

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 28, 1881.

The Political Missionaries.

We have had, one way or the other, a good deal of quiet fun with the worshippers of Mr. Blake, and those of his political friends, who bear him company.

If the mission were the legitimate discussion of great public questions, it were one to be applauded. Free discussion keeps the stream of public opinion wholesome; and a wholesome public opinion is as necessary to the maintenance of political health and vigor in a free state as pure water is to the health of a man or animal.

We do not, of course, expect Mr. Blake to make a new missionary speech for this Province, any more than we expect him to utter here precisely the same opinions he utters when home in Toronto or in Montreal.

Sir Charles and Sir Leonard in Fredericton.

A POPULAR ORATION—BRILLIANT SPEECHES BY THE MINISTERS.

The reception of Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Leonard Tilley at Fredericton, was of the most enthusiastic and successful character. They were met at the railway station by their arrival by the Mayor and about 400 citizens, headed by a band, and were escorted with great eclat to their Hotel.

and continued confidence. Sir Charles spoke first, and for two hours and a half held the audience spell-bound. His voice, which was somewhat hoarse in St. John, was in splendid condition, and as he analyzed the pretenses and sophistries of Mr. Blake, point by point, the ringing applause testified to the effect which his address was producing.

here presuming on our want of the same intelligence down here by the sea, that he has found his cost in Ontario and Quebec. But he will fall; in fact he has already failed. Some of his friends say he has produced no enthusiasm. That in far from correct. Look at the magnificent demonstration in St. John last Saturday night, and again on Monday night, such as St. John never saw surpassed in her history.

men that from the first moment of Canadian unity had

and thwarted every measure calculated to increase the country's greatness, or advance its interest. (Cheers.) They called themselves, or at least some of them are trying to call themselves, Liberals. (Laughter.) He defied any man of them to make good their right to use such a name, but more especially he defied the remnant of them in Nova Scotia or New Brunswick to appropriate a part of our name. They had never during the past fourteen years, been anything but obstructives, and they were that still. He then sketched the circumstances which brought about old political parties of this country, and pointed out that the present Government party was composed of the best elements of both of them, while all there was in both of them that was disloyal and dissatisfied, all that was too ignorant to see what was

or to base an act on such knowledge, drifted away, and after several years came together. In what? In the new Opposition party of Canada; and it was indeed worthy of such an origin. (Loud Cheers.) But Mr. Blake had challenged the discussion and we were happy to have it, not face to face with him, for he dare not meet us, but at least face to face with his audiences. (Loud Cheers.) Sir Charles then reviewed the

and the policy of both parties in a masterly manner, closing one of the finest and most aggressive speeches of his life, amid the ringing cheers of the whole audience. Sir Leonard Tilley then spoke briefly on the question of taxation, following pretty much the same line of argument as at St. John. The meeting was closed at 11:30 p. m., with cheers for the Queen and for the speakers.

Meeting of Grand Division.

The Grand Division of this Island assembled yesterday at St. Catherine's, West River. The G. W. Patriarch, David Rogers, Esq., in the chair. The Reports showed the Order to be still on the advance throughout the Province. Eight representatives were initiated. The formation of a branch of the Dominion Alliance for this Island was hailed with pleasure. The non-enforcement of the Scott Act, particularly in Summerside, was made the subject of a good deal of discussion, a resolution proposing a remedy, by respectfully calling upon the same authority that appointed the Public Inspectors, to see that they are carried out the law, was adopted by a unanimous vote. A crowded public meeting was held in the evening, and was, in every respect, a grand success. It was addressed by representatives Rogers, Chappell, Sanderson, Brecken, Henderson and Lamont. After a temperance song by Bro. Turner and reading by Brother J. C. Stretch, of West River, the meeting closed at 10 o'clock, when the brethren felt happy to meet, happy to part, and happy to meet again.

The following is the report of the Grand Worthy Patriarch:— ST. CATHERINE'S, July 27, 1881. To the Officers and Members of the Grand Division of P. E. Island, Sons of Temperance.

WORTHY REPRESENTATIVE.—We are again met in Grand Division quarterly session. Thankful to a kind Providence for past favors and blessings, I trust we shall never forget to seek Divine help in carrying on the work in which we are engaged, having for our object the deliverance of our race from the terrible curse of intemperance.

We would to-day pray God to remove the evil from our midst; that the drunkard may be saved, that broken-hearted wives and mothers may be comforted; that starving children may be clothed and fed; and that happiness and prosperity may dwell within our borders. In looking over the past, we have much to be thankful for. Our noble order has made some progress during the quarter. The reports of Deputies I have received are quite encouraging. The Deputy of New Argyle Division, No. 119, writes: "We have initiated twenty during the quarter; attendance good." The Deputy of Headlight Division, No. 122, gives a very encouraging report, meeting regularly; considerable increase of members during the quarter. The Deputy of Y. M. C. A. Division, No. 102, writes: "Our Division is in a good, healthy condition. The Deputy of Braemar Division, No. 120, writes: "Our Division is in a prosperous condition." The Deputy of Northern Light Division, No. 103, writes: "Our Division is in excellent working order at present." The Deputy of Rising Star Division, No. 61, writes: "Our Division has done good work this quarter; we have initiated eleven, and our meetings are interesting." The Deputy of St. Catherine's, No. 104, writes: "Our Division is in good working order; the attendance is not so good as I would like to see." I have visited the following Divisions during the quarter and was pleased with their appearance and earnestness in the cause of temperance: Victoria, No. 4; Union, No. 45; Lorne, No. 112; Rising Sun, No. 121; and Oarward, No. 125. The remaining sixteen Divisions, I am sorry to say, I have not received any report from this quarter. I wish Divisional Deputies would be more punctual in giving reports of their several Divisions. It would be more gratifying to me to have a report from every Division; then we would be able to know the exact state of the order under our jurisdiction.

