Suggests Canada Participate In Supervision of Indo-China Truce

GENEVA, (Reuters)—Canada was mentioned Friday as a possible member of a neutral commission which would supervise an Indo-China truce.

The proposal was made by Foreign Minister Tep Phan of Cambodia, one of the three associated states of Indo-China, at a closed session of the nine-power Indo-China peace talks.

He offered the names of seven nations—Canada, India, Pakistan, Burma, Italy, Japan and the Philippines—and suggested the conference select three to make up the truce commission.

Canada is represented at Korean peace talks in Geneva but not at the Indo-China conferences.

Reaction to Friday's proposal was not immediately disclosed, although reports from the meeting were that delegates had failed to make any headway on the key problems of determining the composition and functions of a neutral nations commission to supervise an armistice.

The list offered Friday by Cambodia did not contain a Communist country, reflecting the Western view that Red nations cannot be neutral and therefore should not serve on a truce commission.

Delegates of the Soviet Union, Red China and the Communist rebel Vietminh regime are insisting on Communist representation on the commission and have proposed Poland and Czechoslovakia.

However, at Friday's meeting Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov was reported to have accepted an American proposal made Thursday that negotiations on composition of the neutral commission continue in private talks.

One decision from Friday's 12th closed session was to hold an open meeting next Tuesday.

Today, the delegates will focus their attention once again on the Far East's other main headache—a Korean settlement. The 19 participating nations will meet for the first time since last Saturday in another effort to break a major deadlock.

May Sell Liquor On Ontario Trains

TORONTO, (CP)—Canada's railways appear close to getting official sanction to sell liquor on their trans-continental trains in Ontario.

When applications were heard Friday from the CNR and CPR for permission to sell liquor in the dining and club cars of their trains, Judge W. T. Robb, chairman of the Ontario liquor licence board, suggested legal sale of liquor on trains would put a stop to people bringing their own bottles of liquor into trains.

"I am satisfied that if we grant these applications, the railways will be scrupulous in handling the situation."

A group of temperance representatives were on hand to object to the applications. Rev. Carl Farmer, Baptist minister, suggested that under the present law it isn't legal to drink on trains.

"I don't know about that," replied Judge Robb, "but I know it's being done and I think if the railways were given a licence to sell liquor they could stop the illegal drinking to some extent."

Both railways plan at present to serve liquor only with meals and in the club or observation cars. Liquor would come in sealed bottles containing 1.6 ounces and the seal would be broken by the waiter. Empty bottles would have to be accounted for, thus avoiding any illegal sale by waiters.

Third Canadian Infantry Division Invades France On D-Day Anniversary

SOUTHAMPTON, England (CP)—The 3rd Canadian infantry division, which stormed the coast of France from assault boats 10 years ago Sunday, sailed Friday night on a second "invasion" from this southern England assembly area.

CIVIC HONORS

The Canadians will be feted by the city of Caen, rebuilt after the destruction of war, at a dinner tonight. Then they will join the mammoth French celebrations of the landings on Sunday and proceed north through former campaigning areas until June 11.

Monday the division will parade its colors which were deposited in the Ghent city hall in 1944 when the formation was guest of that Belgian city following a long, hard battle in the Scheldt estuary.

The Canadian anniversary party was assembled in full strength here Friday following the morning's embarkation of the main group which had come from Canada by ship. Two smaller groups crossed by air earlier this week.

Most every unit in "Third Div" is represented, and all ranks from private to general.

Officially representing the North Shore (NB) Regiment is Pte. Lorne Matchel and his wife, both of Newcastle, N.B. For them the trip is a "second honeymoon."

Comments On Plebiscite Marketing Board Potato Dealers Farm Federation

"The satisfactory measure of support given to the Potato Marketing Board by the potato producers of the Province in the election just concluded will have a far reaching effect on future marketing policies in Eastern Canada," said Mr. Donald A. MacDonald, chairman of the Board, in a statement issued last evening.

"The members of the Provincial Marketing Board are to be commended in the efficient and fair manner in which the expression of opinion on the part of producers was obtained, and the officials of the P. E. I. Federation of Agriculture who made every effort to have the views of all concerned fairly placed before the public, are now justified in assuming that their efforts during the past number of years, on behalf of Island producers, are recognized. Such recognition is a deserving tribute to the men and women who have unselfishly served as Federation Directors and should again establish this belief and will, I am sure, be an additional incentive for the Potato Board members to make an even greater effort to serve the Island Potato Industry in the years that lie ahead."

