"As regard's this mutton custard," said Mrs. Partington, as she held up the spoon with which she was stirring the preserves...

Little Tom came running in one day during the sleighing season, with "O, grandmother, I just now saw a little boy fall right down under a sleigh, in Washington-street!"

"Dear me!" she screamed, horror-struck; "bless my soul! did it hurt him much? did it kill him instantly?"

"O, no, ma'am!" replied he; "it didn't hurt him at all, for the sleigh hadn't any horse in it."

His face beamed with fun. "Ah, you disgraceless boy!" cried the old lady, with her finger raised, at the same time with her apron wiping away the mists that the momentary sympathy had gathered in her eyes.

There never was a kinder old creature than she; and, as she looked on his good-natured face and sparkling eyes, she patted his head and gave him an apple.

There are a great many laughable things upon the old earth, but she always keeps her gravity.

Why is the rudder of a steamboat like a public hangman? Because it has a stern duty to perform.

A country editor describing the bonnets now in fashion, says: "They have a downward slant that reminds one of a vicious cow with a board across her face."

"Shopkeepers is not enough thought of," said Mrs. Partington, after having been out making some purchases.

There's a constant flow of the milk of compassion in her breast-inhaustible; like the pulse of the gentleman in the story, the more that is taken from it the more remains.

STAR GAZING.—Out beneath the starry heavens Mr. Slow took his son, Abimelech, to point out to him—to read to him from the broad page of nature—the wonders of "The spacious firmament on high," as he called it.

"All these 'ere stars, my son, said Mr. S., pointing up to the studded sky above them, "that you see up there, stationary and unmovable, marchin' along in sublime grandeur, and winking at the earth with their jolly yellow eyes, like gold eagles, them: are called fixed stars; and"

"But what's that father?" said young Abimelech, as a meteor, like a racer, darted across the southerly sky.

"Mr. Slow was prompt with his answer. "That," said he, "I guess, is one of 'em that's got unfixed."

"My son," said Mr. Smith to his little boy who was devouring an egg,—it was Mr. Smith's desire to instruct his boy.—"My son, do you know that Chickens come out of eggs?"

"Ah, do they, father?" said young Hopeful; "I thought that eggs came out of chickens!"

The elder Smith drew back from the table sadly, and gazed upon his son, then put on his hat and went to his work.

"What is a waxed end?" asked one not posted in the vocabulary of Lynn.

"A waxed end," was the reply, "is the end that receives the whacks."

A Jackass.—An illiterate man wishing to enter some animals at an agricultural exhibition, wrote as follows to the secretary, "Also enter me for the best jackass. I am sure of getting the prize."

FARMERS' CLUBS.

The season is approaching when the farmer will enjoy comparative leisure. The crops securely gathered in, he may devote more time, certainly the evenings, to the cultivation of his social and intellectual powers.

Another objection urged against farming is that it does not pay. In answer to this objection we say that in these latter days everybody is anxious to get rich at a single stroke; in a day, by the introduction of some new patent, or by a lucky turn in copper stocks.

There are many advantages to be derived from such meetings, in addition to the valuable information on the subject of farming that may be obtained. They bring together neighbors and friends of both sexes. Old and young, rich and poor, meet on the same level and enjoy the pleasant occasions.

Then in addition to weekly meetings for discussions, let there be a choice library procured of such books as will instruct as well as please; occasionally get some one from a distance well read in all matters relating to the farm, to come and talk to a club at a meeting held in the Town Hall or some large school-house, where the whole neighborhood can be accommodated.

Farmers should never be jealous of new comers or ambitious cultivators. There is a wide field open before intelligent tillers of the soil, in which he may certainly win fame and honor, health and wealth. Let there be organized in every town or village a farmer's club, or some such society, which shall receive, and be worthy of the support of the best men of the place.

Just in Time FOR THE SPRING TRADE!

The Subscriber has opened a Tailoring Establishment!

He trusts Mr. H. J. Richardson's Old Stand, which he will still be the responsible one of Summerside. If an accurate fit, a stylish cut, and superior workmanship can ensure custom, he flatters himself he shall not be without patronage from the tasteful and discerning.

