

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 23, 1896.

A FEW WORDS IN SEASON.

The paternal concern of L'Impartial, whose splendid advice to Acadians we have made free to translate in another column, is a pleasing sign of the times and an angry of the betterment of the evil which has called it forth. Alas, it is only too true that the Acadians are not alone in what our contemporary calls "improvidence and the want of business principles." They may become more readily the victims of the baneful credit system; they may in greater numbers have lost their lands in certain quarters; they may not understand so readily how to take advantage of the borrowing power to feed the present difficulty; but it is to be admitted with regret that many of our English-speaking people have gone to the wall with equally sad consequences on all those scores, and that many more are hurrying on in the same direction without some cry of alarm as that of L'Impartial deters them and causes them to wake up the inevitable, meet it and overcome it like men. This is certainly a time when economy should be generally practiced. Prices are low, general commercial uncertainty prevails, and methods of farming are changing utterly. Besides, the frugal farmer is the man to be commended from all points of view and always. We have been going at too fast a clip; the young men of the country are being raised often in extravagant and idle ways; the tendency is to overstep the bounds and disregard the important matter of paying as we go. Unfortunately the Government of the Province sees an example in this regard which gives private recklessness countenance. It is all the more imperative, then, that our citizens should make a reckoning now and resolve to do without what they cannot afford. There is, despite local agricultural depression, a good living and more for every industrious, provident and moral husbandman in the Province. All he needs, then, is to correct the system and live reasonably. The words of L'Impartial to Acadians will, we trust, be taken home to all and produce such fruit as their opportunities seem to promise. We would be long sorry to lose our honest, cheerful, God-fearing and law-abiding Acadian people. That they are good citizens the criminal records of the country attest. It is a question if a single Acadian has been convicted of a felony in the Province in half a century. Their frank and simple manners are also the charm of our Provincial life. We desire a united population, it is true; but all the national differences, while they give us a common harmony, can each delight us with a special individual note clear and charming; and certainly to more pleasant notes reaches our ear than that struck by the light-hearted Acadian. We earnestly hope, then, that in order to meet the necessities of the times he will be advised by his journalistic mentor—avoid credit and extravagance and become commercially safe, and thus assured to us. His case now is in good hands with L'Impartial.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

There was some talk of ex-President Harrison taking office on McKinley. But the ex-President, when questioned the other day as to the truth of this report, stated that he had left politics and life forever, and that he proposed to spend the remainder of his days in quiet retirement. A Washington despatch says: At a meeting of the national guard, patrons of handshaking, the report of the committee on the tariff, which has been set in motion; orders for goods, hitherto withheld or made conditional on the result of the election, have been made or become effective; new enterprises have been started, and a new impulse has been given to enterprise in various forms; gold that had been hoarded has come out; the hiding places and freely offered to the Government and to the banks, and unwanted payment of debts has been made in that metal. The aggregate rise in the price of stocks in the New York market in a week is said to have been $10,000,000. —Montreal Gazette: The most frequent prayer of the manufacturers whom the Government is so ostentatiously consulting is that they should be let alone. It looks as if Mr. Foster had carefully gauged the needs of the situation and had met the requirements of Canadian industries pretty accurately. "Let it alone" is a policy which is the watchword of free trade, would be a capital one for the Government to adopt with reference to the existing tariff, and it is to be feared that they have not the good sense or the courage to take so reasonable a stand. Their pledges bind them to do something, and Canadian industries will be sacrificed in the vain attempt to save the reputations of Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright for political consistency. The United States ambassador, Mr. Bayard, gave the prizes at the Mechanics' Institute at Burnley, England. After remarking that there was no just and reasonable difference between Great Britain and the United States and dwelling upon the affinity of the two nations, Mr. Bayard spoke on individual effort, pointing out Benjamin Franklin as an example. He believed, he said, that when he returned to the United States there would not be a careful of wind in the political storm nor the faintest cloud to disturb the friendly relations of Americans and Britons.

