DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Our note in this column last week in which we referred to the pacer Star G. 2.09, owned by J. Harry Breen of Halifax some years ago and what a great race horse he was, brought to our office an admirer from the east who said he had owned Star G. since Mr. Breen and liked him very much. Due to circumstances he had to dispose of him and was greatly pleased to see him in splendid shape less than a week ago. He looked just like a young horse and his query was, how old is he? We looked him up and found that Star G. a bay gelding by the Ontario sire Peter G., was foaled in 1926 and won his first race at London, Ont., Sept. 15, 1931 in 2.14¼. He is therefore 26 years old.

There is quite a demand for Jollity colts and a few days ago Wylie A. Gould of Amherst, N.S., paid a visit to Victoria, P.E.I. and bought Jollity's Boy, dam, Mollie Grattan, from Charles Pooley. Mr. Gould was accompanied by L. F. Bickerton, owner of O.K. Volo 2.11¾. No less an authority than Cam Holland states that this colt would be very difficult to duplicate anywhere and, said Cam, you can travel to Kentucky if you like and won't find a better one. Our congratulations to Mr. Pooley and to the buyers, who have expectations of winning a hunk of the $5,000 Jollity Stake which is being sponsored by Truro Raceway, Ltd.

Our friend Dick Hegan of the Bank of Manhatten Company helps us with this column quite frequently and recent news from him is that Roosevelt Raceway will put up more purse money this season than ever before—$,503,000 and that the minimum purses have been raised from $1,500 to $2,000. There will be 108 nights of racing from May 26 to Sept. 27. During the first four weeks the Grand Circuit will be staged and will return in July for an extra three-week session. Twenty-nine stake races will be given during the four-month campaign with total purses for these amounting to $400,000. Among them will be the $50,000 Nassau Two-Mile Pace on July 31 and the $50,000 Roosevelt Two-Mile Trot on Sept. 11. Two earlier invitational stakes, the National Pacing Derby and the American Trotting Championship, will be contested July 3 and July 24 respectively. Both events are for $25,000.

In June two $20,000 contests are on tap, the Ben Downing Pace and the David McConnell Trot. On July 23 is the United States Harness Writers' Pace for $10,000. The last three are all over the mile and one-half distance. The remainder of the early closing events carry values from $5,000 to $10,000. A total of 867 entries have been received for the early closing program. Improvements at the track this year include a new six-lane entrance from Stewart Avenue. A new grooms' building has been erected in the paddock while the front of the grandstands has been given a face-lifting job to enlarge the seat capacity and provide greater aisle space. The track surface has been completely reconditioned and has been described as lightning fast.

The Harry Hirsch stable consisting of Super Hal 2.01¾, Annie Scott 2.03¼, Joan Chief 2.11¼, and Globetrotter 3, 2.11¾, which has been training at New Glasgow, N. S., race track, moved Sunday by truck for Foxboro Raceway, Foxboro, Mass. The three pacers will be driven by "Titter" Mauger and Annie Scott will have a U. S. A. driver up during their campaign of 75 nights at Foxboro. Super Hal had been up to miles in 2.15 prior to leaving and all the stables were very fit, particularly Globetrotter, that is expected to beat 2.10 considerably this year. The P. J. Cadegan stable arrived at Foxboro some time ago.

The anuual Sports Day at Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., on May 28, attracted a large crowd and was one of the best celebrations in the history of the town. Reporting it the Fort Qu'Appelle Times has: "Another Sports Day has come and gone. This one will be remembered for a long time. The weather was nearly perfect for the close to 6,000 people who milled around the grounds. The harness racing really caught on this year, which should make A. K. "Ollie" McNeill very happy. In addition to the harness racing there was an Indian pony race that was greatly enjoyed." The A. K. McNeill referred to is a brother of Wellington McNeill, Southport.

Dr. Stanton 2.00, that W. L. Fraser of Forest, Ont., bought for $500 a few years ago and converted to the pace and was the most talked of horse in the world for a season or two because of his winning the $50,000 pace in California, and other big stakes elsewhere, only to fade from view while others took the limelight, made a sensational comeback at Yonkers Raceway this spring when he won the $10,000 Bronx Pace from Dudley Hanover, winner of the $50,000 pace in California this season and reputedly the fastest horse in the world, and from Good Time, a horse with a whole series of world's records. The 11-year-old Dr. Stanton equalled the track record of 2.02 and paid $109 for a $2.00 ticket to win. The principal reason for the upset, we understand, was the fact that Mr. Fraser handed over the reins to the up and coming driver Dick Williams. Dick was one of the leading drivers at Santa Anita meet before he left for the east to race. Talking about Dr. Stanton during a recent trip to California we were told that if Mr. Fraser would put one of several drivers up behind his horse he had a chance of beating any of the pacers now racing and that statement has proved true.

