MONDAY, Nov. 17.—On this day, anno 1663, the Suez Canal was successfully opened in the presence of the Emperor of Austria, the Empress of the French, the Viceroy of Egypt, and the other notabilities. The Caliph Omar (about 640) opposed cutting the Isthmus, but a plan for a canal, between the head of the Red Sea, and the Bay of Pilsnium, was brought forward by Mr. Ferdinand de Lesseps in 1812. He undertook to cut a canal through ninety miles of sand, to run out mired into the Mediterranean; to deepen the shallow waters; to create ports to receive the ships from India and Australia, and to adopt the canal to purposes of irrigation. To this the consent of Egypt, Turkey, Russia, France and Austria, was gradually obtained; but Great Britain withheld her consent. Mr. Gladstone in 1877, claimed a gain to England by the canal, of £1,700,000.

At the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this evening the case of the Herald Publishing Company was adjourned until to-morrow. One drunk was disposed of, and John Egan was sentenced to two months imprisonment for assaulting Mrs. Offer.

A CORRESPONDENT suggests "that the City Council issue a guide-book for the benefit of pedestrians who are obliged to navigate our wretched plankways." The idea is a good one, but, we fear, impracticable, as our sidewalks are rapidly growing worse, and the "guide" which would be useful one week would be almost useless the next.

A CAVE has been discovered under a town in Pennsylvania in which was found a lot of paper, paper collars, envelopes, etc. While in it the visitor can distinctly hear the ringing of church bells, the rumbling of carriages, and other noises made overhead. THE Canadian Pacific railway company has completed arrangements by which the loan of five million dollars obtained in New York last year, for the purpose of providing security for the government guarantee, has been paid off. The ten millions of stock pledged to secure this loan has gone into the hands of investors, the result of the transaction being to relieve the company of a liability of five million dollars, and increase the amount of its outstanding stock from fifty-five to sixty-five millions. — Montreal Gazette.

DID NOT WANT TO GO TO FIJI.—On Monday evening a sixteen year old daughter of Capt. Charles Anderson, of the brig Jaka-Yuka, at Borechester, disappeared from her home, and, although a search was begun only a few minutes after she was last seen, not the slightest trace of her has yet been found. A letter which she left in her room stated that she was not willing to go with her family to the Fiji Islands, and that she could earn her own living. The search for the missing girl has been very thorough, and it is remarkable that she should be able to remain concealed so long. — St. John Telegraph.

BERRY WALL, the king of the New York dudes, is a remarkable personage. His daily companions in his promenades along Fifth Avenue are two black poodles, which, like their master, are remarkable for their covering. The hair is left on their heads, necks and tails, also in a curious outline across their backs. The rest of their surface is shaven smoothly. That makes them so grotesque that the passer-by cannot help turning around to look again, and of course the view takes in Berry himself. The crowning idiosyncy is a golden bracelet on one foreleg of each dog, watching singular ones on the owner's wrists.

TEACHERS FOR TRINIDAD.—At a recent meeting of the Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church, held at New Glasgow, N. S., applications for the position of teachers for two schools in the Trinidad mission were received. The young ladies chosen are Miss Amy B. Hilton, daughter of Mr. George Hilton, of Yarmouth, and Miss Copeland, of Pictou. They will probably sail about the last week of November, via Boston and New York. The mission among the coolies in Trinidad is one of the most hopeful and encouraging undertaken by the Presbyterians. Miss Hilton will labor under the supervision of Rev. John Morton, the pioneer missionary in that field, and Miss Copeland under the care of Rev. Kenneth Grant, who returned immediately after his visit to Yarmouth in September.

DEATH OF D. BANKS MCKENZIE.—The St. John Sun announces the death of D. Banks McKenzie, the noted temperance evangelist. His death occurred at Salt Lake City, on the 12th inst. The Sun says:—"Mr. McKenzie's impassioned utterances are fresh in the memory of those temperance men in St. John and Fredericton who took part in the blue ribbon revival of 1877-78, and which was, to a great degree, the practical precursor of the Scott Act. At Fredericton, Banks McKenzie was received with open arms, and the legislature suspended its sessions to listen to his eloquence. His first tour through New Brunswick was for him a financial success, but his second visit was not particularly remunerative. So Banks McKenzie left these parts and hid himself to the Pacific slope, where for a time he prospered. Later on he settled in the Mormon country of Salt Lake and so stirred up the Mormons on the temperance question as to induce them to erect a grand Opera House. It was while laboring at Salt Lake that he died, aged 47."

The Bazaar

The Bazaar in aid of St. Joseph's Convent was concluded on Saturday night. It was the largest and most successful bazaar ever held in the Province. We learn the amount realized was over two thousand and fifty dollars. The election on Saturday night was most exciting. At noon the count showed the contest to be between Messrs. Sullivan and Blake, but at eight o'clock Mr. Welsh proved to be a strong popular candidate, and on the ballot at 9.30 he scored 1,609 against 1,040 for Mr. Blake, and 1301 for Mr. Sullivan. After this ballot was posted the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, and ballots were eagerly purchased. The last count was announced for ten o'clock, but the agents could not dispose of the number of ballots applied for until a quarter past ten, when the last count was commenced. This ballot showed that Mr. Sullivan's friends rallied around him and placed him at the head of the poll, with Mr. Blake following, and Mr. Welsh not far behind. Following is the result of this poll at the close. We do not give the names and votes of the other candidates, as it was thought advisable at eight o'clock to leave the contest between the candidates for whom the largest number of votes were then cast:—

Sullivan.....	2047
Blake.....	2045

Mr. Sullivan, the most popular candidate, was presented with a handsome five o'clock tea table.

The Pork Trade.

Great caution should be used by those engaged in packing pork; and our farmers should not expect packers to pay more than prices abroad will warrant. During the past two weeks, prices have ranged from 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 cents, which, according to Chicago quotations of the 8th inst., is at least one cent per lb more than can be realized by shippers. We give Chicago quotations of 8th Nov. as follows:—

Mess pork.....	$13.00
Back pork.....	13.00
Clear cut pork.....	13.00
Prime mess pork (Durbrow).....	12.50
Extra prime pork.....	10.50
Refined lard.....	00.74

To these prices must be added, freight $1.20, duty $2.00, which makes our pork laid down at Halifax worth to-day: Mess $16.20, prime mess $13.75. This, together with a prospect of still lower prices for January delivery is a poor outlook for our pork trade this season.