NEWS NOTES

It is reported that the Bolivian congress, in secret session, has authorized a loan to increase the armaments of Bolivia. Advice received from Manila says that the rising of the Philippines is extending to all of the provinces of the Island. General Booth of the Salvation Army announces from Melbourne, Australia, that the army is to extend its operations to the whole of the Malay peninsula. A special from Gaspe, the extreme eastern part of the province of Quebec says: The oil company has struck another good flow at a depth of 2,900 feet. It is stated that there is about two hundred feet of oil in the well. The find is in an entirely new locality. A Halifax young woman went to a clergyman's house last Wednesday evening to meet her intended. She and her father and mother were sitting in their best. The expected groom, a bottle in a mineral water factory, did not put in an appearance. He has not since been heard from. A despatch to the Madrid Imparcial from Havana says: Captain General Weyler has reached the town of San Cristobal, about fourteen leagues northeast of the city of Pinar del Rio, about midway between that city and Havana. Maceo's headquarters are said to be in the hills between San Cristobal and Cayabaso. One of the members elect of the Kansas Legislature has a big Mexican hat, a calico shirt that seems collar and necktie, high heeled boots, in the tops of which are carefully tucked the leg of his trousers, and from the heels of which protrude two big spurs. That's the way he will address the speaker. The funeral services of the late William Tennant Hart, ex-president of the New England Railroad, whose sudden death occurred at Boston a few days ago, were held at Emmanuel church on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Frederick Courtney, bishop of Nova Scotia. One Gensinger—the name bears a suspicious resemblance to gin sinner—president of an "athletic" club in New York, is reported as offering $25,000 for a fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. When two pugilists fight they are liable to arrest, but there seems no penalty for the speculative blackguards who set them at it. The Ottawa Journal puts it this way: Charles Fagan, railway constable, steals one hundred dollars in small amounts from a till during the course of a month. He is sent to jail for a year and a half. Ex City Treasurer Barvey, of Guelph, steals eighteen thousand dollars from the treasury during six or eight years. He is sent to jail for three months. It is stated that a British syndicate is arranging for the purchase of petroleum deposits on the west coast of the island of Newfoundland. Borings made show a splendid flow of rich oil, yielding 54 per cent. lubricating oil, 43 per cent. for illuminating purposes. Shares of the local company now working the property are selling at four times their face value. A number of prominent Cubans arrived at Tampa, Fla., from Havana a few days ago, and will make their homes in Jacksonville and Coala until the conflict in Cuba is ended. A prominent Cuban said, relative to the engagement reported between Meco and Weyler, that important battles had been fought and Weyler treated. Owing to the surveillance of the government definite news is not received in this country, but that it was true all Cubans in Havana know through official sources. LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS. An Era of Peace and Greater Confidence Between the Nations. The French Chamber of Deputies on Friday rejected an attempt by M. Huguier, reactionary, to raise a discussion on the recent Protestant conference at Lyons, with a view to establishing analogy with the clerical congresses at Rheims. The czar's visit seems to be producing good results in the direction of a reconciliation between France and Germany. It is announced on good authority that the German frontier camp at Malmesdi will be gradually raised, and that the troops already ordered to retire for the winter to thearrison at Cologne, Aix La Chapelle and Treves, and it is believed that next spring the size of the camp will be considerably reduced. Germany contends that the camp at Malmesdi is merely a drill ground. It is contended, however, that it is part of a plan which the late Count Von Moltke arranged for the invasion of France by Belgium, and the valley of the Meuse, a half million men there in a single day. The suggestion that France should issue a counter bluff by forming a strong camp on the southern frontier of Belgium causes apprehension at Brussels, and it is hoped, in the interest of peace, that Emperor William will see his way to abandon the alleged Von Moltke plan. There was a tremendous panic only lasting a few minutes, however, on the French bourse over a rumor of the death of Alphonse Rothschild. It is supposed to have been started by an organized gang. People rushed to sell at any price until the truth was discovered. The police have opened an inquiry to discover the origin of the rumor. The newspapers announce that an association has been formed under the auspices of the Marquis of Dufferin, the recently retired British ambassador, Philip Stanhope and others to improve the relations between France and England. B. C. GOLD FIELDS CO. An Unprecedented Sale of Stocks. This company, the advertisement of which will be found in another column, sold last week one quarter of a million shares. We believe this to be without a parallel in the history of mining companies. Here is what one of the leading commercial journals of the United States—the Mercantile and Financial Times, of New York and Chicago—has to say concerning it: "In conclusion, we simply desire to remind our readers that the long established reputation of the 'Mercantile and Financial Times' for extreme conservatism in respect to all information which it publishes for the benefit of those who consider the offerings of the British-Canadian Gold Field Exploration, Development and Investment Co., is entitled to the favorable consideration of all who are seeking safe and remunerative investment." Special attention is directed to the advertisement, "For Sale or To Let," in formerly the Bible Christian Church in this city, is now in the market, and can be purchased at a bargain. This centrally situated property offers an exceptional opportunity to secure a school room for the east end of the city, so much required. Terms easy.—A. McNeill, Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent.