Years ago the stable of Sullivan and Mawhinney, Machais, Me., was the greatest campaigned through New England and it was also a feature of the Fredericton Exhibition. The driver was tiny Henry Clukey, who had his horses schooled to turn very close to the wire and get away in a flash. It was Walter Dale, driven by him, that set up the track record at Fredericton of 2.02½, Sept. 13, 1934. The owners of the stable have passed on but Henry is still going strong and at Yonkers Raceway, which closed a short time ago, he drove 12 winners, was five times second and three times third to finish as the leading driver on the Universal Drivers Rating System with .367. Tops among the reinsmen in races won was Stanley Dancer with 20, closely followed by Billy Houghton with 17.

At a matinee at Brockton, Mass. May 18, Lucky Chief, owned by P. J. Cadegan and driven by Worrell Lewis, was 1-2 in the Class A Pace. Colonel Dan (MacDonald) was 2-1, Crusader Chief 3-3, Jollity Girl (Ryan) 4-4, time, 2.16½, 2.20. Colonel Dan and Jollity Girl are owned by Bob Ryan and Crusader Chief by P. J. Cadegan.

Wallace Nevers, well known horseman of Hartland, N.B., was in Charlottetown Wednesday to take possession of the 11-year-old pacing gelding, Lock Hanover 2.07¾, that he has purchased from Bert Yerxa, Sussex. Lock made 32 starts in 1951, was 6 times first, 10 times second and 4 times third, winning $1,684. His total winnings are $7,983, making him eligible to the 2.16 pace. He took his record in 1950 at Moncton, driven by Claude O'Brien. His three miles in that race, 2.07¾, 2.09, 2.09, were the fastest three heats in the Maritimes. Claude raced him all last year and this year has him in beautiful condition. A few days ago we saw him getting a light workout at the Charlottetown track and he could pace a two-minute shot easily, free-legged. This year he will be in the stable of Frankie Carr, who trained him for several years previous to Claude taking him over.

The trotter Baron 2.11, that has changed hands so many times in the last few years, has been sold by Roddie Ford of Hunter River, to Roy Kidney of Halifax, who took him over a few days ago.

"Maritime Central Airways did not go out raiding any teams for ball players," stated Roy McCabe yesterday afternoon as he watched the M.C.A. team going through their paces at Victoria Park. Roy was referring to charges by the heads of the Abegweit Club that M.C.A. and Curran and Briggs were taking the cream of the Abegweit pall players by offering them employment and thus commercializing the Island Baseball League.

* * *

"Actually the facts of the matters are these," continued Roy "Lorne Hennessey did not play for the Abbis this year. He told us he had not swung a bat for them, therefore he was eligible to play for any team he wished. Both Elmer MacNeill and Arnold MacCallum came to us seeking employment as did Des Trainor. We did not go out looking for ball players, rather we provided employment for those who were not working and who came to us seeking work.

* * *

"We could have more ball players but we did not wish to take any who wer already permanently employed," continued the M.C.A. baseball manager. "Those boys who came out to work with us are all clean cut young fellows who deserve an opportunity to work and make money for themselves. We are happy that we could give them permanent work and will be glad to have them play ball for us."

* * *

And so yesterday evening at five o'clock Elmer MacNeill, Arnold MacCallum and Lorne Hennessey punched an M.C.A. time clock for the first time. Along with them were Des Trainor and Glen Matheson. For these boys there will be a regular pay cheque each week and we can certainly find no fault where their finding steady employment, especially at work that also permits them to play some ball.

* * *

Coaching the Maritime Central Airways team is Tom MacFarlane, former Abegweit intermediate coach, who resigned last week-end. Tom had the M.C.A. nine out for an hour and a half's drill on Memorial Field yesterday evening and that club now shapes up as one of the teams to beat. At first they have Des Trainor and at second Lorne Hennessey. Glen Matheson was playing shortstop with Joe Pineau down at third. Pineau, however, is a question mark as he has a badly injured toe which forced him to retire early in yesterday's practice. In the outfield there is Irving MacKinnon, Kenny Wilson and Elmer MacNeil. Arnold MacCallum will do the receiving with MacAleer and Keillor doing the pitching.

* * *

Sunday afternoon at Memorial Field, the Summerside Intermediates will play their first game this season in Charlottetown. The Summerside Intermediates at first reports were having trouble rounding up a team but they now claim that they will be quite able to hold their own in local competition. One thing that they will have a lot of will be pitching if Joe Bernard and Alan Stewart can show the form of past seasons.

