Rheumatism of the Joints

AND INHERITED HUMOR OF THE BLOOD

Banished by Skoda's, AFTER PHYSICIANS HAD PRONOUNCED THEM INCURABLE!

MARCUS LITTLEFIELD LIVES AT WEST WINTERPORT, N.S. A FARMER BY OCCUPATION, HE ENJOYS THE RESPECT OF ALL WHO KNOW HIM. IN CONVERSATION WITH THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE SKODA DISCOVERY CO., NOT LONG SINCE HE RELATED THE FOLLOWING STORY:

"Ever since I was born, I have been troubled at times, more or less, with a HUMOR on my hands, face and neck. For fifteen years it has been on the increase, I have been gradually falling in health, and for three years past it has reached and burned so badly, that all the way I could get any rest at night, and this only relieved me for a few hours. In addition to this, eight months ago, Rheumatism in my neck and shoulders set in, drawing my shoulders together, and I was unable to do any work, and was a great sufferer. I consulted several Physicians, including Specialists in Boston, and took nearly all the medicines mentioned in the advertisement, but received no benefit whatever. I had given up all hope, and my friends thought I could live but a few months. I began the use of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, and in a few days, according to directions, and also used SKODA'S OINTMENT. After using them but one week, there was a visible change in appearance. My skin that was literally covered with pimples and blotches began to clear up. My appetite became good, and I gained weight. I have now used less than two courses of these REMEDIES, and my Rheumatism has entirely disappeared. SHOULDERS THAT WERE BENT OUT OF PLACE ARE NOW IN THEIR PROPER POSITION. MY SKIN IS FREE FROM DIRTINESS AND PIMPLES. I have gained flesh, and chop cook wood well, and do not in all my life, and am able to work all the time. My friends are astounded at the results, and not more so than myself. They consider it almost miraculous."

BETTER THAN ANY OTHER REMEDY.

Well and Truly Laid

The Corner Stone of the Masonic Temple.

REV. W. W. BREWER'S ADDRESS

The Masons had beautiful weather Tuesday for the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new temple.

Headed by Galbraith's band the procession left the lodge room, Water Street, about 2.30 p. m., and proceeded up Queen Street to the site of the new building. The turnout was a very creditable one, and was witnessed by large numbers of people who lined the streets.

The following members of the fraternity took part in the ceremony: M. W. G. M. Donald Darrach; S. W. D. G. M. T. A. McLean; R. W. S. G. W. J. Munro; R. W. J. G. W. J. Weldon; B. W. G. T. J. A. Lawton; R. W. G. S. B. W. Higgs; R. W. G. L. D. McLean; R. W. G. C. Rev. W. Fisher; R. W. G. M. S. W. Crabbe; W. S. G. D. L. Morris; W. J. G. D. J. B. Davidson; W. G. S. B. H. J. Worth; W. G. S. B. S. Grey; W. S. G. S. C. H. Sterns; W. J. G. S. D. Schurman; W. G. P. W. P. Doull; G. T. J. Hobbs.

Grand Master Darrach performed the duties of his office in a very creditable manner.

The platform was erected at the northeast corner, facing which was the corner stone. The beautiful and impressive ceremony of the masonic ritual was then gone through with and the corner stone declared "well and truly laid." The articles deposited in the cavity of the stone were as follows:

Copy of notice convening the M. W. Grand Lodge.

Copy of notice convening St. John's Lodge.

Copy of notice convening Victoria Lodge.

Copy of the ceremonies used on this occasion.

Copy of printed proceedings of the M. W. Grand Lodge for 1891.

Copy of the by-laws of St. John's Victoria, and Mt. Zion Lodges.

Parchment roll containing the signatures of the subscribers to the corner stone fund.

DAILY GUARDIAN, Daily Patriot and Daily Examiner, newspapers.

Coins of the realm, and a scroll of which the following is a copy:

In the name and by the favor of the GLORIOUS ARCHITECT OF HEAVEN AND EARTH, on the twenty-fourth day of May, A. D. 1892, and in the Era of Freemasonry, Anno Luis, 5892, and in the fifty-fifth year of the reign of our Gracious Sovereign VICTORIA, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India, and the Dependencies in Europe, Asia, Australasia, Dominion of Canada, etc.

His Excellency, the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Arthur Stanley, Baron Stanley of Preston, being Governor General of Canada.

Jedediah Sisson Carrvell, Esquire, being Lieutenant-Governor of Prince Edward Island.

The Hon. John Joseph C. Abbott, President of Council and Premier of the Dominion of Canada.

The Honorable Frederick Peters, Premier of Prince Edward Island.

The Honorable T. Heath Haviland, Q. C., Mayor of the City of Charlottetown.

Simon W. Crabbe, Esquire, President Masonic Temple Company.

Architects—Phillips and Chappell. Contractors—McDonald and Harper.