Every trade requires a change, and none more so than the art of cutting and making up a garment to fit every variety of the human form; but some people seem to imagine that it requires no more judgment to cut than to hew a log,—an erroneous idea, the effects of which are seen in the tasteless and ill-fitting garments we every day behold in the streets.

There is no earthly reason to prevent us Provincialists from being as elegantly and fashionably dressed as the Americans, and the subscriber will use his best endeavors to reach a "consummation so devoutly to be wished."

Mrs. S. A. Allen's PREPARATIONS FOR THE HAIR.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer

is suited to both young and old. It strengthens the Hair, prevents its falling or turning grey, and imparts to it a beautiful glossy appearance. It never fails to RESTORE GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR.

IT IS NOT A DYE, but acts directly upon the roots of the Hair, giving them the natural nourishment required, producing the same vitality and luxuriant quantity as in youth. It will restore it on bald places, requires no previous preparation of the hair, and is easily applied by one's self. One bottle will usually last for a year, as after the hair is once restored, occasional applications once in three months will insure against grey hairs to the most advanced age.

The Restorer Reproduces and the Hair Dressing Cultivates and Beautifies. Principal Sales Office, 198 Greenwich Street, New York City. August 1, 1867.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's PREPARATIONS FOR THE HAIR.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Dressing, or ZYLOBALSAMUM, is essential to use with the Restorer, but the Hair Dressing alone often restores, and never fails to invigorate, beautify and refresh the Hair, rendering it soft, silky and glossy, and disposing it to remain in any desired position.

FOR LADIES AND CHILDREN, whose hair requires frequent dressing, it has no equal. No lady's toilet is complete without it. The rich glossy appearance imparted is truly wonderful. It cleanses the Hair, removes all dandruff, imparts to it a most delightful fragrance, and will prevent the Hair from falling out, and is the most economical and valuable Hair Dressing known. Millions of bottles sold every year.

A good chance for Speculators!

FARM FOR SALE!

THE Subscriber offers for Sale, the under-mentioned property, in one lot, or in any part, at a great bargain, and on the most liberal terms.—

1. That well-known MILL SITE and FARM, in FREEBORN, Lot 25, formerly known as Keefer's Bridge, on the Wilket River Stream, with a secured right to overflow. This valuable property is situated only 6 miles from Summerside, on the main road, and consists of 50 acres of FREEHOLD LAND, of an excellent quality; about one-half is cleared, and the remainder can be made ready for ploughing at a trifling cost. An excellent crop of wheat was taken from it this season, and twelve acres of it are laid down with grass. There is a large quantity of building stone and limestone (to what extent is not known) on the premises.

2. About 50 acres of LEASEHOLD LAND, on Lot 19, held for 999 years at 1s cy. per acre. It is about two miles from the above Site, is covered with a heavy growth of spruce fir, juniper and hard wood. No better lumber can be found on the Island than there is on this farm.

3. About 180 acres of LAND on Mill's Point formerly known as Rowland's Point. 75 acres are held in Freehold, and the remainder under lease for 999 years at 1s cy. per acre—one-ninth added. About 150 acres of it are on Lot 18, remainder on Lot 19, all under one fence; there is about 120 acres clear from stumps; besides two large marshes. This property fronts on Richmond Bay, Indian River, and Barbara Weir. It requires no praise, as it is well known to be one of the best wheat and root growing and stock raising farms in Prince Edward Island. There is a well stocked orchard of apples and other fruit trees on the farm. The buildings require a little improvement. 50 acres of the land could be sown to wheat the coming Spring; there was a large quantity of grass seed sown last spring; and there is a large quantity of mowed mud and sea weed on the front of the farm. It is a splendid place for fishing and fowling.

A good title of the above property can be given. The terms will be very easy, and made known on application. The above property if not sold in a short time by private sale will be offered at Auction, of which due notice will be given.

The sole object of the subscriber in selling out is that he intends to return to England to his old friends.

The quality of limestone on the Mill's Point Farm is described in Sutherland's Geography and the Bay and River can be seen on Baker's Map. It is a good place for loading.

Further particulars made known on application at the Journal Office, or to the owner, WILLIAM T. MILL, Grove Park, Mill's Point, } 1st tf } Lot 18, Oct 31, 1867 }
