

Happenings of The Week

It is reported that the King, accompanied by Queen Elizabeth, will interrupt his holiday in Scotland to return to London for treatment of a recurrent lung ailment.

His Royal Highness Prince Axel of Denmark is at present visiting Canada, and was received by the Governor General at Government House in Ottawa on Monday morning.

Hon. Dr. J. J. McCann, accompanied by Mrs. McCann and several senior officials of his department, called on His Honour, Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse on Wednesday.

Governor Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, called on the Lieutenant Governor on Friday morning. Governor Adams, accompanied by Mrs. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooper of Rochester, N. Y., has been visiting here and is lavish in his praise of the Island and its people.

Mayor and Mrs. B. Earle MacDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling MacDonald are leaving tomorrow on a motor trip to Wilmington, Delaware.

Miss Grace Holden, who has been the guest of Mayor and Mrs. B. Earle MacDonald left this week on return to her home in Toronto.

Mr. Bert Dick, a former manager of the Bank of Montreal here, and Mrs. Dick, who are living in Hartland, N. B., were visitors on the Island for a few days this week before going on to the States.

Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Whidden of Tatamagouche, N. S. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. J. A. Brown and Miss Suzanne Brenton.

Mrs. W. F. Brown and her daughters Valerie and Jean, returned to their home in Montreal on Monday after spending three weeks with Mrs. Brown's daughter, Mrs. I. A. Burnett and Mr. Burnett.

Mr. J. A. McMillan entertained at a buffet supper Thursday after the races for members of the medical profession attending the annual P. E. I. Medical Convention. Present were the officers and members of the executive and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. Ross of Halifax, Dr. and Mrs. Church and other special speakers at the convention.

Dr. H. H. Shaw has left to attend a meeting of the Canadian Educational Association, of which he is a past-president, in Edmonton. On the way he will visit his daughter in Montreal, and after the meeting will go on to the West Coast.

Mr. R. E. Kemp entertained at a dinner at "The Charlottetown" on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. V. Newson of Edmonton is visiting her son, Rev. David Newson in New Jersey after spending the summer with her family at Inkerman.

Hostesses at the Golf Club tea this afternoon are Mrs. E. D. Nicholson, Mrs. A. Bruce, Mrs. A. J. Haslam and Miss Mona Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Halifax are guests at "The Charlottetown".

Miss Estelle B. Stewart of Brighton, Mass., returned by plane to her home on Wednesday after holidaying on the Island for three weeks. While here she was the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Stanley L. Carr of Tryon, and her aunt, Mrs. Martha MacLeod, Bridgetown-Dundas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hopkins entertained at their home in Summerside on Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Merriam, Wolfville, N. S.

Mrs. M. Connell and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald left Summerside on Wednesday morning on a visit to Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Walter Dombelle of Fredericton, N. B., arrived in Summerside this week to visit her sister, Mrs. R. B. Rankin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Montgomery and young son, Robert, of Sydney, N. S., spent their vacation in Summerside, as guests of the former's mother, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery.

The young daughters, Gail and Heather, of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Montgomery, have returned to their home in Charlottetown after spending the summer with their grandmothers, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery and Mrs. A. W. Leard, Summerside.

Choose a dramatic fabric for this cape stole, an easy-to-make accessory for dresses with softly draped lines. Black and white zebra fabric is a striking pattern for your stole. The two fronts fall below the hips, can be worn loose or tucked under a belt. The cape top comes almost to the waistline in back. If you wish to have directions for making this FAKE ZEBRA FUR STOLE, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. E-2790.

Morning Smile

Maybe

An elderly woman had been to hear his nephew preach for the first time, and she thought it a flowing, "so I asked her why she very poor sermon. Later in the day didn't jump into the river."

MacRae-Arnfast Wedding

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized in Trinity United Church at 12:30 P.M. on Monday, September 3, when Sonia Dorothy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Esben Arnfast, became the bride of Edwin Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. MacRae, East Royalty.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. T. Irwin amid a profusion of gladioli, dahlias and other autumn flowers.

The wedding music was under the capable direction of Mrs. Allison MacRae. Miss Betty Jean Ebers sang "Oh Promise Me" before the bridal party entered the church, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with lace yoke and inserts of chantilly lace, with a chapel train sweeping from a moulded bodice which was buttoned up the back with tiny covered buttons and the long sleeves came to points over the hands. Her circular veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Miss Velma Good, friend of the bride, acted as maid of honour and Miss Anna MacRae, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Their gowns were of similar design fashioned with full skirts and fitted bodices with Peter Pan collars. Miss Good's gown was of orchid nylon net over taffeta, with matching headpiece and mitts and she carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli. Miss MacRae was gowned in yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching headpiece and mitts and her bouquet was of orchid gladioli.

