Monday afternoon Capt. F. B. Sadler of Ellsworth master of the schooner Portland Packet, noticed an object floating among some driftwood between his vessel and the wharf at City Point, which he thought resembled the head of a man but he dismissed the thought as a foolish one and didn't investigate. Tuesday morning a man about the wharf reported to Capt. Sadler that a man's body was floating between his vessel and the wharf. Capt. Sadler imm diately investigated and subsequently towed the body to the ferry slip where it was taken in charge by Coroner Kelliher. The remains were later identified as those of Sam McGachey of this city, who disappeared about two weeks ago and had not been heard from.

When the gruesome discovery was reported to Capt. Sadler early Tuesday morning, he secured a rope under the arms of the body which was standing upright in the water with just the top of the head showing, and when Patrolman Berry arrived they towed it over to the ferry slip. Coroner Kelliher arrived shortly after and took the body to his undertaking rooms on Court street.

The body when found was badly decomposed and indicated that it had been in the water a much longer time than it really had. The face was almost wholly unrecognizable. The remains were those of a man about five feet, nine inches in height and whose probable weight was about 175 or 180 pounds. He had on a black coat and striped trousers, with collar and black tie. New boots were on the feet. From appearances the man must have been about 40 or 45 years of age. Clutched in the left hand was a silver spoon, bearing no identification marks that would lead in ascertaining how the man happened to have it when he met his death.

In the pockets of the coat were a number of souvenir postal cards, a carpenter's memorandum book and a bunch of keys with leather fob. Most of the cards were addressed to Sam McGachey, 140 Hancocks street, and from some of the writing in the memorandum book which concerned carpentry work, Coroner Kelliher was soon able to identify the remains. Identification was made further certain during the forenoon, when a number of McGachey's friends called at Kelliher's undertaking rooms and gave further facts.

As to how McGachey met his death the officials had not been able to learn up to Tuesday noon. He was last seen about two weeks ago and had been missed, but it had not been thought that he was dead. He was a carpenter and had been working about the city for some time. He was unmarried and had relatives living elsewhere, but the officials had not learned their whereabouts.

How Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mrs Samuel Thompson's Dropsy

Her's Was a Terrible Case and the Doctors were powerless to Check it, but the Great Kidney Remedy Cured It.

HOLT, Ont., June 18.—(Special).—All the country side about here is talking of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Samuel Thompson of this place. She was taken sick with Jaundice, and though the doctor was called in she grew steadily worse. Her stomach was so bad she could not keep anything on it. Dropsy set in and she bloated to a terrible size. The doctor came three times to tap her, but her husband would not allow him to do it, saying that if she could not get better they might let her die in peace. Finally she dropped the doctors and tried other medicines, but they did her no good. Her leg burst and the water streamed from it. Then someone told her about Dodd's Kidney Pills and so she asked her husband to get her a box.

After taking them a while she took a bad turn. Something would come up in her throat and she would vomit. The water would just fly from her mouth. But from that time she commenced to get better and to-day she is a well woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Dropsy by putting the Kidneys in condition to take the surplus water out of the blood. They always cure it.

Doctor Gave Him Up.

A Terrible Experience with Kidney Disease and Dragging Backache.

Expected Death any Day.

To get well and keep well after being pronounced incurable by his physician, was the wonderful experience of Mr. A. P. Chapman, who was snatched from the very jaws of death by the timely use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"For two years I had suffered from advanced kidney disease, was stooped, back-weary, hollow eyed and completely played out. One Saturday night I was seized by an acute attack and became so sick I had to call in my physician. For a week he attended me constantly, but I grew weaker and sicker every day. The pains in my back, the binding headaches, the awful weakness from which I suffered almost killed me—the doctor saw it was hopeless.

"As a last hope I was persuaded to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They brought back my strength, aided my stomach, created new appetite, cleansed my blood and gave me relief from pain. After I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills for a month I was like a new man. I continued the treatment for three months and was cured."