This corner stone of the Masonic Temple was laid by Donald Darrach, Esquire, M.D., M. W. G. M. of A. F. and A. M. of Prince Edward Island, assisted by the Grand Officers and a large number of brethren, with the usual ceremonies of the order. Which may the G. A. O. T. U. ever protect and bless.

MR. BREWER'S ADDRESS.

Most Worshipful Grand Master: Worshipful Brethren and Craftsmen: I come to you, not to speak an oration, but as the bearer of words of congratulation and counsel on this auspicious day—a day when boom of cannon, ringing of bells and patriotic songs will tell the wide world over how Englishmen love their Queen. All hail this day! As loyal Canadians and Masons we greet it, and say, "Long Live Our Gracious Queen."

We are met under the bright blue of a cloudless sky, and in the summer sunshine of this perfect day, to lay, in the name of the Great Architect of the Universe, and in the presence of this vast assemblage, the corner stone of our Masonic Temple. With pride we remember that the historic founders of our fraternity were builders of a temple. Not from masons engaged in piling pyramids wherein Egypt's tyrants might, as embalmed mummies, slumber—not from the hosts of workmen engaged in building palaces wherein luxury and licentiousness might revel and rule—but from craftsmen whose time, and toil, and whose mind and muscle were consecrated to the holy work of building a Temple for the worship of the Most High God, do we trace our descent. I do not propose, however, to discuss the past history of Masonry; that is a subject which has taxed the abilities of many founders beyond my limited knowledge, and the time allotted me today. I prefer to speak of what Masonry is, rather than what it was, and in doing so, our thoughts naturally cluster around one word—a word which should never forsake at any moment of our existence, and is at the last whispered in faltering over our open grave—the simple but all-expressive word, "Brother"—the foundation, copstone and cement of our Order.

Today Masonry presents to the world a united brotherhood, which has not only stood the test of centuries, but of different races, varied nationalities, widely-extended countries, and of diverse creeds—brotherhood which is based on the common Fatherhood of the Most High.

The charge, sometimes made, that Masonry is anti-Christian, is utterly false. While every Lodge is consecrated in the Name of God—every meeting begun and ended with appeals to His Holy Name, while the Bible is never closed during our sessions, the care is afforded to treat such a charge as a misapprehension of the ignorant, or a slander of the malicious. Free Masonry is not a religion; it leaves that great and solemn question to be settled between a man and his God. All the demands of his sons is that they shall adore the Almighty Father—shall love the universal Brotherhood—shall visit the widow and the fatherless in their affliction, and keep themselves unspotted from the sin and vice of the world.

H. r. doors are only closed against the atheist, the libertine and the fool. The Grand Lodge of England has nobly indicated this principle, by refusing to acknowledge as brethren some who impiously and in defiance of all Masonic tradition, dared to remove the Name of God from their ritual—by that act they cut themselves off from the Universal Brotherhood, and from that moment ceased to be Free and Accepted Masons. Our true safety and strength lies in obedience to the precept taught us in the Holy Bible, the manner of His Author, by asking His aid in all our lawful undertakings and by looking up to Him in every emergency for comfort and support.

If we would preserve and beautify our ancient and illustrious Order, we must not be satisfied with the name, parade and mere outward trappings of the Craft. We must live Masonry—if it be of any value to the world or ourselves. Wearing an apron does not make a man a Mason, or even the correct knowledge of our working tools and ritual—these are but the emblems of those grand principles which constitute Free-Masonry. Applied Masonry is the need of the hour. Be it ours to imitate our ancient, evidences of those skill and faithfulness remain to the present day in those stately cathedrals which adorn and beautify the Fatherland. Examine them, and in every perfectly finished arch, every quaint capital, every bit of carved satire, you will see evidences of the life and freedom of the workmen. You will find no mechanical slave labor, no details carelessly finished, no part because it was unseen or inconspicuous, scamped or left bare and rough; but every niche of tracery, show that the soul of the craftsman was in his work; that was principle in the touch of his chisel, honor in the stroke of his gavel, self-sacrifice in the nice adjustment of his compass. And all we to whom the Great Architect has committed the erection of a far more superb and majestic edifice, fall behind the operative mason in the quality of our work? God forbid!

The speaker then directed the attention of his auditors to the four following points: 1. The Antiquity of Masonry. 2. The History of Masonry. 3. The Mystery of Masonry. 4. The Mutual Help of Masonry.

Worshipful Master, and Brethren, one and all, may we ever keep in view the moral and real design of Masonry. Noble architects as we are, may we build temples for every virtue, and dungeons for every vice. May we haste to every humane and friendly office, ever ready to pour oil and wine into the wounds of our distressed brethren, and in living the principles we profess, bind within the jeweled belt of our brotherhood, not only those who shall hail us in Masonic phrase and form, but the lowly, the needy, the helpless and the poor. A man in misery makes a mission for every true Mason. He may not make our sign of distress, for he knows it not, but he is a fellow-man in need, and our business before our God is to lend him a helping hand.