NOTES FROM WINNIPEG.

The School Settlement. Since I wrote you last week the "School Settlement" has been made public. As I then indicated the concessions are very few indeed. Your readers will already have received details by telegraph. The settlement may be reduced to two propositions, viz: a half hour religious instruction before school closes and the employment of a Catholic teacher in schools with an average attendance of at least 25 Catholic children. The first of these concessions is open to "all denominations." Not that there is anything wrong in that; but it should not be mistaken for a great act of grace to the minority, as to the second concession, it must be looked at from two points of view—as affecting the country and as affecting the town. With reference to the country such a provision is superfluous. Very few country schools have an average of 25, counting all denominations. As a rule—almost without exception—a country school with an average attendance of Roman Catholic children of 25 must be in a Roman Catholic district which even under the present law is prevented from employing a Roman Catholic teacher. In the towns it would mean possibly that in schools having a staff of four, five or six teachers, one should be a Roman Catholic—nothing very wonderful or even generous. The Catholic children could not be taught by the Catholic teacher—the pupils would be mixed. Catholic schools are in no sense recognized nor are there to be any such. The concessions are what the Brandon Mail, the McCarthy organ, apply still as "unimportant deviations" from the present system. Nor is the settlement such as it is—to be permanent. This is what the Brandon Mail says: "Our idea is to see it settled by the Provincial Legislature without concurrent legislation at Ottawa, so that the Province will of its own accord have the power to make modifications again when the country is ripe for them." Such a settlement is not satisfactory to the minority. Nobody could expect that it would be. Let us look at the matter for a moment from the minority stand point. They have first the Privy Council judgment in support of the restoration of their schools. They have again the judgment in their favor of Protestant Canada. Leaving out Quebec a majority were returned to support the Remedial Bill. In Quebec the present governments have sweeping majority were returned under a pledge to give more than the Remedial Bill. Even Manitoba herself gave a majority for the Remedial Bill and at the last local general election when this question was an issue the total popular majority of the Greenways was 10,000. The papal delegate whom Abbe Proulx is to get to keep us in order will have nothing to do if Mr. Tarte be kept on the ground. Mr. Tarte spoke and acted as if he held a commission to rule the church in these parts. A sample of his theology, delivered at the Winnipeg banquet, is:—"We are Catholics or Protestants because our parents were Catholics or Protestants." So that religion is, after all, not a matter of conviction but only an old nursery rhyme! GOLD MINING. A Winnipeg company is being organized with a capital of $750,000 to operate mines in the Lake of the Woods region and in British Columbia. There is great faith in the future of both as profitable fields for enterprise and capital. THE WEATHER. This has been a fine fall. Snow came in with the month. It is now a considerable depth. No frost worth speaking of has been experienced yet. J. O'BRIEN. Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 16, 1896. AT TWO HOSPITALS. Five Years in the Tolls—Nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills Could Touch the Spot. BRUSSELS, Nov. 23 (Special).—Mr. W. P. Jackson, a telegraph operator at this place, has had an experience which should be known of value to every man in Canada. He says:—"Without relief for five years, I have gone from being worse with kidney disease. Have been treated at two hospitals—Chicago and Montreal—and took the hot springs course, all to no purpose. I have taken doctors' advice and their medicines with the same result. My cure commenced as soon as I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking ten boxes I am happy to say that my cure is perfect.
