begins and leaves off in thousands of people, who never suspect it. It isn't much more than a pimple—indeed it is a pimple—lung pimple.

Health, all round it, stops it—just as a skin pimple gets stopped.

How to get that health all round it: take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil and be careful.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

(GRIT) MINISTREL.

We used to sing of "Tory Hordes," and "Robber Barons," too;
We never sing those old songs now, the tunes would hardly do.

"Ring the knell of boodling boys," was once our loud refrain;
We do not sing that old song now, we never will again.

We had a catchy little song, 'bout "Binder Twine" and "oil,"
But did we try that old song now, 't would make the people smile.

"Economy" was once our song, we mourned our country's debt;
But taxes they are climbing still, the debt is mounting yet.

How expenditure's increasing is more than mighty queer,
And Tarte says 't will be higher yet, he'll show us how next year.

We used to sing of "Puritee," for honesty we yearned,
Since then we've stolen seats galore, and ballots we have burned.

For cleanly men we clamored once—no boodling chaps would do;
Since then we've got Pacaud and Tarte, and Blair and Sifton, too.

We used to sing of honest ways, scorned all crooked means;
But we have fallen far from grace—our leaders hug machines.

Our songs were very catching then and people did beguile;
They're dragged now and out of date, like Wilfrid's sunny smile.

The party that once boasted Blake—excuse me while I sigh—
Has nothing left but Sifton's gall, and William Mulock's I.

One time we tried "God Save the or do anything but clear the decks for instant action. Beresford ran his ships in single file right in between Fisher's lines, enabling him to fight with both broadsides, while each of Fisher's vessels could use but one. The victory was so complete and overwhelming that the umpires awarded it on the spot to the hero of the Alexandria bombardment.

Holders of the Victoria Cross in the British Army, who have been a slowly dwindling band for some years, promise to receive many new companions as a result of the Boer war.

Seven years ago, remarked the London "Regiment," they numbered one hundred and ninety-six, and just before the outbreak of hostilities in the Transvaal, there was only one hundred and fifty-five. Twenty-five had been added by the Boer war up to September 1st.

The Indian Mutiny still accounts for the largest number of names on that roll of honor, no fewer than forty-two recalling that year of heroic struggle. The Crimean war, which started the roll, now ranks second with South Africa, each claiming twenty-five names.

London M. A. P.' remarks: Queen Victoria's servants at Balmoral, as at Windsor, or even in the gardens of Buckingham Palace, always strike one as such curious contrasts in color, costume and nationality. There are the ordinary clean shaven, livery-coated, English-looking menservants of ordinary life, with their pale faces and perfect manners, wearing the royal scarlet; there are swarthy-complexioned, white-turbaned, gold embroidered Indians; and there are also the tartan-clad Highlanders, with their native bagpipes.

Winston Churchill has probably

"THE NEEDFUL."

The Witness is always most correct editorially in its sentiments on electoral corruption, but in its news columns it betrays the fact that some members of the staff are aware that, as Mr. Tarte says, "elections are not made with prayers." Reviewing the prospects of the party in view of the election campaign, the Witness observes that:

"The Liberals have all the advantage of being the party in power, and those who have benefited by the regime will not be slow in putting up the needful."

Who are those who have benefited by the regime? Mr. Tarte's relative, who have dredging contracts and no dredges, with all the of the army of overfed contractors; Liberal beneficiaries who have been appointed to fat offices manufacturers who were spared the threatened wiping out of their business. The liquor trade in particular will be expected to be grateful for the sham plebiscite, which kept the prohibition people busy and did no harm to the trade. These are the people who should not be slow in putting up "the needful," if the view the Witness takes of the situation is correct; and it may be so. But is would be well for the Witness to harmonize the cynicism of its news articles with its editorial sermons. Perhaps a distinction should be made on the ground that the former deals with facts, and the latter with theories.—Gazette.

Sir Louis Davies and the Secrecy of the Ballot.

This section of the Dominion Election Act was in the bill as it was introduced by the Government of which Sir Louis is a member; and the Patriot declares that it "practically destroys the secrecy of the ballot."

"In the Province of Prince Edward Island, if any person desires to vote, whose right to vote is objected to on the ground of want of qualification, and if a candidate or any agent of a candidate (or in the absence of such agent) any elector acting in the interest of a candidate, so objects in the presence of the elector, the deputy returning officer in addition to placing his initials on the back of the ballot paper, as provided by section 70, shall also place on, the back thereof a number corresponding to that placed opposite the voter's name on the poll book.

Here are sub-sections 5 and 8 of section 96, safeguarding the secrecy of the ballot, with Sir Louis Davies' attempted amendment in italics:—

Sub section 5. No candidate, officer, clerk, agent or any other person shall communicate at any time to any person any information as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at a polling station, except to a court or judge lawfully requiring him so to do or attempt to ascertain the number on the back of any ballot paper; but this provision shall not apply to ballots marked in accordance with sections 67 and 74 of this Act."

Sub sec. 8. Everyone who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars, and to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor, in default of payment of such penalty.

A NAVAL GENIUS.

Lord Charles Beresford has amazed the naval world by the brilliant strategy with which he won the sham battle in the recent manoeuvres of the British fleet in the Mediterranean. His tactics have been pronounced the cleverest in naval annals. The fleet was divided into two parts, Beresford in command of one and Admiral Fisher of the other. Beresford was blockaded in the port of Mitylene by Fisher's torpedo boats and Fisher's fleet was hovering about and lying in wait outside. Beresford's task was to coal his fleet, get out of the harbor, and attack Fisher. By putting lights on the launches so as to make them resemble ships in the darkness he decoyed the torpedo boats away on a false trail and with every light out on his warships slipped away to sea, with not a vessel touched. Having done this he misled Fisher's scouts by false signals, and caught the hostile fleet entirely unprepared off the island of Lemnos. Fisher's squadron was steaming in parallel columns, and Beresford manoeuvred his hips so skillfully that the admiral had no opportunity to change this formation made a better thing out of the Transvaal war than anybody else. He has drawn a larger salary than has ever been heard of before for a war correspondent. He has accepted an offer of $50,000 to lecture in America. His book will probably have a large sale. He has made a journalistic reputation that is worth a big income, he has gained a position as a public man, and he has earned a seat in parliament.

HEAD-ACHE

Is only one form of the suffering resulting from a diseased condition of the sensitive womanly organism. The only way to cure the headache is to cure the diseases which cause it.
The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of curing thousands of women of headache, backache, female weakness and other forms of disease peculiar to women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures bearing-down pains.
"I think if it were not for your 'Favorite Prescription' I would have been in my grave," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, of Egypt, Plymouth Co., Mass., Box 14. "I had pain all over me, and such a dragging feeling it seemed I could not do my house work. I had to sit down to wash the dishes, even. In the year 1897 I was so sick I did not care to live and prayed many times that God would take me. One day I thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. In a few days I received an answer. I decided to try his medicine, and to-day I am a well woman. I have no headache, no pain at all. I used always to have headaches previous to the monthly period, and such pain that I would roll on the floor in agony. This sometimes would occur every two weeks, and I would be very weak afterward. I was in pain all over. My feet would slip from under me when I would try to go across the room, and I could not walk any distance without being in pain. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of Doctor Pierce's Pellets, and was completely cured."
Dr. Pierce's Pellets stimulate the liver.