* * *

The Intermediate Abbies have been working out as often as the weather permits since their league start last Sunday. The Intermediates have a new coach in the person of "Husky" MacCabe, who knows his way around in baseball circles. "Husky" was appointed coach at a meeting last Thursday evening. Charlie Ryan will probably be the starting pitcher for the Intermediates.

Golf Scheduled This Week-end

The first stage in the President's Match will be played at the Belvedere Links over the week-end, it was learned here last night from Donald MacDonald. Along with the President's Match a sweepstake competition will be played.

The President's Match will be played in four stages with points allowed on each for best net scores. In the sweepstakes prizes will be awarded for low gross and low net.

Find Stolen Barbara Ann Scott Jewelry

TORONTO, June 6 —(CP)— A milk-truck driver today found a box containing jewelry stolen in April from the apartment here of skater Barbara Ann Scott.

Fred McMullen said he spotted the box under some evergreen trees while making his deliveries.

Besides the jewelry, most of which was presented to Miss Scott during her skating career, the box contained an empty wallet a Granite Club membership card and a number of personal papers.

A watch-box, believed to have contained a diamond-studded watch, was empty.

Holman's Intermediates Edge Out C. and B. 1-0

Alan Stewart of Holman's Intermediates and Benny Carson of Curran & Briggs Juniors engaged in a tight 7-inning pitching duel last evening at the Recreation Centre baseball diamond in Summerside, with Stewart and the Intermediates emerging victors by the score of 1-0. Stewart gave up four hits to the Curranites, while Carson was even more stingy, allowing the Holman nine only three safe bingles.

Stewart struck out thirteen and walked only two. Carson whiffed six and gave up two free passes also. Pius Gallant's shoe-string catch of Simmons' bid for a hit to left in the seventh inning, Delaney's fine stab of Stewart's hot grounder in the same frame were the feature fielding plays of the evening.

The Holman aggregation got their lone tally in the second inning. Gallant walked, and stole second. Doyle walked, and Williams forced him at second but Gallant scored on the play. Williams and Gay were both out in the same inning on close plays at the plate, which young Peter Green handled like a veteran catcher.

Millionaires To Be In Hockey Picture

SYDNEY, N. S., June 6—(CP)—Sydney Millionaires will be back in the hockey wars next season but whether as a major or senior outfit has yet to be decided, it was learned tonight following a meeting of Community Hockey Club directors.

A general meeting of shareholders and all interested persons will be held next Thursday to consider plans for the season.

E. W. (Gene) Connolly, honorary vice-president of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association, was named Sydney delegate to the annual meeting of the Maritime Major Hockey League at New Glasgow Sunday.

Directors said there is no commitment yet as to whether Millionaires will string along with major hockey or revert to Allan Cup play.

New York Fights

NEW YORK, June 6 —(AP) — Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu tonight smothered Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn., with a persistent inside attack to win a unanimous 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 161 1-4.

Most of the battle was fought at close range with Beau always moving into Olson's smashing crossfire. The 23-year-old Olson, a talented performer who went 15 rounds with Sugar Ray Robinson, never gave Beau punching room.

Olson would move in with his head pillowed on Beau's chest to send zinging hooks to the Negro's side. Short chopping rights bombed Beau's jaw all night, but he never faltered or took a backward step.

There were no knockdowns although in the seventh round Olson crashed home about 10 straight punches without return.

The smallest crowd of the year —2,463 paying $6,231—cheered the boys on as Beau tried to rally in the closing seconds. But Olson, a 3-to-1 favorite, was in command all the time.

June the lady in green, has turned this fair province into a veritable fairyland of beauty. Green clad hills and red fields extend to a blue horizon. June is one of my favorite months but October's golden stubble and hillsides aflame with Autumn's riot of colour and beauty and November's Indian Summer days when the heat haze shimmers over the alder swales and multi-coloured cock pheasants zoom upward into the blue, are my choice of months.

June is the month when Nature changes attire and the woodland and fields are teeming with new life. Robins are busy rearing broods and Cock pheasants are standing guard over the location of their Consorts nests. Crows are busy searching marshland, field and stream in search of food to feed nestling young. Jim Crow will not have plain sailing this summer. Plans are afoot for three County Crow Shooting Contests. Particulars will be furnished at a later date.

Every Crow shot means game or song birds saved either in the egg or fledgling stage. No later than yesterday I talked to an Orwell Cove farmer and sportsman. He told me that a couple of days ago he was harrowing a field near his back brook and watched four crows busy carrying eggs to their nests in his woodlot. They made several trips from the shore of Orwell Bay about a quarter mile distant from the field he was working. This farmer is a very observant individual and has been hunting for over 40 years. The eggs were carried by the simple expedient of driving their beaks in one end. The eggs were large and white. He told me that they were not the eggs of a black duck, as they are brown in color, but more likely a Shell Duck's nest had been robbed. On occasion a crow passed within 20 yards of the team and he could see the eggs plainly. A Shell Duck is not considered much of a game bird. This duck is officially called a Merganser. However, the crows make no distinction between species of ducks. . .an egg is an egg to them.

