

The World's Exposition. A Summing Up.

In the short sketches of the World's Columbian Exhibition which have been given by THE EXAMINER, the main great features of the show have been briefly outlined.

We have not attempted to describe the buildings of the foreign nations, for the reason that most of them are still unready and that many of them do not contain anything worthy of particular notice.

Notes and Comments.

It is stated that the grit convention at Georgetown was a lame affair—only twenty-three or twenty-four persons present.

Surrounded by all the members of her family, except one son, at present Chief Surgeon of the Duke of Cornwall's regiment, Eleanor, relict of the late Edmund John MacMahon, Commissar General, passed peacefully away at noon to-day.

Personal.

Malcolm Macdonald, Esq., of Georgetown is registered at the Hotel Davies.

Mr. Warren J. Miller, of Miller Bros., returned from his trip to the West Indies on Saturday evening.

James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, fell from a carriage at Paris on Wednesday last, and at latest accounts was in a very critical condition.

Joseph Warren has tendered his resignation as a member of the police force, preparatory to leaving for Duluth, Minn., where he will reside in future.

The St. John Telegraph says: Rev. A. A. Bryant, who has been for some time conducting services at St. Paul's Church, will give up his charge on Wednesday.

It is a mistake to suppose, as many do, that the exhibits of each country are kept separate and may or may not be locked up on Sunday.

Another popular misapprehension is found in respect to the cost of living in Chicago. A person can, of course, live expensively there if he chooses to do so.

The best thing to do on arrival at Chicago, is to go direct to one of the hotels near the World's Fair grounds—seven or eight miles from the city proper.

Wherever there is a crowd there is, of course, danger of being cheated and robbed. This danger is not greater in Chicago than elsewhere.

Millionaires as Murderers.

NO PLACE IN HEAVEN FOR RICH MEN WHO HAVE NO COMPASSION.

"No murderer shall enter the kingdom of heaven," was the subject of Father Thomas J. Dacey's discourse at St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church, New York, on Sunday last.

"There is no place in heaven," he said, "for those millionaires who have no compassion for their fellow men in starvation."

"Not only is this great sin being daily committed, but the poor struggling women are being constantly ground into a state of poverty by unscrupulous and designing millionaires that they may be forced into the great army of disolute women."

"We cannot serve God, no matter to what religious denomination we belong, if we do not have justice, and there can be no justice where grasping, grinding capital takes advantage of distress and poverty to make the labor of millions contribute still more to the piling up of wealth in the hands of a few, it is murder!"

"Many a millionaire in our city employs men at $7 a week and expects them to support a family on the pittance. Yet that millionaire expects to enter heaven. It is his brother commits more than the individual murderer. He commits a crime against society. Such a man may be a true husband and a faithful father, but he cannot hope to enter into heaven."

"We cannot serve God, no matter to what religious denomination we belong, if we do not have justice, and there can be no justice where grasping, grinding capital takes advantage of distress and poverty to make the labor of millions contribute still more to the piling up of wealth in the hands of a few, it is murder!"

Senator John Sherman has sent a letter to the Republican State Convention, endorsing Governor McKinley for renomination.

The enormous rainfall of the past three weeks has injured the corn and cotton crops in South Carolina fully 30 per cent.

June 9 has been set apart as a national day in the United States schools in order to celebrate the adoption of the American flag. Probably a million children will take part in the event.

The power of the press has for some time been proverbial. To-day it is being recognized. Mr. Gladstone is showing knight-hoods and baronetcies upon British editors, and President Cleveland has appointed an editor as a member of his cabinet, and a dozen others to important diplomatic posts.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Montreal News.

Sir William Dawson will retire next week from the principality of McGill University. He will be given an annuity by the institution. If a McGill man is chosen as his successor, it will be probably Vice Principal Johnson.

Another disastrous fire took place yesterday afternoon near the city, and before the flames were through with their work, the parish church of Longue Point, built in 1724, the priests house, and four smaller buildings were destroyed.

Alleged Judicial Favoritism.

The St. John Globe of Saturday contained some sensational reflections on the alleged conduct of Judge Palmer in the Equity Court. Among other allegations, it is charged that the Equity Court favors the Judge's relatives, and that the Judge's son finds it profitable to practice before his father.

Mader Sentenced.

William Mader, condemned for the manslaughter of Denny Hyson, has been sentenced by Judge Henry to four years imprisonment in Dorchester penitentiary.

The Oar.

The three-mile professional single-outrigger race for $2,500 was won by Gaudaur in 19 minutes and 18 seconds, beating the record. Peterson was second.

General Telegraphic News.

FARGO, N. D., June 9.—The big fire here was under control by five o'clock yesterday morning, though still a number of fires were burning in different parts of the city. A statement is given out that a number of insurance men estimated the loss on insured property at $2,800,000, and 500,000 more on residences in the outskirts insured. The district burned is over three blocks wide and five blocks long. Many people are reported missing. A large fund has been raised to aid the $5,000 homeless and needy people.

TORONTO, June 9.—The address of Prof. John Campbell, of the Presbyterian college, which has lately been the subject of hostile criticism, in the Toronto press on the ground of its containing unorthodox doctrine, is to come before the church courts. The moderator of the Montreal Presbytery has issued the following notice:

At the request of the necessary number of members of the Presbytery, Messrs. Dewey, Nichols and Vaul, I hereby call a pro rata meeting of Presbytery, to be held in Erin's Church, Montreal, June 12th, at 10 a. m., to consider what action, if any, should be taken in regard to certain statements reported to have been made by Rev. Professor John Campbell, a member of this court, in a recent lecture delivered by him entitled "The perfect book or the perfect father."

GRAND PRIX, June 9.—A sad accident occurred on the track, near Grand Prix, this morning. Mr. Henry Fuller, a middle-aged woman, was burning rubbish in her yard, when her cotton dress caught fire and she was in flames in a moment. She ran towards a neighbor, and was met by two or three who did their best to save her. Her clothing was torn off and she was rolled on the ground, and finally carried to her home. She was terribly burned; her whole body, from chin to ankles, is a hardened crisp, and there is little hope she will live many hours. All that could be done to relieve her suffering was done, but her agony is intense.

TERREBONNE, Que., June 9.—Thirty years ago three friends attended the old Terrebonne College, their names being Joseph Adolphe Chapleau, Louis Oliver Dailion and Alphonse Desjardins. The first named is now governor of Quebec; the second prime minister of the same province; and the third mayor of Montreal. Upon the governor's return from Paris, citizens of this country will tender a reception to these three distinguished men.

Read What the "Guardian" Says.

Extract from the "Guardian" of May 22nd.

SUCCESS.—James Paton & Co's show on Saturday was a complete success. Hundreds and hundreds visited the Store during the day and evening, and were immensely well pleased with what they saw—and bought. The display of Dry Goods was second to none ever shown here, and the Carpet Department was the centre of attraction. We will not attempt to describe it here, but will simply say that it was magnificent and well worth a visit. The Show will be continued.

The above is what the Guardian says. Hundreds of customers testify to the ability of the above Firm to sell goods cheap. We try to please everybody, and will be delighted to see our friends from the country this week. We have hundreds of Bargains for you. We are too busy to particularize goods or prices, but invite you to call.
