

DUNDEE, Scotland — (CP) — Hilding Pierson, who claims to have ridden 500,000 miles in North America, failed to pass the driving test given to visitors after a year's stay here. "Of course," he said, "I could fly to New York return, and renew my visitor's licence."

From One Cook to Another

CHEESE AND POTATOES — does it sound strange? Of course not — you know about potatoes au gratin. But here is a new one — Cheese Potato Salad. Mighty good, too. A recipe that guests will ask for!

THERE'S A BABY IN THE HOUSE! What busy, happy days that mean for a homemaker! How special are the feedings for that precious baby! No meal you prepare, concerns you so deeply as the formula for His Highness. Well — if your baby is getting a Carnation Evaporated Milk formula, you can rest assured that money can't buy more digestible, nourishing, safe milk. Carnation is a milk on which millions of contented babies have thrived. Babies like the Hargreaves quads of Sault Ste. Marie — even the Dionne quintuplets. If there's a baby in your home, ask your doctor about a Carnation formula for him.

CHEESE POTATO SALAD
1/2 cup nippy cheese spread
1/2 cup undiluted Carnation Milk
4 cups hot boiled potatoes, diced
1/2 cup minced green onions
1 teaspoon salt
Beat cheese and Carnation together until smooth and creamy. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Refrigerate for an hour. Before serving, top with 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced — and mayonnaise.

To save dishwashing, use measuring cups and spoons first for DRY ingredients... then for liquid ones. To save money, use Carnation for all milk and most cream purposes.

A DRESS-UP IDEA that's thrifty enough for everyday meals... is to a homemaker like an extra ace to a championship bridge player. You'll feel as triumphant as can be, when you discover how easy it is to whip Carnation Evaporated Milk — for using in chilled and frozen desserts... in dressing for fruit salads... and as topping for such things as fresh or canned fruits, milk puddings, and so on.

TO WHIP CARNATION
Chill undiluted Carnation in freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator until ice crystals appear. Or let the unopened can stand several hours on ice. Chill bowl and beater. Whip rapidly. For topping use, add 1/2 tablespoon lemon juice for each half-cup Carnation, after whipping to foamy stage. Whip stiff, sweeten to taste.

HOW'S YOUR FOOD BUDGET? Is it in the mood for a good, money-saving main-dish? Here's one. A delightfully moist, flavorful meat loaf, 6 servings from a pound of meat! Undiluted Carnation does grand things for the flavor and consistency of this — or your own favorite — meat loaf.

CARNATION MEAT LOAF
1 pound ground beef
1 egg
1 1/2 tps. salt
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 large can Carnation Milk
2 cups soft bread crumbs
Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Pack into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350°) for about 1 hour. Slice and serve — hot or cold.

In carving any meat, try as much as possible to cut across the grain.

WOMEN WHO KNOW THEIR GROCERIES!
I suppose the women who know the most about groceries are grocers' wives. They have so many kinds of food to choose from — and so many brands. I think it is significant that when it comes to evaporated milk, grocers' wives choose Carnation more than any other brand.

Two Can Sing

by James M. Cain
CHAPTER SEVEN

Part Three

That night Cecil and I ate in a quiet little place we had found where we were practically the only customers. After we ordered she said, "Did Rossi speak to you?" "Yes, he did." "Did he offer $150? He said he would." "He came up to $200." "What did you say?" "I said no." "Why?" "I'm no singer. What would I be doing trawling around with this outfit after you're gone?" "They play Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, and Pittsburgh before they swing west. I could visit you week-ends, maybe oftener than that. I — I might even make a flying trip out to the coast." "I'm not the type?" "Who is the type? ... Leonard. Let me ask you something. Is it because his $200 a week looks like chicken-feed to you? Is it because a big contractor makes a lot more than that?" "Sometimes he does. Right now he doesn't make a dime." "If that's what it is you're making a mistake. Leonard, everything has come out the way I said it would, hasn't it? Now, listen to me. With that voice, you can make money that a big contractor never heard of. After just one season with the American Scala Opera Company the Metropolitan will grab you sure. It isn't everybody can sing with the American Scala. Their standards are terribly high, and very well the Metropolitan knows it. Once you're in the Metropolitan, there's the radio, the phonograph, concert, moving pictures. Leonard, you can be rich. You — you can't help it." "Contracting's my trade." "All this — doesn't it mean anything to you?" "Yeah, for a gag." But not what you mean." "And, in addition to the money, there's fame —" "Don't want it." She sat there, and I saw her eyes begin to look wet. Then she said, "Oh, why don't we both tell the truth? You want to get back to New York — for what's waiting for you in New York. And I — I don't want you ever to go there again." "No, that's not it." "Yes, it is... I'm doing just exactly the opposite of what I thought I was doing when we started all this. I thought I would be the good fairy and bring you and her together again. And now, what am I doing? I'm trying to take you away from her. I'm just a home-wrecker." She looked comic as she said it, and I laughed and she laughed. Then she started to cry. I hadn't heard one word from Doris since I left New York. I had wired her from every hotel I had stopped at, and you would think she might have sent me a post card. There wasn't even that. I sat there, watching Cecil and trying to let her be a home-wrecker, as she called it. I knew she was well; I respected everything about her; I didn't have to be told she'd do anything for me. I tried to feel I was in love with her, so I could say let's both stay with this outfit and let the rest go hang, I couldn't. And then the next thing I knew I was crying too... We hit New York Monday morning. I put Cecil in a cab and went on home. On the way, I kept thinking what I was going to say. I had been away six weeks, and what had kept me that long? The best I could think of was that I had taken a swing around to look at "conditions." When I got home I let myself in, carried in my grip, and called to Doris. There was no answer. I went out in the kitchen, and it was empty. There wasn't a soul in the house. To be continued

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
