

Religion and Life

By Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon, D.D., L.L.D. First Moderator of the United Church of Canada (Copyright)

A year or two after the Church of 1925 I met an elderly minister of Methodist ancestry. In the course of our conversation I mentioned that the church of my youth was in New Richmond, Quebec, and he said, "Once I preached in a school-house there. I had been informed from Toronto that there was a family near there who subscribed to the Christian Guardian, and when I drove down from Campbellton, N. B., to call on them they arranged this meeting for me."

to maintain their system; what happened to the individual did not matter so long as their legal system was upheld. Over against their attitude and action, Jesus sought out the man and welcomed him into a fellowship with Himself as its centre. This is His illustration — the shepherd who finds himself in the health and safety of his sheep.

Much that concerns your present and your future depends on your answer. In the tenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, Jesus speaks of Himself as the Good Shepherd who lays down His life for His sheep. It was a figure familiar to the people around Him. The relationship between the shepherd and his sheep in the wilds of Judea was unique. Among us, shepherding is only one of the farmer's interests; there the flock was everything to the shepherd. He knew his sheep individually and they knew him. The sheepfold was just an enclosure surrounded by a strong fence or palisade and open to the sky; a number of flocks might be brought into it every night.

A traveler describes a morning scene. The door was opened and all the sheep were put out together. The shepherds walked together to a certain point, the sheep following them. Then each shepherd took a path of his own, uttering his peculiar call, and without a single mistake the sheep separated, each following his owner.

Once a Scotsman learned a shepherd's call, changed clothes with him, and called the flock, but every sheep turned after the shepherd in his strange garb and refused to follow the stranger. The shepherd is the flock's bond of union, their guide to the pastures and springs of water, and their defender. There is nothing of which Eastern shepherds boast more proudly than their courage and skill in frightening and fighting off the wild beasts or wilder men who try to prey on their flocks. In fact, one traveler passed a spot where, the day before, a shepherd had died defending his sheep.

Jesus' critics had just thrown out of their fellowship a man born blind to whom Christ had given sight. Their reason was that he would not show the man who had opened his eyes on the Sabbath. These Pharisees were good men according to the standards of their time, and their concern was

Because she liked people she made friends so casually that she did not realize how many she had till the last months. Her virtues were old fashioned. She was frugal but warmly generous, had a deep sense of privacy and independence worked hard, and possessed a strong will and a stout heart.

Her loyalty to the Island and the people she loved was a proud quest. Her trust in God was a quiet, unflinching light. She fought illness with the same courage as she had encountered all her vicissitudes and she died as calmly as she had lived.

She is survived by her daughters, Gladys and Esther (Mrs. Colin Durber), both of Charlottetown; a son, George, of Halifax; and two sisters, Mrs. James A. MacKinnon, of Coleman, and Mrs. Melvin Kemp, of Sheffield, Massachusetts. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17 from St. Paul's Anglican Church. IN MEMORIAM MRS. G. T. HART Many friends and relatives were saddened to hear of the passing of Mrs. G. T. Hart at her home in Charlottetown on January 15.

The deceased was born Jennie Gorrill at Tyne Valley to the late Edward and Sarah Prudence Gorrill. She spent her girlhood in Tyne Valley and O'Leary and moved shortly after her marriage to Charlottetown, where she has since resided.

She faced a life of many ordeals with a sense of humour and duty. She nursed her husband, the late George Frederick Hart, during his long illness and was left a widow at an early age. She gave herself for her children.

Because she liked people she made friends so casually that she did not realize how many she had till the last months. Her virtues were old fashioned. She was frugal but warmly generous, had a deep sense of privacy and independence worked hard, and possessed a strong will and a stout heart.

Her loyalty to the Island and the people she loved was a proud quest. Her trust in God was a quiet, unflinching light. She fought illness with the same courage as she had encountered all her vicissitudes and she died as calmly as she had lived.

Former Islander Returns To Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lague left on January 7th to return to Mozer Bay, Kodiak Island, Alaska, after spending holidays at Mr. Lague's home in Crapaud, and the previous few months with relatives and friends in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Lague arrived at his home in Crapaud on Oct. 27th from Alaska, and after a three weeks' rest, and attending to some business they left for a motor trip to Boston, New York, Washington, D.C., and various parts of Virginia.

The Lagues were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Lague's mother and his aunt, Mrs. Gordon Thompson of Cornwall.

The first night of the trip was spent at Calais, Maine, the second night in Boston, the next in New York, and the entire week following in Washington, guests of Mrs. Louise Coffman, where a most delightful time was had by all. Visits were made to all places of interest including the "Pentagon", a remarkable office building, which covers 34 acres of land.

Arlington National Cemetery was also a spot of interest, and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, with its sentry on duty.

Next was enjoyed a lovely ride over the Blue Ridge Mountains, and through the Shenandoah Valley to Harrisonburg, where on Dec. 1st the weather was warm and summer-like. At Harrisonburg the party visited Mr. Lague's aunt, Mrs. Earman, and with her they visited Madison College, a beautiful and charming layout of buildings.

On Dec. 10th the party returned to New York for a three-day sight-seeing spree and attended a show at Radio City, which was quite beyond description.

Dec. 13th brought the party back to Boston for a week-end, where they encountered a severe snow storm which prevented any sight-seeing at that point.

The return to P.E.I. was made on Dec. 18th with cold weather and snow, but road conditions all remarkable.

Hampton Charge United Church Make Presentation

The annual congregational meeting of the Hampton Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada was held in the Hampton United Church on Monday, January 14th, at 3 P. M.

