New Chief Of Staff Holds Press Meeting

OTTAWA, (CP)—Lt.-Gen. Howard Graham, new chief of the general staff, said Thursday some "pretty revolutionary" changes in the Canadian Army may be in the offing.

He told a press conference on the day he took over as army chief that there are bound to be changes in the army but most of them would be evolutionary rather than revolutionary.

But with the possibility of atomic war, "we mustn't take too long to do the evolving," he added.

He said the guided missile program is going along very well but could not say at the moment how soon the army might be expected to acquire such weapons.

He said he had "hardly got the seat warm yet" so that he couldn't reply to all questions.

He ducked a question about his views on conscription in this manner: "That's really a fast ball," he said.

Gen. Simonds publicly advocated compulsory military training though he was quick to add that this was a political matter.

Asked whether Canada might relax its defence effort in view of the apparent new atmosphere stemming from Moscow, Gen. Graham replied: "One swallow doesn't make a summer."

Mauled By Black Bear

HULL, Que. (CP)—Percy Haney, lying in hospital with his arms and legs badly mauled, told Thursday how he fought for his life against a 400-pound black bear.

He said he wouldn't be alive if it weren't for his husky mongrel dog, Dinky.

Haney, a 23-year-old farmer, said the bear attacked him Wednesday in thick brush on his farm near Danford Lake, some 35 miles north of here.

He said the fight lasted nearly 30 minutes. Twice the 10-year-old mongrel dashed in and distracted the bear, who was clawing and biting Haney's legs as they wrestled.

Haney said he finally managed to pull himself aside as the bear and dog fought. Then the bear tossed the dog aside and approached him, but for some reason stopped.

"Somehow I gained enough strength to make a dash for my car," Haney said. "The dog made another attack and again they wrestled."

When he reached the car, he called his dog and both of them escaped.

Haney said that when he gets out of hospital he will "get a gun and shoot that monster."

Russians Jarred By Mob Cut Short Winnipeg Visit

WINNIPEG (CP) — Nine Russian farm experts, who were invited by an anti-Communist mob to give a demonstration, were jarred by a mob and cut short their visit to Winnipeg.

At a brief ceremony, Acting Mayor Jack Blumberg presented the visitors with badges bearing the Winnipeg coat of arms. Speaking of Wednesday night's demonstration, Mr. Blumberg said: "It was appalling."

Federal officials announced that the Russians will not visit Windsor and Guelph, Ont., as originally planned. Earlier, a scheduled visit to Fort William also was cancelled.

The Russians, completing a tour of western farms, remained in their hotel until 11 a. m. Thursday and held a two-hour conference before setting out for the Winnipeg grain exchange in the heart of the city under police escort.

The party spent about 90 minutes at the board's offices viewing research and inspection laboratories and a film on grain handling. The visit ended abruptly when newspaper men were told to pack bags for an immediate departure for eastern Canada.

The Russians were whisked out a rear door and went direct to Stevenson Field without stopping for lunch. They planned to eat sandwiches en route east.

While they were in the grain exchange building a large crowd gathered outside but there was no sign of a demonstration. Several persons started running and shouting when it was learned the Russians had left.

A heavy guard of RCMP and city police, both in uniform and plain clothes, was stationed at the airport and on the ramp to prevent any further demonstration. There was none.

Notes Transformation In Canadian Foreign Policy

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (CP) — The transformation in Canadian foreign policy in recent years has been just as striking as changes in the Canadian economy.

Mr. Martin returned to a theme often discussed by External Affairs Minister Pearson — Canadian-American trade. He said: "Our two economies are so closely intertwined that we are naturally deeply concerned—and, in my view, legitimately concerned—with your policies, whether in foreign affairs or in international commerce."

"These matters are, of course, your own affairs and these you must decide, as do we, in what you consider to be the essential interests of your country."

Wife of British M. P. Released On $10,000 Bail

MONTREAL (CP) — Mrs. Liliane Pursey, 42-year-old wife of a Labor member of the British Parliament, was ordered for voluntary statement Sept. 8 following preliminary hearing Thursday on a charge of illegal possession of weapons.

When judge Omer Legrand announced bail of $10,000, the former baroness Huszar of Hungary exclaimed: "Ten thousand dollars!"

Her counsel, Myer Gross, turned and motioned her to remain quiet. Pierre Robert LeMoine, 27-year-old French immigrant arrested about the same time as Mrs. Pursey, was also ordered for voluntary statement Sept. 8 on a similar charge. Judge Legrand agreed to fix LeMoine's bail at two bonds of $950 each.

Under legal procedure in Quebec, Mrs. Pursey and LeMoine may offer defence evidence or waive this right when they appear for voluntary statement. The procedure usually is a step between preliminary hearing and trial.

Constable Ronald Crevier of the RCMP testified that when he and other officers went to Mrs. Pursey's hotel room about 3 p. m. Aug. 27 she was wearing white step-ins and a white brassiere. She was seated on the bed making a telephone call. She was asked to dress, whereupon she donned red pyjamas.

The officers searched the room and found vials and pills which they seized and turned over to federal analysts. Mrs. Pursey has been in custody since.
