A WESTERN CRIME.

Two Farmers Murdered for Money

BOSEVAIN, Man., Oct. 8.—The bodies of Charles Daw and Jacob Smith, farmers, reported missing for some time, were found in an old well which had been filled in three or four feet from the top shortly before the crime was committed. Walter Gordon, who arrived from Mexico and purchased Daw's farm, for which he paid $5,000, is suspected of the crime. Gordon also bought Smith's stock and implements at $6.50, paying cash and asking Smith's receipt for the same. Daw and Smith therefore had a large amount of money on their persons. Nothing was heard from them for some weeks. Friends of Daw suspecting foul play, started to make inquiry. Finding no trace of the men they called in the police. The bodies were found in the well. Gordon, hearing that a detective was on the way to investigate, skipped out.

MEETING OF THE TUPPER CLUB

A Large Attendance Last Night

SPEECHES BY SENATOR FERGUSON AND MR. BELL.

The Party of Broken Promises and Deception Arraigned.

The wet and disagreeable weather of last evening did not put a damper upon the enthusiasm of the Tupper Club, and when President Dawson took the chair at eight o'clock and called the meeting to order the spacious hall was filled.

After routine business, which included the enrolling of many new members, the President explained that the meeting would be addressed, in turn by Senator Ferguson and Mr. A. C. Bell, M. P., of New Glasgow, who had kindly consented to come over to the Island and speak before the club. The steamer was due about twenty minutes of nine, and while he was at the wharf with Mr. W. S. Stewart receiving Mr. Bell he asked the meeting to appoint a chairman to act in his place. The meeting selected Dr. R. MacNeill, who, in a few well chosen words, introduced Senator Ferguson, who was received with applause.

After congratulating the young Liberal Conservatives upon the organization of the Tupper Club, the Senator proceeded to explain the situation as regards the secrecy of the ballot. He gave a critical analysis of the whole matter, demonstrating clearly that the ballot was today as secret as ever. The only object Sir Louis and the Patriot could have in suggesting that the ballot was not so secret was to influence the railway and civil service vote. It was the act of a drowning man catching at a straw. The consensus of opinion—of independent opinion—is that the Laurier-Farje administration will be badly defeated on the 7th of November. The Liberals had not fulfilled one of the pledges they made while in Opposition. The Ottawa platform had not been acted upon. They had promised to reduce the expenditure, and instead had increased it by millions of dollars. They had expressed their horror at the debt of the country, and they had added millions to it. They had several trade policies, and all agreed that protection should be killed. But when they came into power they adopted the very National Policy they condemned when in opposition. The National Policy is the Liberal-Conservative policy, and when the Conservatives are returned to power, as he felt sure they would be on the 7th of November, they would enlarge it. Senator Ferguson then drew attention to Sir Charles Tupper's manifesto along this line, and closed by vigorously demonstrating the incapacity of the Liberals in the cold storage matter, the last Atlantic service and preferential trade. Senator Ferguson's address was followed with the closest attention throughout, and was frequently interrupted by applause.

Mr. Bell, who entered the hall as Senator Ferguson was about to close his address, was received with applause, which was renewed when he came forward to address the meeting. Mr. Bell expressed his pleasure at the honor done him in inviting him to speak before the Tupper Club of Charlottetown. The name "Tupper" presaged victory. The time of the contest was short, and it behooved every Liberal-Conservative to be up and doing. He brought good news from Nova Scotia. In Cumberland County Caban was putting up a good fight, and the prospects for his success were excellent. In Pictou County, after a long contest, the Liberals had selected Hon. Mr. Fielding, to whom he (Mr. Bell) promised a good fight and a good beating. In all his years of political life he never saw the Liberal-Conservatives more united than they are today. There was nothing the Liberals had done that would warrant them in asking a renewal of power. Their record was one of broken promises and incapacity. They had proved themselves faithless. When in opposition their policy was anything that would give them power; when they got in the carried out the policy of their predecessors. They are going to the country now without a settled policy or programme, trying to snatch another catch verdict. Sir Charles, however, comes out with a programme setting forth the Conservatives' policy. The Laurier party are deceivers, and deserve nothing but condemnation. The Liberals always talked against Protection; but when they obtained power they continued the National Policy, making a few trifling changes in detail. They did not dare to touch the National Policy. The Conservative party always had a leaning towards the Mother Country, while the Liberals preferred the United States. (In when the Liberals obtained power their time changed, and they became exceedingly British. The Conservative policy also prevailed in regard to sending the troops to South Africa. Laurier said to the Globe that he was not going to send troops there to fight the battles of the Empire; but a few days later, when the voice of the people was heard, he faced about and the brave Canadians were sent out; he had once more done the thing he said he would not do. Since confederation the Liberal-Conservatives have been in power continuously with the exception of 8 years, from 1874 to 1878 and from 1896 to the present time. During all these years Liberal-Conservative sentiment prevailed, and the Liberal-Conservatives would be at the head of affairs after the next election. The Liberals cannot point to one creditable act of theirs as a result of their four years of rule; they cannot point to one act that has benefited the country. They bled in respect of the fast Atlantic service and cold storage, failing even to take advantage of the arrangements made by the Liberal Conservatives before they went out of power. Mr. Bell then took up and exposed the emergency food deal and the Yukon railway scandal, showing up the conduct of the Government and its ministers in respect of both. It was a characteristic of all Liberal administrations to leave undone the things they should do, and do those things they ought not to do. The Conservative party never made a promise it did not intend to keep. The Conservatives owe it to themselves, as well as to those who have gone before, that they hurl from power a party that should never be there. He felt sure that the Island would do its duty in this regard, and that five Conservatives would be elected. Martin and Macdonald are two of the ablest men in the House of Commons, and Hon. Mr. Ferguson is one of the most highly valued members of the Senate. Nova Scotia would do its duty. No party ever had a better cause than ours; no party ever went into a contest with a more cause than the Liberals. Mr. Bell's able and eloquent address was warmly appreciated, as was evidenced by the many outbursts of applause he received.

At the close of his remarks a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Bell, which he fittingly acknowledged. The vote was proposed by Mr. W. S. Stewart, P. C., and seconded by Dr. MacNeill.

Upon motion of Mr. R. B. Norton Mr. Bell was made an honorary member of the Tupper Club. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting, and the Tupper Club may be relied upon to do its share in promoting the Liberal-Conservative victory of the 7th of November.
