Pretty Winter Wedding Solemnized in Halifax

St. Catherine's Church, Halifax, N.S., was the scene of a very lovely wedding at 8 a.m. Feb. 17, when Mary Vivian Kinch youngest daughter of Mrs. Michael Kinch and the late Michael Kinch, Alberton, P.E.I. and Michael Terrance Lundy, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lundy, Toronto, Ont., were united in marriage.

Rev. Father Robinson performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Ronald MacDonnell of Halifax, looked lovely in her ballerina length wedding gown of white imported velvet with fitted bodice, scoop neck and long sleeves, tapered to points over her hands. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a pearl tiara.

She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and fern. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. MacDonnell as matron of honor, who wore a blue and crystal taffeta gown ballerina length, small white hat, white gloves and silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of white mums.

The groom was attended by Marvin Larmen of Toronto.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 27 St. Andrews Ave. The bride's table, decorated with floral bouquets and tall white candles, was centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom.

The best man proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly replied.

Congratulatory remarks were offered by Father Robinson and other guests. Several telephone calls were received during the reception from relatives and friends from P.E.I. and Toronto.

For going away the bride wore a sheath style red flannel dress, black pumps small white hat and gloves. The happy young couple will reside at 60 Seaforth St. Halifax.

Boys' Tea Will Be Held

The Boys' Tea at the Y.M.C.A., sponsored by the Gamma Phi Boys' Hi-Yi Club, will usher in March first. Everyone hopes that the first part of the old adage "comes in like a lamb" (but not the last) will be true.

The tea is going to be one of the smart affairs and many people are looking forward to attending. As has been mentioned it is definitely a best linen, silver and china tea. Along with other varieties of china, no doubt, Wedgwood will be in evidence. Of interest to those who admire Wedgwood china is the fact that Lady Iris Wedgwood and her daughter Miss Cecely V. Wedgwood have been visiting on the U.S. West Coast. Miss Wedgwood is a famous historian and had a busy schedule on the California campus.

Lady Wedgwood described a Wedgwood dinner set as ordered by Catherine the Great. They had seen this in the Hermitage Museum in Leningrad. It is said not to be very pleasing. The Empress Catharine the Great had ordered the service for a summer home called the Frog Palace. On the edge of each piece, which is elaborately painted with an English scene in blackish purple, is a green frog absolutely flat.

The pieces of china that grace the table at the Noveltea will not be the grotesque "frog" pieces but will be the delicate shades to cheer the eyes of all those attending the Boys' Tea.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Farmers Have Intellect & Character - Well Done!

Our farmers today enjoyed a pleasant interlude in the morning's choring. We doubt if they could have been invited to a more interesting event than that which took them to lend assistance to a neighbor in getting his fat cattle away to their market.

"I like to move among the simple down-to-earth, farm-folk" we chanced to hear a speaker on radio observe the other day. The words returned to mind today when we saw the pair of farmers hie down along our winter-lane of field, enter the waiting truck and on happiest wheels, disappear beyond the little rise which mostly with an accelerated "huff and a puff" bears all traffic in the road.

Yes! simple we chuckled to ourselves, in that we who love the land, enjoy the seemingly lowly and humdrum duties — and scenes of the farm. The term however, was sadly misused, in connection with the work then in prospect. What an alert and altogether skillful crew were for gathering in the road! And in reckoning the tonnage about to be very few pounds "out" on the aggregate one way or another.

Have you ever stopped in the middle of preparing dinner to watch the shipping out of fat animals from a farm? No? We steeped in farm ways came to the back verandah to catch something of the color and excitement of the scene, though it lay a distance from Alderlea, over the fields.

Above the millstream above the A's vacated house set down quiet in the valley, and up the rise beyond we caught sight presently of the dark figures of men and cattle moving in a company along the white field which was taking the animals to the great truck waiting at the road. So easily, after all, a herd can be moved these times. And as we saw these, we were recalling scenes from years long gone, when the fat cattle raised on a remembered farm by the Strait, must either go to market by boat on a summery morning from the harbour, or else be herded a distance on foot — even the twenty-one miles which would take them to town.

"Nice cattle", James commented when the two returned. The younger man nodded. "Now" he smiled, "we'll just see how the weights correspond with the girls!" he said.

"The old law of supply and demand" James comments to Mr. C. from the house on the hill as they come in after a late tour of the stables, "makes the market! Looks to me as if there's a bit of scarcity of beef at the moment. So" he smiles, "there's a move up in price. Yours doing well?"

"Not bad Mr. C. replies 'They should at any rate — there's not much last to a grist of crushing!'"

"It is amazing how fast it goes" James nods, settled now to their visit. "And I was just saying to the wife today, if we keep them, there will be all of three months yet of feeding."

"There's this to it" Mr. C. offers "we never had so nice a winter to do the chores."

"Never!" James agrees. Then "You couldn't rustle us a bite to eat, could you Ellen? I feel kind of hollow he chuckles.