Mr. Guy Stewart of Dunstaffnage acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Harold MacRae and Mr. Allison MacRae, brother and cousin of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Arnfast chose a gown of aqua and black taffeta with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink gladioli.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Charlottetown Hotel. The tables were decorated with bouquets of snapdragons and the bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by candelabra.

The toast to the bride was proposed by the Reverend Mr. Irwin and fittingly responded to by the groom.

Later the happy couple left by car on a honeymoon trip to Cape Breton and points of interest in Nova Scotia.

For her going away costume the bride chose a suit of navy tricotine with navy and pink accessories. Her hat was of navy velvet with pink feather trim.

On their return the young couple will reside at East Royalty where the groom is a successful farmer.

Previous to her marriage the bride was honoured at several social functions when she was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

A host of friends join in wishing this young couple many years of wedded happiness.

Stordy-Clarkin Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Stordy are pictured above, following their wedding on August 15th at St. Ann's Church, Lot 65. Seated in front is the bride, the former Patricia Clarkin. Standing, left to right are the bridesmaid, Miss Edna Stordy, the groom, and the groomsmen, Mr. Richard Clarkin.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Ann's Church, Lot 65 on August 15 when Mary Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Clarkin, New Wiltshire, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to John Francis Stordy, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Stordy, Kelly's Cross. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. McCormac who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

To the strains of the Bridal March played by Miss Mary Ellen McElroy the bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her away in marriage.

The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of white satin with a netting overskirt and a sweetheart neckline and a floor-length veil held in place by a coronet of seed head and bugle pearls with French tulle illusion. She carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

She was attended by Miss Edna Stordy, sister of the groom, who wore a floor-length gown of blue taffeta with pink accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

The ushers were Mr. Raymond Stordy and Mr. Leo Clarkin. The bride's mother wore a green dress with pink accessories, while the groom's mother was dressed in black with white accessories.

During the wedding Mass beautiful hymns were rendered by Mrs. Amos Callaghan.

Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride where about eighty guests were present.

Following the wedding breakfast the happy couple left on a two weeks honeymoon to the U. S. A. where they visited many friends and relatives. The bride chose for travelling a grey gabardine suit with red accessories. The happy couple plan on making their home in Toronto.

Prior to her marriage Patricia was tendered a shower at her home where she received many gifts and a large sum of money.

Alice Brooks Designs

PRAYER FOR A CHILD

Little children love this prayer! And, since you have always loved it, why not embroider this panel, in a neat stitchery, frame or line it for the children's room!

Give this to your child or God-child. A Perfect gift. Pattern C7087 has transfer 16x19 1/2 inches. Send Twenty-five cents in coins for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to ALICE BROOKS Designs, c/o The Guardian, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ontario. Please print plainly Name, Address, Pattern Number.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is the expression, "Young lady" in good usage?

A. No. "Girl" is proper, according to good usage, for any unmarried young woman not in business, and not older than the early twenties.

Q. What should one do when paying an unexpected call on a friend and one finds that the friend already has a guest?

A. Remain for a few minutes, exchange a few pleasantries, and then leave.

Q. Is a hostess supposed to provide cigarettes for a bridge party?

A. This isn't exactly required, but it is a very nice thing to do.

Q. Is a hostess supposed to provide cigarettes for a bridge party?

A. This isn't exactly required, but it is a very nice thing to do.

Q. Is a hostess supposed to provide cigarettes for a bridge party?

A. This isn't exactly required, but it is a very nice thing to do.

Household Scrapbook

By Roberta Lee

Extra Precaution

Time should be taken to strain dye through muslin before adding it to the water. Then there is no danger of spoiling the article by a few particles of undissolved dye spotting it.

Sandwich Filling

The liquid left over from mustard pickles is excellent to mix with chopped meat or fish and use in sandwich fillings.

Too Soiled

It is a savings to linens and clothing not to allow them to get too soiled before laundering. Hard rubbing is what wears out the linens, as well as the laundress.

The Stars Say

By Genevieve Kemble

For Tomorrow

WHILE excellent auguries are accented with signs of popularity, favors from higher-ups and the fair sex, the latter contacts are likely to develop into indiscretions, overwhelming emotions and feelings, and it is advisable to fortify against such calamities, since scandal, loss, secret dealings, could prove hazardous to health and reputation. Shun all illicit doings.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are urged to take advantage of contacts with the high and mighty of both sexes. In such relations there are indications and allures of exceptional promise and enjoyment, yet the element of treachery, regret, loss of funds and prestige is evident if decisions be based on emotions.

A child born on this day may be disposed to express self-sufficiency perhaps delusion and secret afflictions and indulgences, to its great detriment.

Day After Tomorrow

THE astrological forecast is a conflicting one. There are signs of over-conflict, stressed zeal and enthusiasm, which are likely to challenge opposition, quarrels and loss of opportunity and standing with superiors. Temper and temperament beget criticism, enmity and misery.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are urged to become their own worst enemies, spoiling excellent chances.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

"PROTECTIVE" FOODS PREVENT MANY AILMENTS

When an individual who has been suffering with indigestion for years tries out a new diet and finds that it agrees with him, it is only natural for him to pass the good word along and tell his friends, everybody he meets, in fact, that this new diet may be a sensible all-round diet but the fact that it doesn't cause indigestion does not mean that it is a body-building diet or a complete diet.

