tan" was held a few minutes Saturday afternoon to allow a group of tourists and their Charlottetown friends to catch the 2:45 sailing for a two-hour cruise in the Hillsborough Bay and West River.

The "Ran-A-Tan" sailed out from the jetty and turned into a fresh southerly breeze with the equally breezy Mrs. Vatcher at the helm. She was soon relieved there by Councillor Edwin Johnstone who steered a surprising steady course for the harbour mouth.

The passengers, Islanders and visitors alike, enjoyed the view of city and harbour and at the harbour mouth Mr. J. O. Hyndman's flag flying at the site of old Fort Amherst. Out beyond the blockhouse the cottages on the other side at Keppoch were in sight but a blue haze obscured St. Peter's and Governors Island.

Altering course 180 degrees to return to harbour, the launch changed the climate and everyone started to peel off jackets and sweaters. After a short run up the West River, Master Tim McNeill of Montreal took the helm and soon steered the party to within halting distance of the wharf. The permanent crew took over from there and soon another pleasant cruise of the "Ran-A-Tan" was over.

Harbour cruises by motor launch would prove an attraction to tourists and citizens alike. It is a pleasant diversion from travel by automobile and one could hardly find a better way in which to enjoy a leisurely two hours than a cruise taking in the picturesque shoreline encompassing the city.

Last Friday night a party enjoyed a moonlight cruise on the "Ran-A-Tan" and this too proved a most popular outing. The latter was popular because of the enthusiastic indications were that such trips should "catch on" as a convenient and pleasant way of entertaining visitors.

Anti-Leopold Disorders Flare In Belgium

LIEGE, Belgium, July 30 (CP) - Gardemars opened fire tonight during a meeting of strikers in preparation of this great industrial city, killing three men. They were the first deaths in violence arising from opposition to King Leopold's return to the throne last week-end.

The dead were two Belgians and one Italian. The latter was believed to be a coal miner. (The National radio in Brussels said two men were killed and three severely wounded when the gardemars were hard pressed by demonstrators.)

The crowd assembled to hear a speech by Simon Enqvist, Socialist member of Parliament. The shooting developed when gardemars tried to disperse the gathering. The rest of the country appeared relatively quiet, but anti-Leopold forces were marshalling their strength for a march upon Brussels Tuesday which promises to be the greatest show of strength to date by the forces opposing Leopold by strikes and outright violence.

VATICAN CITY, July 30 (AP) - Pope Pius told 30,000 pilgrims in general audience at St. Peter's Basilica Saturday to pray that Rome and Italy and the world be spared from war. He spoke briefly in Italian.

FRENCH PUBLICATIONS - There are 11 daily newspapers and 104 weekly newspapers published in French in Canada.

Victim Of Street Accident Yesterday

Twelve-year-old Sylvia Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Campbell, Spring Street, is in the Prince Edward Island Hospital as the result of an accident which occurred early last evening at the west end of Euston Street.

Suffering from a mild concussion and bruises about the face and legs, Miss Campbell will remain in the hospital for a few days under observation. She was riding her bicycle west on Euston near Government Pond when she was struck from behind by a truck, driven by Joseph A. MacKinnon, Charlottetown.

The truck was going in the same direction as the bicycle and the force of the impact threw both Miss Campbell and her bicycle over the curb onto the sidewalk. She was unconscious when she was picked up by a driver of a passing taxi and rushed to the hospital. The driver of the truck was being held last evening pending further investigation.

The rear wheel of the bicycle was badly smashed.

All Set For 500 Donors

The mobile team from the Maritime Depot, Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, composed of eleven women and one man, arrived in the Province late yesterday afternoon in three vehicles—the station wagon, refrigerator van and the equipment van.

Dr. Russell is in charge of the team which comprises two registered nurses, five nursing assistants, one laboratory technician and three drivers. The next four days are going to be busy ones for the team so they took advantage of a "free night" to enjoy a dip at Stanhope and a shore supper.

On Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday morning, Blood Donor Clinics will be held at Red Cross Headquarters in Charlottetown when the objective is 500 donors.

On Tuesday afternoon the team moves on to Summerside where 250 donors are expected that evening. On Wednesday there will be a clinic in O'Leary High School in the afternoon and in the Institute Hall at Alberton on Wednesday morning and the final Clinic will be held at Borden School on Thursday night.

At the end of the four days it is hoped that the team will have collected the 1,000 bottles which are required to keep the service going in this Province for the next three months. This cannot possibly be accomplished unless 1,000 of our people will fully realize the seriousness of the situation and come forward from all parts of the Province as donors. Now that this free transfusion service is operating so efficiently in this Province it is up to everyone to feel the responsibility of keeping it going by being donors—or if this is not possible by urging others to be donors. It is up to all of us to prove that we can make a 100% success of these Blood Donor Clinics and be proud of our accomplishments.