House cats are another type of predator that kills untold numbers of song and insectiverous birds, both young and adults, every year. On a morning this past week I was driving along a secondary dirt road when I espied a cat following a line fence. When she came to a short stubby spruce tree that stood by itself she stopped, lifted her head and sniffed the air.

I stopped the car and watched. She circled the tree and made a pass at climbing it but gave up the attempt. I could see her mouth working and knew she was uttering plaintive meow's although I couldn't hear them. I wished mightily that I was in a position to wipe that pained expression off her pan. Finally she turned and headed back toward a farmhouse in the distance. She was pretty slab-sided and I judged she was nursing a family of kittens.

I knew before I examined the tree that it held a robin's nest. The tree wasn't over 8 feet in height and the nest was in a thick cluster of boughs near the top. The trunk was small and studded thick with dead, prickly stubs of limbs. There was a reason for pussy staying on the ground. . . she couldn't make the grade. Such carryings on are common place occurrances in every corner of the province.

When I farmed for years before moving to the city cats were an unwanted commodity. I allowed one family cat on the premises but she was incarcerated in a fox pen from May until September. My experiences with cats in respect to bird life were all in the red. Here is an example: One spring morning I picked up a gate on the line fence beside the orchard that had fallen down in the fall. As I lifted it from the mat of grass a song sparrow flew off chirping in distress. The cause was a nest holding 5 eggs that had been built under one of the boards with which the gate had been constructed.

I gently placed the gate back on the ground and built a new one. All went well with the eggs. In due course 5 little song birds filled it to the brim. One morning when I arose I sensed trouble. Both parent birds were fluttering about and crying piteously. When I looked I saw that the nest had been neatly hooked out from under the board by the muscular fore paw of a big tomcat. I know. . I nailed him with a .22 cal. rifle two days later.

Cats as a rule, gave my farm a wide berth. When one did move in the birds let me know in short order. Their visitations became less and less and finally stopped altogether. It was all same as if a sign had been posted in cat language: Abandon hope all ye who enter here. When I finally gave up farming and moved to the city the orchard and hedgerows were filled with a wealth of bird life. There were literally hundreds of birds of many different species. A year or so later, deprived of the protection a 22 rifle afforded, they were scattered to the four winds. Incidentally crows, bronze grackles and English sparrows were meted out doses of lead the same as the cats.

Jersey Joe Will Fight In Sept. If I. B. C, Will Pay 45 p. c. Of Gate

(By Jack Hand)

PHILADELPHIA, June 6—(AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott's manager today demanded 45 per cent—or else—from the International Boxing Club for a September heavyweight title defence against Rocky Marciano or Harry Matthews.

"We're interested in making money," said Felix Bocchicchio as he sat in the office of his Camden, N. J. Athletic Club with his heavyweight champion.

"September suits us," he said. "If the I.B.C. comes up with a good match and the champion's share of 45 per cent of everything —gate, television and movies.

"Matthews is a logical opponent. So is Marciano. Clarence Henry? No, I don't think he'd draw enough money. Joey Maxim is in the picture, too.

"Charles? As far as we're concerned, Charles is definitely through."

Walcott's unanimous decision victory over Charles in his first title defence last night at Municipal Stadium was the fourth meeting of the two Negroes.

While Felix talked, Walcott sat nearby, massaging a swollen right hand. He said he injured the hand in the seventh round last night. It was believed to be only a sprain.

Walcott said his 11-month layoff since winning the title hadn't bothered him. He expects to take a brief rest before making definite future plans.

The 38-year-old champion, oldest ever to wear the crown, stoutly defends as his corrcet age the announced 38. He was annoyed that it should be questioned.

"When I swear on my six kids about something," he said, "It really hurts you to be questioned . . . I'm 38 and I don't want to take credit for any more.

"I feel satisfied that people now realize it was no fluke punch that made me champion."

Charles, preparing to return to Cincinnati tonight, planned a new campaign to take him to the top. He probably will be sidelined a month with eye cuts.

"I'm ready to take them all," said Charles, "Marciano, Matthews, Coley Wallace, Roland La Starza — anybody that thinks they stand in the way of me getting back to the top."

Intermediate Abbies Meet S'side Sunday

The Summerside Intermediates and the Intermediate Abbies will meet Sunday afternoon at Memorial Field in what promises to be one of the best games of the Island Baseball League. The Summerside Intermediates defeated Curran and Briggs in their start while the Abbies lost to the Junior Abbies by one run last Sunday. The game will get underway at two o'clock.
