

Dief Foresees Education As Major Campaign Element

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said here education will be a major element in the Nov. 8 federal election campaign.

The Conservative leader outlined to a delegation from the Canadian Union of Students what his party would do to solve university financial problems.

Then he launched into an attack on Prime Minister Pearson's timing in calling an election that caught students between home and university residence.

CPR Refused Permission To Drop Passenger Train

OTTAWA (CP)—The CPR told the Board of Transport Commissioners here that it will not have enough diesel locomotives to meet its grain traffic requirements—unless it is allowed to abandon the Dominion passenger train and divert its diesels to grain trains.

It also reported that the Dominion, the CPR's secondary transcontinental passenger train, lost $9,673,932 last year and $5,023,924 in the first seven months of 1965.

The privately-owned railway filed an eight-page statement with the board outlining the basic reasons for its decision to cancel the Dominion as of Sept. 7.

This decision was over-ruled by the board after a flood of protests had been received, mostly from Western Canada. A series of public hearings will open in Winnipeg Sept. 27 to hear views for and against the abandonment plan.

"Other than by leasing, there is no known source of additional diesel units at this time," the report to the board said.

In addition to the grain problem, the railway was under heavy pressure to move increasing tonnages of potash, sulphur and coal.

The CPR said it has been striving for years to reduce its heavy losses on passenger trains. Last year the loss was $26,000,000, about three-quarters of it incurred on transcontinental trains.

"It is apparent that an excess of service is being provided by the operation of two daily trains in each direction."

If the Dominion was dropped, the railway would concentrate passenger service on its main train, the Canadian, adding cars as traffic required. Additional stops would be made by the Canadian at points where only the Dominion now stops.

Former MP Keeping Out Of Politics

HALIFAX (CP) — Edmund L. Morris, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament in the Halifax riding from 1957 to 1963, said here he will not be a candidate in the Nov. 8 federal election.

There have been reports that both Conservative and Liberal groups sought to have him offer as a candidate here.

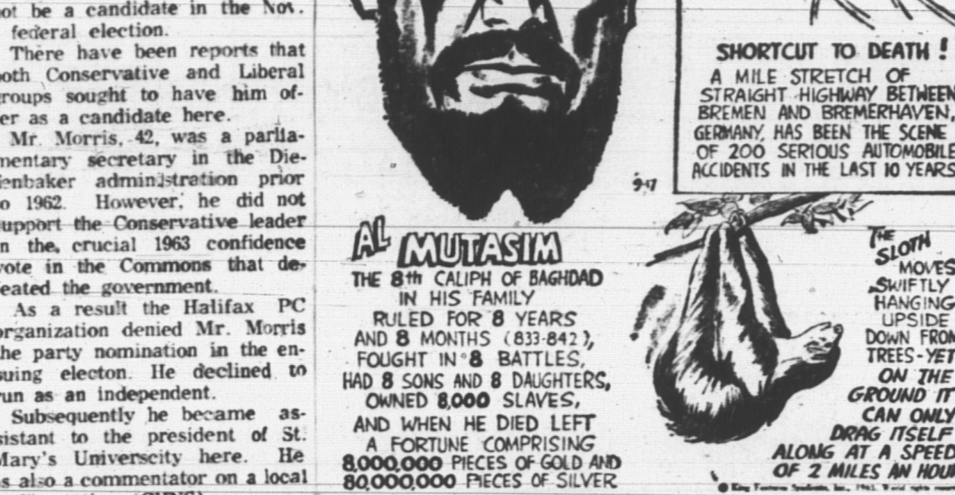

Mr. Morris, 42, was a parliamentary secretary in the Diefenbaker administration prior to 1962. However, he did not support the Conservative leader in the crucial 1963 confidence vote in the Commons that defeated the government.

As a result the Halifax PC organization denied Mr. Morris the party nomination in the ensuing election. He declined to run as an independent.

Subsequently he became assistant to the president of St. Mary's University here. He is also a commentator on a local radio station (CHNS).

Ford Unveils New Mustang

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has unveiled its 1966 Mustang with only minor changes apparent on the highly successful vehicle.

The company lists "styling touches," a five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features as standard changes.

New options include a tape player and a high-performance engine and automatic transmission combination.

Donald N. Frey, Ford division general manager, said exterior styling changes were limited to the grille, side scoop ornament, wheelcovers and gas filler cap.

For the first time, a 271-horsepower engine is available either with a three-speed manual transmission, a three-speed automatic transmission or a four-speed manual gearbox.

A new tape system offers music in full stereo, combined with an AM radio. The tape player is integrated into the instrument panel with the radio. The tape cartridge slips into a slot above the radio dial and provides up to 80 minutes of music from each cartridge.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

Your partner opens the bidding with One Diamond, both sides vulnerable, and the next player bids One Spade. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ4 ♥AQ83 ♦Q62 ♣A98
2. ♠K5 ♥J3 ♦AQ742 ♣KQ43
3. ♠Q62 ♥KJ7543 ♦5 ♣KQ4
4. ♠73 ♥AQJ9 ♦Q7 ♣KJ762
5. ♠AJ72 ♥AQ76 ♣KJ83 ♠5

1. Three notrump. This is the most descriptive bid you can make. The jump to three notrump, whether an opponent intervenes or not, shows a balanced hand, usually 4-3-3-3, with strength in all suits and 16 or 17 high-card points. To that extent three notrump is a slam try. When the bid is made after a suit overcall by an opponent, the three notrump bid also indicates two probable stoppers in the adverse suit.

2. Two clubs. The hand is not quite good enough for a jump to three diamonds, which would commit your side to a game, and is too good for a two diamond bid, which could result in the loss of a game.

In those situations where your values are in between a single raise and a double raise, the best approach is to bid a side suit first, intending to raise partner's suit later. This method permits partner to stop under game with a minimum opening bid.

3. Pass. It may be tempting to bid two hearts, but it is safer and better to pass. When you have a singleton in partner's suit, there is serious danger of a misfit; for example, your partner might have a singleton heart.

Of course, you would have responded in hearts if your right-hand opponent had passed, but, once he bids a spade, you are relieved of the obligation to respond. A voluntary bid of two hearts in this sequence would be forcing and would indicate a better hand.

4. Two clubs. There is a good chance your side can make a game, but the best contract is at the moment uncertain. The proper thing to do is try to represent your high cards and distribution as accurately as possible, and this can best be done by responding two clubs.

The intention is to bid two hearts over the expected rebid of diamonds, and in this way identify the four-card heart length. Partner should then be able to decide the best final contract.

5. Two spades. There is a distinct possibility of making a slam, and the cuebid, which indicates good diamond support as well as spade control, is as good a way as any of appraising partner of the good news. The intention is to bid hearts next and then raise diamonds, hoping that partner will have the right type of hand to undertake a slam.