The meeting was the consummation of the work of the charge for the year 1951. Prior to this annual meeting, meetings of the local congregations of Appin Road, Bonshaw, DeSable, Hampton and Victoria, were held in their respective churches.

The meeting opened with a short devotional conducted by the Minister, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey who was assisted by Mr. J. K. MacFadyen.

After the readings and confirmation of the minutes the following reports were read and adopted. The first report was the report of spiritual state of the work of the charge, and was followed by a statistical report on marriages, births, deaths and the number received into full membership during the past year.

The following reports on the services for the year were read and adopted and were as follows: M. and N. fund, Mr. A. fund, Manse fund, and the report of Ministerial support. The finances showed an increase over last year.

Mr. E. C. Holm commended the people of the various churches on the splendid effort they had made during 1951. Tribute was paid to Rev. Mr. Woolfrey for the leadership given to the people during the year, by Mr. E. C. Holm, Mr. J. N. MacFadyen and Mr. J. H. Myers. The congregation showed their appreciation by a standing vote.

The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a chair to Mr. E. C. Holm Recording Steward and Treasurer of the charge, who has served in that capacity for forty years.

The presentation was made by Mr. Ewen Wright and Mr. J. H. MacFadyen and a carefully prepared address was read by Mr. J. H. Myers. The address is as follows:—

Hampton, P. E. I. Jan. 14, 1952 Mr. E. C. Holm Dear Sir:—This annual congregational meeting is only one of many others at which you have served in a Secretarial capacity. Your services to this congregation as Secretary, as Elder, as Sunday Superintendent and as our representative to Presbytery, extends back over a great many years.

No doubt at times you found the labor involved in these many duties a bit irksome. Sometimes it may have interfered with your own private affairs, and there may even have been occasions when you felt that your efforts were unappreciated by those on whose behalf they were rendered.

We wish you to take our present action as ample assurance that such was not the case. After your many years as Superintendent of the Sunday School, it must be a source of great satisfaction to you to know that you have been instrumental in helping to mould the christian character of the young people of our community.

We feel sure that many of our boys and girls have gone out into the world the better equipped to meet the vicissitudes of life by your example and precepts.

By the bed side of the sick and dying your earnest prayers and kind sympathy have lightened the gloom of many a passing scene.

As a neighbour and citizen in general your conduct towards your fellowmen has always been a fine exemplification of the "Golden Rule."

We ask you to accept the accompanying gift, not for its intrinsic worth or value but as a token of our sincere esteem and friendship.

Signed on behalf of the Congregation. George Cameron, Mark Cameron.

After the presentation was made Mr. Holm spoke briefly to the congregation and assured them all he did was not for the praise and esteem of men was solely for the Kingdom of God.

The congregation then sang one verse of "Blest be the Tie That

Prominent Canadians Likely To Succeed Alexander

VISCOUNT ALEXANDER

GEN. H. D. G. CRRERAR

Four well-known Canadians have been mentioned as possible successors to present governor-general, Viscount Alexander, who, it is understood, has been offered post of defence minister in U.K. government. Among those mentioned as possible successors to Alexander are: Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, 63, chancellor of the University of Toronto; Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, 63, commander of First Canadian Army overseas in World War II; Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret of Supreme Court of Canada, and Ross Macdonald, 61, Speaker of the House of Commons. Appointment of a Canadian governor-general would break tradition of naming a Britisher to represent the King in Canada. The King would still be asked to ratify the appointment of a Canadian.

HON. VINCENT MASSEY

CHIEF JUSTICE RINFRET

Augustine Cove W.I. —The January meeting of the Augustine Cove W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Alban Gaudet.

Meeting opened by singing the Institute "Ode" followed by the "Creed" in unison. Roll call was responded to by 12 members and two new members joined. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and correspondence was then read and discussed.

Red Cross sewing and knitting was then given to the different members, same to be finished and handed in at the next meeting.

It was decided to have the Projector in the school on the last Friday of each month, in the afternoon, for the winter months, each member to make candy to be sold. A bill of $5.15 was paid.

Reports of committees were then heard and new ones appointed as follows: Sick and Program, Mrs. Lorne Carruthers and Mrs. Wendell MacFadyen. Lunch, Mrs. Roy Boulter, Mrs. Roy Cutcliffe, Mrs. A'ban Gaudet and Mrs. Gerald MacFadyen.

Next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Vernie Webster and a roll call will be answered with a quilt patch or a flour bag.

Meeting closed with "The King" after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by the committee in charge.

Post-Nuptial Shower Mrs. Harold Pepall and Mrs. Robinson MacFadyen were joint hostesses at Mrs. Pepall's home, 308 Scarborough Road, Toronto, Ontario, on Friday evening, Jan. 4 for a party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ashley, who were recently married.

After the bride and groom were seated under a decorated arch and showered with confetti, little Gai! Pepall wheeled in a decorated carriage filled with gifts, which she passed to the bride and groom. After they had opened the gifts and all were admired, Mrs. Pepall arranged them on a table.

Mack, in his usual gracious manner, on behalf of his bride, thanked all for their nice gifts and invited all present to visit them at their home on 19 Rosalie Avenue.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Delbert Bailey and Mrs. George Falkner served a delicious lunch, including a cake decorated especially for the bride and groom.

At a late hour all wished Mack and Anne much happiness, then proceeded to their homes.

Mr. Ashley is formerly from Appin Road, P. E. Island. Binds and the meeting concluded with the singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the Benediction by the chairman, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey.