"From the vote polled," the Association spokesman states, "it would appear that about 40% of the growers of the province were strongly enough behind the Pool idea to cast their votes in favor of it. About twelve hundred growers have evidently not procured licenses so had no vote, and a further sixteen hundred did not bother to return their ballots, either through apathy or because the question was obscure. Eighteen hundred and forty-five voiced their objections. In other fields it has been the policy to permit Marketing Boards to control the industry only when they have the solid backing of at least two thirds of the producers, representing two-thirds of the acreage."

"During the season now ending, the dealers have co-operated with the Selling Agency in carrying out this year's agreement, but unless a better agreement can be reached with the Federal authorities, or a worse marketing problem should be encountered, we see no need for co-operating with the Board in its function of promotional and educational work, and suggest that the actual marketing be left with the dealers who are regularly in contact with all markets and evidently capable of doing their work to the satisfaction of most producers."

"In the event of other emergency periods being encountered in the future, we would hope to work out with the Board the measures requisite to the occasion."

"Now that the Plebiscite is over it is the hope of the Federation that all concerned in the industry will co-operate with the Potato Board in the development of the industry and the protection of the individual grower. The strong feelings developed during the campaign should now be forgotten and in their place be developed a firm resolve to work in harmony for the good of all concerned."

"The results of the Plebiscite should be cause for much satisfaction to the members of the Potato Board who have given of their time and ability in the interest of the industry. Board members can now proceed with greater confidence in the knowledge that they are backed by a very satisfactory majority. The Provincial Marketing Board has conducted the Plebiscite fairly and is to be commended for the efficiency with which the operation was carried out."

The seven others arraigned indicated they would not enter guilty pleas. They are: Aurele Gallant, Gerald Gauthier, Leon Fougere, Arthur Gallant, Donald Gallant, Auzime Fougere and Alonzo Gauthier.

Leon Fougere faces the largest number of charges, 11, and Donald Gallant the least one.

McCann The Next Finance Minister?

OTTAWA (CP)—Will Revenue Minister McCann be the next finance minister? For a few seconds in the Commons Friday, observers thought he gave them a tip.

Either Dr. McCann or Justice Minister Garson have been rumored slated for the finance portfolio which Finance Minister Abbott has said he will relinquish soon.

"Not yet," interjected Stanley Knowles CCF-Winnipeg (North Centre).

"Not yet," repeated Dr. McCann pausing several seconds before adding what appeared to be an afterthought: "And I hope I may continue to say 'not yet.'"

Big Disclosures In McCarthy Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy-army investigators learned by way of monitored phone calls Friday that Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.-Mo.) joined forces with the army side early in the dispute—and recommended that Clark Clifford, former top aide to President Truman, be engaged as lawyer for the army.

William P. Rogers, deputy attorney-general in the Eisenhower administration, also was linked through a phone call between Symington and Army Secretary Robert Stevens—with the army's cause.

A third major disclosure was that Stevens told Symington in a phone call March 8—just before the army started the present row by filing "pressure" charges against McCarthy and his aides—that he thought the charges were "very much exaggerated."

"I think it has been a hell of a lot of talk, and I don't think there is too much there," Stevens said, although he added that he did not "have any particular knowledge" which involved allegations that the McCarthy group had pressed for favored treatment for Pte. G. David Schine one time consultant to the McCarthy committee.

Production of the long-secret, mostly word-for-word transcripts—now finally going into the record after six weeks of deadlock—touched off one of the stormiest scenes since the hearings began.

Claims Five Day Cure Of Polio

VANCOUVER (CP)—The chiropractic profession has "found the cause of polio... and we have the cure," Dr. E. R. Dunn says.

Dr. Dunn, of the Dunn Polio Clinic, Oklahoma City, Okla., made the statement to the western Canada chiropractic convention here Thursday.

He said a five-day cure is possible if polio is discovered within three days of contact and cited fatigue, injuries and tension as the main causes.

"Polio can sometimes be cured more quickly than measles," he said. "A survey made by the New York City health department in 1945 appears to indicate the disease is not necessarily contagious. Out of 1,558 polio cases surveyed, many were put in isolation wards, but 388 were treated at general hospitals in wards."

Stevens has accused McCarthy of "abusing" Zwicker in one of his investigations. McCarthy has denied the charge.