There has been one new Division added to the roll during the quarter. On the 28th April last I organized Onward Division, No. 125, at Victoria, with thirty eight charter members. Ten more were added to this Division on the second night of meeting. The prospect here are good.

I regret there has been no decision given yet on the Canada Temperance Act for the town of Summerside. In Prince County there is no restraint on the liquor traffic—it is sold almost everywhere. There is a law on our Statute Book, but it is openly violated. There appears to be no way to put the law in force. If any one is presented he appeals to a higher court; there the question seems to rest, and the liquor is sold right along, and people are insulted on the highway by parties in a state of intoxication.

I have to inform you there has been an appeal taken to the Privy Council against the constitutionality of the Canada Temperance Act. I can scarcely believe the Privy Council of Great Britain will be so unwise as to say to the people of this Dominion, they shall not pass a law to protect themselves and their children from the worst evil that ever cursed a nation.

I believe the visit of Hon. N. Dow and his colleague, A. M. Powell, to this Island, will be attended with good results, and I trust you will convey to them the thanks of the Grand Division.

I am pleased to see a branch of the Dominion Alliance formed on the Island. We will now be better able to centralize our efforts by bringing together representatives from all Temperance Societies, and leading temperance men from all parts of the Island, to adopt the most effectual means to stop the trade in intoxicating liquors.

I have received a communication from the Grand Chaplain of the Grand Division of Nova Scotia, requesting me to bring the Watchman, their Temperance organ before our Grand Division, asking us to help circulate it on the Island. It would be a great benefit to have a good temperance paper in these lower Provinces. I think it has become a necessity.

The report of the Grand Scribe will more particularly inform you of the state of the order on the Island. Officers and Members, there is much work yet to do, many difficulties to overcome. Every inch of the ground may be contested and hard may be the battle; but we feel confident that by perseverance, the victory will be ours.

Submitted in Love, Purity and Fidelity, DAVID ROGERS, G. W. P.

Dean Stanley's Last Work.

The last published work of the Dean was a four-column article in the Revised Testament, published in the Times on Wednesday. The following are its concluding words:—"The general flow of the sacred narrative escapes us, which is not except by microscopic survey, could affect a cursory perusal. Many of the changes are only expressed, by the margin, but the margin, it is evident in this translation, rises to a level much above the place assigned to it in the time of James I., and not improbably it often represents the impression of a strong and intelligent minority. It may be asked what are the prospects of this new version taking the place of that which already exists? To this no positive answer can as yet be given. But something may be argued from the history of that previous version itself. We have already seen that the translation of 1611 never received the sanction of Parliament, Convocation, or the Sovereign. It came in by use, and by use it still holds its ground. There is no reason to doubt that if the present version should win general acceptance it will in its turn supersede the old, first in private houses, and then by public reading in church. By the Non-conformists it will be accepted as a substitute for the older version, in all probability, after a faint struggle. In the Church it will exist side by side with the earlier translation, in the same way as the Psalms already are dear to Churchmen in two versions, neither of which excludes the other. In any circumstances it may be hoped that the revision, conducted as it has been with such singular harmony by the various bodies of Christians in these kingdoms and the United States, will act, not as a disintegrating, but as a uniting element, to bring together the thoughts and devotions of themselves into a nearer and more exact appreciation of the Book which, above all other books, above even the Hebrew Scriptures themselves, has been fitly called the Word of God."

CLOPPINGS. The army worm has made its appearance in Newton and White counties, Indiana, and is doing considerable damage.

Rev. Principal Grant, of Kingston, Ontario, has just completed a highly successful tour for Queen's College in East Ontario, and expects to leave shortly for a tour in Manitoba and the North-West. It is expected that correspondence will be published showing that England informed France that a repetition of the Tunis proceedings in Tripoli would raise the whole question of a European guarantee to the Empire.

Advices from Portage La Prairie state that construction on the main line of the Canada Pacific Railroad is going on at a rapid rate. Nearly two miles of track is being laid per day, and the rails are already down to a point thirteen miles west of the Portage.

In compliance with the Sultan's orders, the Sheikh-ul-Islam and forty Ulemas are examining the documents connected with the recent trial of Midhat Pasha and his associates. They will decide if the sentence is in accordance with the religious law. The Sultan's final decision is consequently retarded.

As the mails from other cities were being sorted in the Boston Post Office Saturday morning, one of the clerks opened a package that looked suspicious, and found it contained a Colt's seven-shooter, 22-calibre; cocked and loaded. It was wrapped in a newspaper and addressed to a young lady, in care of another lady at Norwood, R. I. It was mailed as fourth class matter. There is a heavy fine for such an offence, as no firearms are allowed to go through the mail.

In Warren, Sunday, July 17, 1881, at about 5 o'clock p. m., of consumption, William Mitchell, aged 28 years.

The deceased was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward's Island, Dominion of Canada, in 1853. He had been a resident of Warren for two years previous to his death and had gained the love and esteem of all who knew him. Quiet and unassuming, he performed his daily labors with alacrity until the fell disease which carried him off had asserted a complete mastery over his physical powers. Then, and without complaint, he prepared to take the journey that ends with the life on earth and gives to the traveller eternal rest. Fearlessly he left us, and with a christian's joy set sail over the limitless ocean of eternity, whose every wave beat lands a passenger at the gates of the New Jerusalem. While yet in the full tide of life and hope that summons came, but it found a ready and willing subject in William Mitchell. He leaves to his brothers who are well known here, and have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.—Warren (Minn.) Sheep.
