THE DAILY EXAMINER

AUGUST 6, 1900.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the editor of THE EXAMINER:

"It is the ardent wish of the people of Murray Harbor and Belfast that you telegraph the Minister of Railways and Canals and ask him if the Government intend to continue the railroad past Village Green and if so when will they start the survey."

As the Minister of Railways is at present in England or on the Continent, taking a holiday after accomplishing several political deals on behalf of the Liberal party, we may not telegraph him just now; but we shall bear the request in view.

This request, made on behalf of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor, may be taken as proof of the feeling that prevails throughout the district on account of the remarkable delay of the government in respect to the survey of the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway. The people don't know what to make of it. Does it betoken "human devices" previous to the election, or does it mean that some one has not yet paid toll to the Government?

A SUBSIDIZED STEAMER

SIR,—I notice in a recent issue of THE EXAMINER reference to a report that the Federal Government had been induced to give some assistance in the way of a subsidy to the charterers of certain tramp steamers which were loaded with oats in Charlottetown this spring. One would have thought that your pointed remarks anent this matter would have elicited some further information regarding it, but it appears those in a position to furnish any information are disposed to keep the matter as secret as possible.

If public money in the shape of a subsidy or otherwise has been given, or promised, to assist a few private speculators in the shipment of grain, to the exclusion and injury of other shippers, of whom there are many throughout the Island, the public have a right to be informed of it; also upon what grounds and by whose representation or misrepresentation such subsidy was given. It seems almost incredible that the Government, having invited tenders for a first class direct service, thoroughly equipped with cold storage of the most improved kind, and with ample accommodation for live stock could be so d wicked as giving anything in the way of a subsidy to boats of the lowest class—one of which is 23 years old and was eighteen days in making the passage out, and the other 15 years old and of about the same rate of speed and with no equipment whatever for carrying perishable products or live stock. But, apart from their total unfitness for service, is it not a fact that they were chartered by a syndicate of speculators expressly to load oats bought up and stored for themselves last fall and winter, and not for the purpose of affording our merchants and farmers an opportunity of shipping away their surplus produce?

I should like to hear what our Board of Trade, that is supposed to accomplish so much in the public interest, has to say about this matter? If it be true, as is alleged, that its influence was used to obtain Government aid as above mentioned, then the sooner it ceases to exist as an organization the better it will be for our business community; and if to all gain it is not true, it strikes me no time should be lost in denying it.

I trust, Mr. Editor, you will not allow this matter to drop until further light is thrown upon it; for it is very evident from the suspicious circumstances attending it that a good deal of scheming and misrepresentation has been indulged in by some person or persons in order to obtain public money to aid a private venture.

Yours truly,
SHIPPER

News From Italy.

MONZA, Aug 3.—The King and Queen of Italy arrived here last evening.

MONZA, Aug 3.—In the midst of a touching demonstration of welcome to King Victor Emmanuel two strangers cried: "Viva l'Anarchia." They were arrested and narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the furious crowd.

An Esbertelli despatch announces the arrest there of Giuseppe Bernardi, accused of declaring his Emperor William's turn to be assassinated would come next. He denied the charge, but is believed to be an anarchist.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT.

Private James Matheson Writes to His Father.

Writing from near Johannesburg, on the 2nd June, to his father, Private James Matheson says:

DEAR FATHER,—As we got no mail for six weeks I thought I would write. We have been marching and fighting. We are now in camp five miles from the city. Our brigade was the right wing of the army and we had to do nearly all the fighting and marched over three hundred miles. We took every town between Bloemfontein and here. I was in all the towns but this one. We may stay here for a few days. I hope to get on to see this one, for it is the largest in South Africa. We had a hard time of it, very little to eat and lots of fighting and marching. Our brigade has done more fighting than any other in South Africa. We had a big fight ten miles from here, the place that the Boers beat Jameson. They said that we could not drive them out, but we did. The general told us and the Gordons that we would have to take the position, and in three hours we had it. They had a lot of heavy guns, but our guns soon put them out. The Gordons chased them out.

We only had six wounded. Our company had the firing line, and there was not one of us hit, neither were any of the Gordons.

The Boers burnt the grass so as to show up our brown suits. We had one hundred and six killed and wounded in our columns, the Boers had four hundred killed and wounded. This was the only time they stood long enough for us to get handy to them. We got on the hill with them and got behind the rocks I fired two hundred rounds of ammunition. We drove them out of the hill with the bayonet, and then the mounted men gave it to them, chased them into Pretoria, broke the railway between Johannesburg and Pretoria and took three trains within ten miles of Pretoria, capturing everything in sight. The road is open now between here and Bloemfontein. I suppose you would like to know how many of us are left that have not fallen out and gone back to the base that are of the first contingent. Well, there are Dillon, Rodd, Small, Mellish, Stewart, F..., Gaulet and M. F... and myself. These nine have been in every fight since we left home, and will get all the honor that are to be got.

Of the draft sent out there are Arbuckle, Pront, Kenned, Coombs, Horne, Boulter and McD... and McDonald. We are only waiting to march from Pretoria. It is reported here that there are British troops there now. We expect to march for there at any time. The sooner we get it over the sooner we will get home. I am in good health and hope you are all the same. Tell the boys I am all right and just as good as ever.
