The other commodities discussed were rice, meat, dairy products, cotton, copper, zinc, aluminum, steel, fertilizers and engineering products.

Chief Consideration
In considering development programs, the conference decided to consider the balance of payments as the chief consideration. The problems discussed were reduced to three basic factors:

1. Men—skilled and technical manpower.
2. Machines—machinery of all kinds, with emphasis on capital equipment.
3. Money—this was not discussed in detail but there was general agreement the sterling area can do more to finance its own projects. This is in line with the current British emphasis on "trade, not aid."

Urges Higher Gold Price
Prime Minister Menzies on Australia addressed today's meeting and joined South Africa in urging a higher world price for gold, fixed since 1934 at $35 an ounce. It is understood that other countries represented here, including Canada, would welcome an increase.

However, Finance Minister Abbott emphasized in an interview later the whole question of the price of gold depends on the United States.

Abbott declined to comment on a Reuters news agency report that Commonwealth countries will consider jointly asking the U. S. to increase the price of gold. Reuters said Canada, Britain and Australia would back South Africa in making the joint request.

Former Italian Premier Orlando Passes At 92

ROME, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Vittorio Emanuele Orlando, 92, last surviving member of the Big Four architects of the peace of Versailles at his home tonight.

The man who steered Italy to victory in the First World War suffered a stroke a week ago. Before he sank into a coma Wednesday, the silver-haired Sicilian statesman, called "Premier of Victory" by the Italians, asked for the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

Orlando's family kept a long vigil at the bedside. His daughter, Mrs. Carlotta Carabelli, her husband and their daughter kept the watch, later joined by Orlando's four sons: Carlo, Francesco, Carlo and Ambrogio. From time to time they heard the aged statesman mutter "andiamo"—let us go.

Until the afternoon he fell ill Orlando stayed at work, attending sessions of the senate by virtue of having been a premier.

The climax of his brilliant career came at Versailles. There he joined the other three giants of the Big Four—President Woodrow Wilson, Prime Minister David Lloyd George of Britain and Premier Georges Clemenceau of France—to write the treaty of Versailles.

Orlando never signed the treaty. Italy had demanded inclusion of Fiume in her post-war kingdom Wilson declared this was an unjustifiable claim. Orlando walked out of the conference, but he returned later to oppose the treaty. On June 19, 1919, he resigned as premier, and years later said he did this so that he would not have to sign the pact.

N. B. School Is Damaged By Fire

EAST FLORENCEVILLE, N.B., Dec. 1.—(CP)—One hundred pupils of East Florenceville Superior School were sheltered from the burning within a minute today when fire broke out in the basement.

Flames, smoke and water caused substantial damage to the 31-year-old school, but none of the pupils were injured.

Principal Lawrence Dow and two teachers, Mrs. Paul Foster and Miss Hazel Harvey, escorted pupils outdoors while smoke poured through the school.

Youngsters in the primary classes were removed first, some of them leaving behind coats and jackets. The clothes were recovered later, drenched from hoses wielded by the East Florenceville Fire Department.

If pupils anticipated the fire meant an extended vacation for them, they were speedily disillusioned.

Mr. Dow said high school students will be back at their books tomorrow morning, in improvised classrooms offered by the Carleton County Co-operative. Other grades will resume studies Wednesday.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved: The supply secretary reported a box had been packed for Korea. A letter was read from Andrew Williamson, Field Secretary for the Maritime Home for Girls. It was agreed to help with a joint service, proceeds to be sent to same. The secretary gave a report on the recent fund-raising held at Kensington. The friendship secretary reported 11 sympathy cards, three get-well cards, three home calls and one hospital call. Mrs. Jas. Hickey gave a reading on Christian Stewardship, and the offering was taken and dedicated.

CIO Convention Gets Underway

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Delegates attending opening sessions of the CIO convention today called for an end of government wage controls and applauded a suggested merger with the rival AFL.

The delegates appeared to be still deadlocked, however, in a vote on a successor to the late Philip Murray as CIO president.

Forces supporting Walter Reuther, president of the big Auto Workers Union, and Allan S. Haywood, CIO executive vice-president, were engaged in a neck-and-neck race for the top CIO post.

A few relatively small unions, including the rubber workers and oil workers could hold the balance of power.

The end of government wage controls was recommended in a resolution unanimously adopted by the convention. It also urged dropping most price controls, but retaining checks on rents and use of scarce materials.

The convention recommended that most controls be kept only on a stand-by basis to be invoked in case of a new inflationary spiral. The resolution said it was improper to keep strict wage controls when price rules were being dropped or relaxed.

Tomb of Saint Francis Xavier To Be Opened

By Adrienne Farrell
BOMBAY, India, Dec. 1.—(Reuters)—The tomb of St. Francis Xavier will be opened tomorrow and the body of the "Apostle of the East" will be taken from its massive glass and silver coffin to be exposed for the last time for public veneration.

The ceremony, marking the fourth centenary of the Saint's death, will take place on the Portuguese island of Goa, off the west coast of India.

Thousands of Roman Catholic pilgrims from Europe and Asia have travelled to the island to witness the last exposition of the remains of the Jesuit missionary who spread the teachings of Christianity in the Far East.

As papal legate, the Archbishop of Lisbon, Cardinal Cerejeira, will open the coffin with three keys—one kept by the governor-general of Goa, one by the Archbishop and one by the administrator of the Jesuit College.

The body, now shrunken with age, will be lifted out and will remain overnight in the church. On Wednesday it will be taken from its resting place of 400 years and carried through the streets of the old city in procession to the Cathedral of St. Catherine, where it will lie until Jan. 3.

The body is complete except for one arm, which is in Rome, and a toe preserved in a separate reliquary in the church.

After a month, when pilgrims will file past and kiss the feet of the saint, the body will be replaced in the coffin and closed in the tomb for good as ordered by the Pope.

Most of the pilgrims have come from India and Pakistan, but there are also many from Portugal and Spain — the Saint's birthplace — including the ministers of justice of both countries.

It was on Goa that St. Francis began his life as a missionary. He arrived there in 1542 with a mission sent out by King John III of Portugal. Then for the next 11 years he travelled to India, Ceylon, Malaya, Japan and other Far Eastern countries preaching and setting up missions.

His main opposition came from European traders who hoped to keep the native peoples in subjugation. But the gentle Basque-born missionary won out in the end. An example of his tremendous influence was that there were over 400,000 Christians in Japan 40 years after his visit.

A corresponding corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Harding left on a wedding trip to points in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. For travelling the bride chose a rose gabardine suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Harding took up residence in Halifax.

Out-of-town guests at the Brinston-Harding wedding were: W. J. Price, Truro; Miss Marion Sander, Amherst; Miss Evelyn Harding, Summerside, P. E. I.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding and Mr. and Mrs. Elden Harding of Darnley, P. E. I.; Mrs. Kier Crofer, Baltic, P. E. I. —Bur
