The British Periodicals

AND THE FARMER'S GUIDE. GREAT REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF THE LATTER PUBLICATION. I. Scott & Co., New York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz.:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative).

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig).

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

The great and important events—Religious, Political, and Military—now agitating the nations of the Old World, give to these Publications an interest and value far beyond those of ordinary periodicals. They occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news-letters, crude speculations, and flying rumours of the newspapers, and the voluminous and expensive historical, written long after the living interest in the facts he records shall have passed away. The progress of the War, of course, occupies a large space in their pages. Every movement is closely criticised, whether of friend or foe, and all short-comings of the Government are pointed out. From the States and from the Baltic to Blackwood's Magazine, from two of its most popular contributors, give a most valuable and interesting account of the movements of the great belligerents that can elsewhere be found.

These Periodicals also represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical;—all politics forms only one feature of their character. As the Organ of the most profound writers of Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

EARLY COPIES. The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, especially during the present exciting state of the political affairs, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

CENTRAL AMERICAN AFFAIRS.—Recent events in Central America have awakened in the United States a deep interest in the territory embraced in the States of Nicaragua, Guatemala, Costa Rica, and Honduras, and San Salvador. Our duty, at this time, is to give a condensed statement of the affairs of these republics, and their relations to each other and to foreign Powers.

The territory of Central America lies between the eighth and sixteenth parallels north latitude and Mexico on its northern border, the Caribbean Sea on the east, the Pacific Ocean on the west, and New Granada on the south. Its climate is mild and healthful. Its mineral and agricultural wealth is said to be unbounded. Its population, estimated at two millions, is about one-twelfth whites, four-twelfths mixed races, and seven-twelfths Indians. In 1593 it was taken for Spain by an agent of Cortez, and in 1821 it was formed into an independent republic.

COSTA RICA.—It would seem, from all accounts, that Walker, filibuster, is not in the firm position in Central America in which he has been represented, and that he has some work on his hands before he can make matters as he would wish. It is stated that the Costa Rica militia have been called forth, in consequence of his violent proceedings in Nicaragua, and that they are five thousand strong. It is also stated that the Republics of Guatemala, Salvador, and Honduras are all in arms to go and oppose the invaders. President Mora, of Costa Rica, has issued a decree to the effect that the republic, having never granted any part of its territory on the Atlantic ocean, will consider at all times void and of no effect, every act that may be executed on the wild coast of the river San Juan, and on the wild coasts of the northern sea, from the mouth of said river up to the national limits with the Republic of New Granada, without previous consent and legal sanction. Costa Rica being resolved on maintaining and sustaining its right against every trespass on the Territory of its frontiers.

The next news from Central America will probably inform us, how the above Republics have decided on the execution of Walker's new Government in Grenada, made by our Minister Resident, Mr. Wheeler. In the meantime it is a grave question what will be the course of our own and other Governments in relation to the matter.

PENALTY FOR DESTRUCTION OF A NEWSPAPER ESTABLISHMENT.—We learn from the Chicago Journal, that the case of Alfred Dutch, vs. F. C. Sherman and others, has been decided. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff of $15,000. The trial, it will be remembered, was for the alleged destruction of the newspaper establishment of the plaintiff.

A YOUNG HUSBAND.—On making a call the other day, at the house of the American missionary in Jerusalem, I saw a little boy, in the Turkish costume, sitting on a sofa. My first thought was, "what an enormous turban that boy has!" and my second, "how very nice he is!"

Judge of my surprise, when I found he was a husband; he being little more than ten years old, and his wife not quite ninety! Truly this is beginning life young.—And this reminds me, that a friend of ours, an Armenian lady, in Alexandria, who, though but twenty-six years of age, was a grandmother! This goes quite beyond early marriages in the U. States.—Mrs. Fume's Travels in Egypt.

Bright Spring, with a cargo of molasses, sugar, &c., bound from Halifax to Hull, England, sprung a leak at sea lately, when about three days out, and in making Sydney she was stranded on the northern head of Bridgport, on the 17th. Vessel has got ashore—cargo damaged.

Gunpowder, which was ten cents a pound in New York on the opening of the war has advanced to 30 cents.

An English writer classifies old maid and bachelors as "solitary mature men, women who have nothing happening to them."

The English Patriotic Fund now furnishes relief to the following persons; widows 2526, children 3104, and orphans who have lost both parents 97. The amount of subscriptions to the fund now reaches the large sum of £1,391,296.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE WINTER.

Though the season of snow and frost is a season of rest for the farmer, yet it should not be one of idleness. It is proper for him to desist from severe manual labor, to recruit his strength, tasked by the hard toil of seed-time and harvest, and to enjoy more intimately for a season, the society of his family and acquaintances, who, though he should not be idle. Now is the time to store his mind with information most useful in his high calling. When the fire glows warmly and cheerfully on his generous hearth through the long winter evenings, and the driving snow, beating against the window panes, and whirling around the corners of the house on the whistling wind, enhances by contrast his sense of comfort, let him then devote the hours to the acquisition of knowledge which shall be most beneficial to him in his occupation.

For this purpose every farmer should possess, or have access to, a well selected library of practical books on those subjects in which he is most interested. He should read the transactions of the Agricultural Societies of his own State, and of others; those portions of the Patent Office Reports which pertain to farming, and take a lively interest in the various discussions upon the great agricultural questions of the day, which from time to time are going on in the journals. His library should contain works of reference as well as those for more immediate use.

—Treatises on horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, are valuable even for occasional perusal; and it made the subjects of thorough study, would amply repay the farmer, and afford him the most valuable information which they afford. Besides these, there are works on the various species of grains and grasses; on fruit and tree trees, containing valuable hints in regard to the management of the orchard, and works on Rural Architecture, from which may be obtained many practical and economical designs together with information, whereby the farmer will be enabled to construct his buildings so that they will be both strong and picturesque, and at the same time convenient and durable. Without these various books, no farmer's library is complete; and without some knowledge of the most important subjects, no farmer has paid due regard to the duties of his exalted calling.

PROOF THAT THE MOON IS NOT INHABITED.—Dr. Schoreby, in an account that he has given of some recent observations made with the Earl of Kosse's telescope, says:—"With respect to the moon, every object on its surface of 100 feet was not distinctly to be seen; and he had no doubt, that under favourable circumstances, it would be so with objects 60 feet in height. On its surface were craters of extinct volcanoes, rocks and masses of stones already innumerable. He had no doubt, that if such a building as he was then in were upon the surface of the moon, it would be rendered distinctly visible, by these instruments. But there were no signs of habitations such as ours—no vesige of architecture remains to show that the moon is or ever was inhabited by a race of mortals similar to ourselves. It presented no appearance which could lead to the supposition that it contained anything like the green fields and verdure of this beautiful world of ours. There was no water visible—not a sea, river, or even the measure of a reservoir for supplying town or factory—no seal decomposed."
