YOUNG WIDOWS ARE SELDIERLY Three young widows, each with small children, live on one relatively short street. They have another thing in common, unfortunately: they have all gone back to work to try and earn enough to keep their homes—and feed and clothe their school age youngsters.

Their lives are a far cry from that of opera's "Merry Widow".

Just 2 years ago the future looked bright for all three. Then a car accident killed one father, a heart attack the second, hidden cancer the third. All three men were in their early thirties!

BRITISH

The visitor was greatly impressed with the country and remarked on the miles of fine highways with only a few cars on them. In Britain such roads would be jammed with traffic, he said.

Arriving at Wood Islands following a fast tour of Nova Scotia, Mr. James was met by George Fraser, director of the Travel Bureau, who will take him through the National Park en route to Summerside today. He will leave by air from there this afternoon.

Last night the Tourist Association directors greeted him with a small party to give him an opportunity of meeting "key" island personnel in the accommodations. Among the guests was Hon. J. D. Stewart, minister of tourist development, with him was Mr. Fraser.