Unfortunately, the originators of these new diets advise people not to use the everyday diets used by the majority of people, pointing out that the flour in bread is so refined that roughage, vitamins and minerals are omitted, and only bread with all its minerals and vitamins should be used. And the meat, white bread, potato and sugar foods are said to be responsible for most of the ailments of today — indigestion, decay of teeth, poor eyesight, constipation, hardening of the arteries and other defects and deficiencies of the body.

Now all these condemned foods are good foods and should be eaten daily but other foods should also be eaten to offset the lack of vitamins, minerals and roughage.

In their book, "Food, Nutrition and Health," Drs. E. V. McCollum and J. Ernestine Becker, Johns Hopkins University, outstanding authorities on food and health, state that we really should not worry about our diet and its defects and deficiencies. We should not try to live by the book, which often means extra work for the housewife and a "picky" or "choosy" diet for members of the household. These research workers, whose work I have mentioned before, make the task of arriving at a perfect diet for the whole household a very simple matter. This is just the addition or the everyday use of what they call

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

ELLEN'S DIARY

By an Island Farmer's Wife

Loving the sunlight that spreads is mellow glory over the farmlands, sighing with all the farm-folks when the progress of the harvesting is halted by mists and showers, so now we spend our days.

With James, husband of ours, reading the message the wind is writing on the pond for us in the dewy freshness of morning, looking for a favorable sign of the morrow in the sunsets. "Lizzen!" Jamie said this evening when it had been our chore to turn the cows to the field after milking and we loitered there at the gate to count first stars as the cattle wandered off in the dusk of their pasture. "I'd say," he remarked in hushed tones "that's an owl!" It was — the call mysterious and lonely on the wings of approaching night. "Yes," he said and I wonder if he is promising us fine or rainy weather! The sky is clear anyway.

A bat came out of the twilight swooping and rising to a barn-eave to remind him of something. "The swallows" he commented, "did you know they have gone? Yes, every last one of them — and I never saw them go! It's always like that isn't it? You see them gathering on the wires . . . and then you sort of forget about them . . . and then one day when you look for them, they're not to be found.

But not all the summer-birds are gone — I saw a Goldfinch today, flying about the lawn. Oh well they have to go, I guess — but they'll be back. The winter is not so long after all," he sighed, "Isn't it too bad the fishing season is so nearly over? I'm going to miss that most of all."

Jamie comes and goes, arriving

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

Continued on page 9

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Inconsiderate Friends

Serviceman's Fiancee Plagued By Schoolmates' Pessimism

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a boy in Korea and I love him very much. I go to high school and the girls often ask me, "What if he doesn't come back?" I firmly believe he will come back, but it bothers me when people constantly bring the question up.

ANSWER: It is sometimes very hard to hold on to one's faith in the face of such pessimistic questioning, but hold on you must! It's a poor friend, indeed, who will try so hard to weaken your morale at a time when it is already bound to be pretty low. Avoid such company as much as possible and seek those who will give you verbal assurance that your betrothed will return to carry out your wedding plans.

WOMEN with boys in service overseas — be they sons, husbands or sweethearts — need a special kind of faith. They are powerless to control the destinies of their men to the smallest degree, and this very inability to help renders the situation doubly hard to bear. Added to this is the up-and-down, from day to day, of the boy's welfare. One of the strongest aids in combating the worries and fears of these times is the comfort of a cheerful friend. Hope must be the constant

Continued on page 16

Anne Adams Patterns

FABRIC SAVER!

BAZAAR IDEA! Gift Idea! You can see at a glance how popular this apron will be at your bazaar booth! So gay and charming with scallops and pansy pocket. So easy on the budget — it's designed to be made from a 100-pound feed bag or 1 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric! Yardage for sizes small 14-16 or medium 18-20. Transfer included in Pattern 4873.

This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.

Send Thirty-five Cents (35c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send order to ANNE ADAMS, c/o The Guardian, 60 Front St. West, Toronto, Ontario es for really constructive opportunities, desirable contacts with those in influential places. Inflated ideas of self-importance, rash and "prima donna" tactics could alienate a golden intervention and association. Keep sane and balanced in such crises.

A child born on this day may early in life fly into "temper tantrums", and should be given due study and discipline. It may be over-ambitious, self-sufficient.

CHILD DISEASE Rickets, a bone disease in the first two or three years of infancy, is caused by shortage of Vitamin C found in cod-liver oil.

made from 100 lb. feed bag

4873 525 5-14-51

by Anna Adams

COOL-HEADED GIRL, 8, SAVED BABY FROM DEATH