Sir Walter Scott's First Brief.
Sir Walter Scott had his share of curious experiences shortly after being called to the bar. His first appearance as counsel in a criminal court was at Jedburg assizes in 1793, when he successfully defended a veteran poacher. "You're a lucky scoundrel," Scott whispered to his client when the verdict was given.
"I'm just of your mind," returned the latter, "and I'll send you a maikin"—namely, a hare—"the morn, man." Lockhart, who narrates the incident, omits to add whether the "maikin" duly reached Scott, but no doubt it did.
On another occasion Scott was less successful in his defense of a house-breaker, but the culprit, grateful for his counsel's exertions, gave him, in lieu of the orthodox fee, which he was unable to pay, this piece of advice, to the value of which he (the house-breaker) could professionally attest: First, never to have a large watchdog out of doors, but to keep a little yelping terrier within, and, secondly, to put no trust in nice, clever, gimcrack locks, but to pin his faith to a huge old heavy one with a rusty key. Scott long remembered this incident, and 30 years later, at a judges' dinner at Jedburg, he recalled it in this impromptu rhyme:
Yelping terrier, rusty key,
Was Walter Scott's best Jeddart fee.

A LITTLE GRAVE.

Dark are the mounds where the snow blast is sweeping,
Wild is the cry of the wind on its flight,
Cold is the drift that the north wind is heaping
Over the nursing alone in the night!

Alone in the night and the dark that went creeping
Out of her arms but a daybreak ago!
Anguished with sorrow, her watch she is keeping.
Far would she follow through storm and through snow.

Nay, tender mother, have done with your weeping,
Not in the night and the dark has he part.
His all of bright heaven save when he is sleeping
And dreaming of heaven, warm, warm in your heart.
—Harper's Bazar.

A Serious Outlook.

"What I want," said the manager, "is a joyous burlesque."
"Well," replied the scribe, "I'll do what I can. But I give you fair warning you're killing the goose that lays the golden egg. If everybody keeps on writing burlesques, in a short time there won't be anything serious for people to make fun of."—Washington Star.

Social Discontent.

"Doesn't it make you sad when you think of the poor?"
"Why, no, not particularly. It makes me mad, though, when I think of the rich."—Indianapolis Journal.

Sherwin-Williams
Bicycle Enamel.

A hundred dollar bicycle can be ruined, so far as its appearance is concerned, by a few cents worth of inferior enamel. The average enamel for bicycles is also recommended for a dozen other purposes. That's not true of THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS BICYCLE ENAMEL. It is intended for one use and it is the right thing for that use. It will reproduce the original surface.
A small brush, a little enamel, and a little time are all that is needed to make a bicycle look as good as new. Easy to put on, hard to knock off. A variety of colors.
THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS BICYCLE POLISH will keep the nickel parts bright. Its easy to use. For sale at the principal hardware and paint dealers.
