TURKEYS FOR BRITAIN.

Until recently it has been usual in the trade in Great Britain for different firms to make a specialty of dealing in the products of one particular country. Professor Robertson in his report for 1897 states that it is now becoming more common for individual firms to handle poultry from several countries. This will ultimately result in the poultry of the best quality and in the best condition finding its way into the hands of the best customers. Poultry has not been generally used as an article of diet in the same sense as beef, mutton and bacon. The price was, relatively, considerably higher. When Canadian turkeys become known in Great Britain and are available there at the reasonable prices at which they can be laid down with a profit to the producers in Canada, they will no doubt create an ever-growing demand for themselves. Formerly turkeys were obtainable only from November till March; now through the facilities provided by cold storage, they are found on the bills of fare in nearly all hotels, every week of the year. While they do not appear so generally after March on the tables of private houses, no doubt there will be an increasing demand for them at what was formerly out-of-season times.

As a rule, continues the Professor, the turkeys in Northern France and in many countries in England are fattened to a better finish than the turkeys in Canada. The practice in these places is to feed the turkeys particularly well for about three weeks before the time at which they are to be killed. During the fattening period the turkeys will gain in weight quicker and produce a better quality of flesh if they are kept in large sheds. These sheds may be wire-netted in front, as the birds must have plenty of light and fresh air. Ten feet square of floor room will be enough for every ten turkeys. The sheds should be furnished with perches made from scantling slightly rounded on the top, about three inches wide, and about three feet above the ground. These may be removed during the day time. The shed should be kept clean. A quantity of coarse grit and sand should be provided. Fresh straw should be put on the floor quite often. Meal composed of a mixture of ground oats, ground barley, ground wheat and ground buckwheat, make a first class food. It should be prepared in the form of a paste or dough mixed with skim-milk, or sour. Some feeders prefer the sour milk. This soft feed should be given in the morning and also in the afternoon. During the fattening period, it is not profitable to feed whole grain, unless it be boiled and steamed until quite soft. During the last ten days of the fattening period, it is a good plan to add about half an ounce of fat per bird to the fattening mixture. That gives the flesh an exquisite, soft quality. The feeding of Indian corn is said to result in a yellow shade of flesh, most noticeable in the fat of the fowl.

The effect of feeding milk is to whiten the flesh, which is desirable. Regular feeding in the manner indicated will cause the birds to put on a large quantity of good flesh on the most valuable parts. The French poultry fatteners put one third ounce of salt per quart in the water used in preparing the food.

Yellow Fever Abating

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The cold weather in the south is checking the yellow fever epidemic, and the reports to the marine hospital service authorities here show a constantly lessening in number of cases. Acting Surgeon General Bailhache yesterday ordered the withdrawal of all trains inspectors from the railroads entering and traversing Western Tennessee, and wired similar instructions to apply to all roads in Northern Alabama and those centering at Chattanooga.

The best kind of advertising is undoubtedly newspaper advtg. But there are exceptions to this rule. For instance, suppose you want to advertise something which is of interest only to a certain class, say schoolteachers, or merchants. You would have to use space in every newspaper on the I-land to be certain that every schoolteacher saw your advt, while at a much smaller expense you could send directly to each one a circular, or better still a Booklet.

We print circulars and Booklets. We print them well. We print the cheapest and we illustrate them free.

All Knew the Place

The Wisconsin bench and bar gives this incident as having occurred in a Milwaukee court room:

A German saloon keeper was on trial and had been sworn. One of the attorneys began to question him.

"Mr S., where is your place of business?"

"What do you ask me such foolish things? You drinks at my place more as 100 times."

"That has nothing to do with the case. Mr. S., state to the jury where your place of business is."

"De shury! De shury! Oh, Shiminy! Every shenleman on this shury has a string of marks on my cellar shust like a rail fence."

His honor here interceded in behalf of the counsel, and in a calm, dignified manner requested the witness to state the place of his business.

"Oh, excuse me, your honor; you drinks at my place so many dimes I dinks you knows very well vare I keeps mine place."

Schreiner's Policy.

London, Oct. 22.—A despatch to the Times from Capetown says that Mr W P Schreiner, the new Premier and leader of the Afrikaner Bond, made a statement of the policy of the new colonial government in the Cape Assembly yesterday. The government, he said, would recognize the independence of the South African Republics and work harmoniously with them, leaving external relationships with them to be dealt with by the British high commissioner, whom the government would support in the development of South Africa. The government would also carry forward a bill for a new custom convention with the South African republics, and introduce a proposal for a contribution on the part of the colony to the British navy.

Russian Arms in China

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A despatch from Shanghai to a London news agency says: "A Russian regiment occupied the town of New Chwang, province of Liao Tung, and the forts at the mouth of the river Liaou on October 15th, thus securing complete possession of New Chwang. The native troops fled without making any opposition under orders from the Empress Dowager and Li Hung Chang."

"A British gunboat was in the river at the time. Its non-resistance is regarded as the virtual British abandonment of the whole of Manchuria to the Russians, and gives Russia an invaluable strategic position. Great Britain is certain to lose the New Chwang trade, of which it had had 80 per cent."

Evacuation of Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Oct 22.—Secretary Long to day received a telegram from Rear Admiral Schley at San Juan saying that the evacuation commission has concluded its work and that unless otherwise ordered he will come home. The secretary of the navy telegraphed Admiral Schley to proceed with his clerks and a copy of the report of the commission to Tompkinsville, N. Y., on the cruiser New York.

Canadian furniture men were in Ottawa on Saturday to protest against Mr. Charlton's proposition to include this class of produce in the reciprocity treaty with the United States. They saw Sir Wilfrid and Sir Richard Cartwright.

Sir Casimir Gzowski left a fortune of half a million. The only public charitable bequest was $5,000 to Wycliff College.

A despatch from Paris says it is definitely learned that the dossier submitted to the Court of Cassation does not include the secret diplomatic proofs of Dreyfus' guilt, it is possible, therefore that the Court before pronouncing upon the case will order the production of the documents and make a special investigation as to their origin and authenticity.