Brethren, we are building for eternity. Decay shall work its ruin upon these huge stones—the noble structures to be built of these solid foundations shall crumble to dust—"cloud-capped towers, the gorgeous palaces, the solemn temples, the Great Globe itself shall dissolve." The Sun unweathed shall drag along the jarring Heavens and refuse to shine—the light of the Stars shall pale away, and the Moon roll up the rending sky, red as blood, and her latest foundations shall crumble to dust. The floor of the hall will be on a sharp incline to the rear end of the building. Private boxes will be arranged next the stage, and a gallery will run around three sides of the room. The theatre will be fitted up with all the modern improvements, including opera chairs, etc. The total seating accommodation will be about 1,200. The main entrance to the theatre and other parts of the building will be from Grafton Street, through a passage way, (the floor of which will be inclined) 16 feet wide, starting a few steps from the sidewalk and landing in the lobby or floor of hall, at a height of 8 feet from the street level. There will also be side entrances to the theatre and dressing rooms. The stage will be 60x40 feet. On a level with the stage, and adjoining the same, but outside the main building, there will be large and well ventilated dressing rooms. On each side of the main entrance there will be a large store, 40x22 feet, and a room over each store the same size. The upper floor will be used for Masonic purposes, and will be fitted up with lodge room 50x30, refreshment room 32x50, and ante-rooms. Access will be had to all parts of the building through rooms halls and by wide easy platform stairs, and all parts of the building will be well lighted, heated and ventilated.

That Crapaud Route.

To the Editor of The Guardian.

Sir,—If you will tell me who your correspondent "No Retrenchment" is I will "put him on the back," and when I say this I voice the sentiments of every man, woman and child in this part of the Province. The M. A. Starr did not make a return trip from this port on the 21st, although there was high water both morning and evening of that day, and although it was then just two weeks since her last return trip. She arrived here about midday, and in that case why can she not make the usual return trip that the Heather Belle made each Saturday. It looks as if that excuse about her being unable to enter this port except at high water should not be tolerated.

We call the attention of the Directors of the Three Rivers Steamship Company to the ill treatment to which we are being subjected, and suggest that they send their S.S. Electra to this port every Saturday. The large freight and passenger traffic will well repay them for giving us a return trip to the Capital once a week.

Crapaud, May 24, 1892.

Revival at Bonshaw.

Knowing that you take a deep interest in religious matters, and would like to learn that the good cause is progressing, I send you a few lines concerning the religious revival that has been, and is still going on in our congregation, under the able ministry of Mr. Goodwill. Since last fall hundreds of young people were awakened to the sense of their danger from the consequence of sin, and are now rejoicing in the knowledge that their sins are forgiven, and are free from sin through the merits of their Saviour. The meetings were very largely attended, and had to be continued until late hours, sometimes having to return to the church after dismissing. There were some who came to scoff and pass unkind remarks about the work, and went so far, as to say, that Mr. Goodwill himself did not believe in the work, and expressed himself in that way, to some parties. But this was completely disproved by himself, by giving an account of a similar revival, which took place under his ministry in Cape Breton, and Ontario, and particularly instanced the case of a young man in Ontario, an unbeliever, who attended one of his meetings for the purpose of passing remarks, but who was awakened under Mr. Goodwill's ministry, and was rolling on the floor in mental anguish, and who is now a distinguished minister in the Presbyterian church—the Rev. Hugh Lamont, a sincere christian, and splendid man. Our congregation is now in a flourishing condition. Your paper is quite a favorite out here, as it contains more current news, besides religious matters.

The Reminiscences of Mr. John Ross.

We know hardly what to say about "Reminiscences" in general, quite well knowing what to say about Mr. Ross's in particular. There was one, by name Carlyle, who sent out a most absurd volume of that sort some years ago, which a couple of unblushingly perverse continents at once proceeded to take to their hearts. It is assuredly by such "Reminiscences" as this Carlyle wrote, that literature is being dragged down into mediocrity and into ridicule.

Now, Mr. Ross's pamphlet—see its lineaments, its philanthropic aims! Remember that, so far as is known, this fellow Carlyle did not mention one probably good ungent for the use of those who might receive cuts or burns, or in fact any of the thousand accidents to which we are every day liable. In such a benefaction, compare the two volumes of "Reminiscences,"—one by our Island's gifted son, the other by the old dyspeptic who used to live in Chelsea, England, and see how much more genius and practical hints blaze from the volume of the whose name is a household word among us!

If it were for nothing else except the humor, Mr. Ross's pamphlet would easily take the highest place. Had we room we should delight to make extracts. However, the tribute of our own poor pen can be but feeble compared with the recollections which must soon overflow from all the Reviews and newspapers in Canada. 'Tis no little honor that Mr. Ross has brought upon the land whose flag he loves.

Despite our prophecies it would not after all surprise us one bit to see our people indifferent to this author and his great work. It has, so Johnson was a beggar long after he had made himself immortal. Shakespeare passed without notice from contemporaries. It is a singular fact that the most precious productions wait the longest to which must soon overflow from all the Reviews and newspapers in Canada.
