SDU STUDENTS DEMONSTRATE

We want justice! We want publicity! We want a playoff! chanted approximately 150 students of St. Dunstan's University as they displayed their feeling for a recent Maritime Intercollegiate Hockey League decision concerning the league's top playoff spot. The students paraded through the streets of the city on the route of the Brier parade in the afternoon and turned out again last night reinforced with a band torches and some of the co-eds. The students disbanded after The Guardian photographer took the above picture but met at a local restaurant, where they began to make speeches and create a disturbance. Police cleared the establishment.

DEODORANT REQUIRED

Unusual Discovery Made Under Hood

An Urbanville man, Leo Arsenault, had an unusual experience yesterday when his late model automobile was thoroughly odorized by a skunk that apparently had crawled up under the car engine bonnet on Sunday night.

Mr. Arsenault told The Guardian he didn't notice the skunk until he was near Charlottetown and found the car engine suddenly was registering "hot". When he lifted the engine bonnet, he found that the skunk was somewhere below the battery level but the animal crawled on to the battery when the bonnet was lifted.

Mr. Arsenault found that the fan belt was broken and believes the odorous animal must have gotten his tail caught in the belt and caused it to break. The skunk was still alive, though.

Mr. Arsenault was looking for a powerful deodorant last evening before starting the almost 70-mile drive to his home. The smell inside his car was powerfully, strong, and he didn't relish the prospect of breathing those fumes all the way to his home

The Urbainville man was attending the farmers' meeting at the Vocational Institute on the Malpeque Road just outside the city.

REACTIONS TOO SLOW?

A Charlottetown resident complained last night that his fellow townsmen are much too undemonstrative, and his reference was to their reactions to the curlers' parade here yesterday afternoon.

"For example," he explained, "the Ernie Richardson rink passed where I was standing near the Bank of Montreal, and I shouted 'Ernie you're the greatest', and seven or eight people turned and looked at me as though I was a nut or something."

After all the Richardsons' are world champions and they passed on a float so everyone could see and the cheers were sadly missing. That's not good enough, the disappointed Charlottetown and criticized.

CeremonyOpens Brier Bonspiel

By A. C. HOLMAN

The skirl of the pipes and speakers with names like Shaw, MacDonald and Campbell gave the opening of the Macdonald Brier a distinctive Scottish ring Which is as it should be curling being a game that originated in that bonnie land across the sea

The 1964 Macdonald Brier opened yesterday afternoon at the Charlottetown Forum with a brief ceremony that preceded the first draw

Gordon Bennett, chairman of the Charlottetown Brier Committee made the opening remarks and welcomed the curlers on behalf of the Charlottetown curlers.

Premier Walter R. Shaw and Mayor A. Waithen Gaudet also had warm words of welcome to the curlers and spectators from out of the province. The Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell who is also a trustee of the Macdonald Brier Tankard spoke briefly.

President of the Dominion Curling Association, Dick Topping from Oliver, B.C., thanked the Premier and the Mayor on behalf of the curlers and guests and said that the people of P.E.I. "overwhelmed us with the type of reception that we have received."

Lieutenant-Governor W. J. MacDonald after a few remarks called on Mr. Topping to throw the first stone and declared the Brier open. Lieutenant-Governor Errick F. Willis of Manitoba and a Brier Trustee acted as skip for Mr. Topping and Art Skinner, first vice-president of the Dominion Curling Association and Art Love, president of the P.E.I. Curling Association swept the rock home.

Then with the tossing of coins to determine who should have the first rock 10 teams got down to the business. The Brier was underway!

CENSURE

asked Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae if the recent low prices offered for tobacco in Ontario will have any effect on the crop in this province. Mr. MacRae said that buyers from three companies have been in the province recently and he understood that most of the province's crop had been bought.

Mr. MacRae was asked by Arthur MacDonald (L-5th Kings) if the government is considering any action that would permit potato producers and shippers to have any control over potato marketing. Mr. MacRae said that some steps have already been taken. He said the elected potato board is in operation and according to regulations governing the board, a plebiscite must be taken within an 18-month period after the board was set up.

Provincial Secretary J. David Stewart tabled bound copies of 1963 speeches of the Legislature. This is the first time "in many years," he said, "that bound copies were made available."

"It's an excellent idea," said Opposition Leader Matheson.

Souris Tries For 3rd Time

SOURIS — The third nomination day in recent weeks to fill the vacancy left on the town council by the resignation of John J. MacDonald will be held today in the office of the town clerk here.

The third attempt at nominations became necessary when a storm knocked out the regular election and the second nomination day was declared illegal.

On the previous two occasions two men were nominated for the vacancy and probably will nominate again today. They are Michael LaVie and George MacEachern.