Unexpected Dividend

CLAYTON, N.Y., July 30 (AP) - Buyers of Calumet Castle, once a millionaire's summer mansion on one of the St. Lawrence River's Thousand Islands near here, received an unexpected dividend.

Workers fixing wiring in the basement of the stone building discovered several hundred cases of imported wines dated from 1895 to 1900. The wine was hidden in a cave dug in solid rock.

British Labor Party Revises Foreign Policy

LONDON, July 30 (Reuters) - Moved by news of unrest behind the iron curtain, Britain's Labor Party has quietly, but fundamentally, shifted its foreign policy.

It has written off the "curtain" as a permanent division between free and Communist worlds. It has made the restoration of freedom in Eastern Europe one of its goals.

Until last Wednesday, when this latest statement was issued, British socialism strove for a "live-and-let-live" arrangement on the principle that countries are entitled to have the governments they desire.

But evidence reaching Britain from the Russian satellites of Eastern Europe, especially Czechoslovakia, Romania and Poland, has persuaded party planners that a strong core of socialist resistance remains and should be encouraged.

Despite police networks, secret channels resembling underground links of the Second World War exist between nationals in and outside the various countries, a Labor spokesman said.

Information obtained that way, together with that gained from screening the hundreds of refugees who escape monthly, and that learned from "reading between the lines" of satellite government pronouncements, indicates all is not too happy in the Communist fold.

Sabotage in the spectacular sense does not exist, despite convictions recorded by the courts. "Sabotage" in their language refers more to slow-downs, resistance to increased production, absenteeism. Such "sabotage" upsets the countries' planned economies and hence is punished.

The British Labor Party, the spokesman said, made a "significant" change Wednesday in its thinking. It now ignores the "curtain" and speaks of the day "when those countries will be restored to freedom." Then it says, Communists will be punished for their crimes against the workers.

The change moves Labor and the Conservative Party, which is in opposition closer in their foreign thinking, for the Conservatives have maintained since 1945 that the "curtain" is an insuperable barrier and that one day countries behind it will have to be freed.

Presbyterian Church Moderator To Visit Province In October

A meeting of the Historical Committee of the Presbytery of Prince Edward Island was held Friday to make arrangements for the forthcoming visit of the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Rt. Rev. F. Scott MacKenzie, D. D. (above), Dr. MacKenzie will visit the Island from Oct. 6 to 13 when district rallies will be conducted throughout the Presbytery.

Sudden Death Of Mr. Richard Mallett

Mr. Richard V. Mallett, chef at the Queen Hotel, Charlottetown, died suddenly at Stanhope Beach yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Mallett had taken a group of employees from the Queen Hotel to the North Shore for a swim and after being in the water for a short time had walked up on the shore and sat down. People sitting a few feet from him had seen him fall over, but he died before they could reach him.

An autopsy is to be held this morning and it is very doubtful if an inquest will be necessary as he was known to be suffering from a heart condition.

Mr. Mallett was employed for about forty years at the Queen Hotel, and was widely known and esteemed. He was in his seventy-first year.

He is survived by two brothers, Fred of Charlottetown, and William of Boston, and by two sisters, Mary of Baltimore, and Margaret of Gloucester.

TELLS BRITONS

Continued from page 1 ed: "Make no mistake about it, the evil forces which are now attacking South Korea are part of a world conspiracy against the way of life of the free democracies."

Atlee said "it was our hope so to build up the strength of the United Nations as to remove the fear of war from all peoples. We have earnestly striven to secure the co-operation of the U.S.S.R. in this work, but there has been continued obstruction by them."

"It is our earnest hope that the U.S.S.R. will change its policy and will join wholeheartedly with the rest of the world in the great tasks of preserving peace and promoting the happiness of all peoples."

"But because of the growth of evil forces in the world we now have no option but to increase our defences."

American troops in Korea, "heavily outnumbered, are fighting a difficult rearguard action until reinforcements can arrive."

Will Mean Sacrifices Atlee bluntly told Britain that building up British defences will mean sacrifices. He said: "If we have to make more armaments, if we have to divert to military service men and women who might be helping to provide our peacetime requirements, there will be fewer goods available for providing for our standard of life."

He put forth this three-fold program: "First, we must try to increase production wherever possible to make up for the resources we must devote to defence."

"Secondly, I ask everyone who can do so to give personal service. I know that if, which God forbid, war should break out, every one of you would be ready for any kind of service. It is well worth while to make some sacrifice of leisure now to prevent war."

"Thirdly, I would ask you all to be on your guard against the enemy within. There are those who would stop at nothing to injure our economy and our defence."

Atlee mentioned the recent explosion of ammunition boats at the naval base of Portsmouth as a case of sabotage and added: "I do not yet know who was responsible, but clearly they were prepared to murder many innocent people to gain their ends."

Atlee warned British workers to guard against being led out on strike by Communists—obviously a reference to a series of unofficial waterfront strikes and other work stoppages which have been denounced by the Government as Communist-inspired.
