MR. AND MRS. GORDON R. MACDONALD
Young Couple Plight Troth At Pretty Wedding Ceremony

St. Paul's United Church, Kelowna, British Columbia, was a beautifully decorated with baskets of tall gladioli in soft shades of white and yellow for the marriage of Mary-Louise Jensen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jensen, Kelowna, B.C., to Mr. Gordon Raymond MacDonald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell MacDonald of Summerside, Prince Edward Island.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend A. Birse and Mrs. Percy Petty, piece was organ.

The petite dark-haired bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a Spanish theme, and looked radiant in champagne nee de soie, fashioned with a floor length skirt of soft folds confined at the waist with a self fabric ruffled. The short skirt of scalloped rose point lace was fastened at the back of the neck with a bow and her face mantilla was placed over a high Spanish comb. She carried a fan of stiffened white lace with a graceful spray of dainty white orchids attached. Champagne satin pumps with terran pompoms, and lace mitts, were a fitting complement to her gown.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Linda Bickerton, of Vancouver, and Miss Charmlan Jensen, younger sister of the bride, wore gowns of imported cotton satin in shades of gold, shocking pink, tangerine and chartreuse. Their gowns were styled similarly to the bride's, but in the white shorter length, and the flowers on their fans were Spanish combs carried out the bride's theme.

The two little flower girls, twin sisters Sheridan and Shavna O'Neil, were delightful miniature counterparts of the bridesmaids, wearing dresses of similar style and material, edged with dainty lace at the neckline and sleeves and wearing combs in their hair. White ballet slippers, dainty white gloves, and tiny white flowered fans, made them an adorable pair.

The best man was Mr. Douglas Butterworth of Kamloops, and the guests were in charge of their places by Mr. Peter Dohse, Mr. Phillip Hammond, and Mr. D. N. A. D. Butterworth of Oyaama. Unusual, but very lovely was the cello music greeting the guests as they arrived at the church. During the signing of the register, Miss Sharon McKinley, cellist, played appropriate music.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 2175 Abbott Street, Kelowna. In the house, patio and garden were gay with dozens of gorgeous gladioli in colors of purple, blue and white.

The mother of the bride looked charming in a sheath of embroidered linen in beige, with gloves and shoes in tone. Her petal hat was also in beige, and complementing the colours of the wedding party was her corsage of rosebuds and white chrysanthemums in tawny shades.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell MacDonald, the groom's parents, were unable to attend the wedding, but sent a telegram of good wishes.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Alan Moss, who gave an amusing and clever account of the bride in reverse, which was replied to by the groom. Mr. Douglas Butterworth, of Kamloops, toasted the bride and read the many telegrams received from Ontario, Quebec, Prince Edward Island, California and Dusseldorf, Germany.

In the garden, a three tiered wedding cake, delicately decorated in white and yellow roses, centered the table. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. S.M. Simpson of Kelowna and Mrs. Harold Butterworth of Oyaama. Servers were Mrs. Alan Moss, Mrs. Douglas Butterworth, Mrs. Peter Kuehn, Miss Mary Shink, Miss Carol Jones, Miss Marla Mervyn, Miss Lynn Cooper and the Misses Susan and Gillian Moss.

For a honeymoon in the Okanagan Valley, and Stratford, Ontario, the bride wore a lightweight, pure wool suit of deep color with a pink floral hat and other accessories in beige and pinned to her jacket was the orchid corsage she had carried on her fan.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was widely entertained, and received many lovely gifts. The bride has been studying music at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto for the past two years. Mr. MacDonald is an associate of the Ontario College of Art, having graduated this year. They will reside in Toronto, Ont.
