IN MEMORIAM
MR. THEODORE DesROCHES - The death occurred suddenly in the Prince County Hospital on Friday, October 17, of Mr. Theodore DesRoches in his fifty-first year. His many friends were shocked to hear the sad news, for he had been in his usual good health and only that morning had driven his car to the funeral home. Mr. DesRoches was a prominent figure in his district and parish, and always one of the foremost in every worthy endeavour. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and of the Holy Name Society and a valued member of the church choir. His cheerful disposition and his deep sense of humor won for him a host of friends who deeply mourn his untimely passing. For a number of years, Mr. DesRoches had been in the employ of the Curran & Briggs Co. of Summerside. He leaves to mourn his wife, the former Lorette Gallant of Egmont Bay, and six children, Cyril, married in Miscouche; Yvonne, Earl and Lorina living at home; Regis in the R.C.A.F., Toronto; and Evelyn, employed in Moncton. Also are three sisters, Anna, Mrs. Edward DesRoches, Miscouche; Phyllis, Mrs. Alfred Poirier, St. Nicholas; and Sr. St. Winifred, Rimouski, and one brother, Urban of Miscouche. The solemn requiem Mass was celebrated by Reverend Martin Monaghan, D.D., assisted by Reverend John D. Kelly, as deacon and Reverend Charles Gallant as sub-deacon. The funeral cortege was one of the largest ever seen in Miscouche. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Edward DesRoches, Donald Shaw, Regis Laughlin, Cyrus Gallant, Jerry Hayes and Arthur Gaudet. The number of Mass cards, floral tributes and messages of sympathy received by the bereaved family bear silent testimony to the great love and respect in which Mr. DesRoches was held by his friends.

INCREASE SHOWN In Car Shipments
Sparked by exceptionally heavy shipments of potatoes carloads shipped from this Province last month showed an increase of 237 cars over October 1951. The potato loadings via the C. N. R. Borden-Tormentine car ferry route in October amounted to 209 in the same period a year ago.

Importers tiered over from Cape Tormentine showed a slight increase last month with 1,511 carloads compared to the 1,432 of last year. Total exports were 1,309 in October as against the 1,072 the year previously.

The central part of the Province was the heaviest snipper of potatoes with 556 cars moving from the area. The eastern part shipped 118 and from west of Summerside there were 131 carloads. Canadian Dollar Premium Down
BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP) - The premium on the Canadian dollar here today dropped one-half of one per cent to two per cent, the lowest in months. Bank sources here said increasing purchases of United States dollars by Canadians was the reason for the change. They said many of the buyers apparently were Canadian merchants buying U. S. goods requiring settlement in U. S. dollars.

They said the U. S. election had no effect on the exchange rate. In foreign exchange dealings at New York today, the Canadian dollar closed at a premium of 1 13-16 per cent.

Let's Talk It Over

We were glad to hear Professor MacRae of Mount Allison University, speaking at the South Shore Festival Saturday evening, express an opinion which we have voiced more than once in this column. He said just as music must be sung, poetry is made to be recited. He commended warmly the efforts made in choral reading at the festival, and suggested that more of this work should be done in the schools. "Amen," say we. But we still have to get ready for an entrance examination in English, which requires the memorization of poetry which must be written down. Commas, semi-colons, etc. must all be set down in their proper places. Punctuation marks are, of course, an aid to expression, and as such, have their uses, but you'd be surprised at the lack of oral expression that can be displayed by students who can get the poetry down on paper shipshape.

Professor MacRae in adjudicating the performance of an elocution class made the statement that he was placing first a performance which did not please him as well as another, but which in his opinion, had better wearing qualities. He cited the fact that a popular song might please you more than classical music on first hearing it, but that it would lose its appeal rapidly, and that you would grow to like the other music more and more as time went on. There is little doubt that this is true of poetry, songs and even people. Haven't you ever met a person whose personality delighted you at first contact, but which you grew very tired of as the association with him continued?

Have you tried figuring out how much income tax reduction we'll get next year by the algebraic method? Actually, there are two variables and a constant. The variables are (1) What Canada can produce, and (2) What our defence and social service bills will be. The constant is the certainty of an election to be held next year. If Canadian production is up, our tax will come down. If defence and social service bills do not nip off too much of our revenue, our tax will come down. Because next year is an election year, our tax will come down. There is no "it" to that one, but the amount of reduction will depend on the two variables.

THE November meeting of the Laura Bain Missionary Society of the Summerside Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. C.B. Jolly on Monday evening, November 10th with the president, Mrs. H. Crossman in the chair, and the Senior W.M.S. as guests. Mrs. Clarence Mercer was pianist.

The opening hymn "God Bless Our Native Land" was followed by the Scripture lesson in Psalm 90, read by Mrs. Garth Toombs, after which a circle of prayer was offered.

As this was a Remembrance Day program, Mrs. Frank Jenkins read the poem "Hold High The Torch" and the president read an article on "Peace Making". The closing hymn was "Saviour again to Thy dear name we raise".

A short business period was conducted after which Miss June King, nurse in training, and who had attended the Bible Training School in Moncton, N. B. for two years gave an interesting talk on the daily schedule at that school. Refreshments were served after the meeting adjourned.

SUGGESTS ANNUAL

The No. 1 crying need of the fisheries industry at present was a national advertising programme. "The good effects of individual advertising has been recognized," he said, "and the Federal Council, in regard to every other industry, is to be overcome before advancing further in the programme, is to overcome quality defects so that the public may look for and receive a standard article."

"We are pressing for a full fish exhibit at the International Trade Fair in Toronto next year, with all types of fish on display," the speaker continued. "We have a great industry and we should put our products on show in order that representatives from other countries may see what we have to offer, and buy."

Toronto and Hamilton are both in the centre of a food consuming area which should also be available for our fish products, if more extensively displayed at the Fair. "The Government representatives are sitting down from time to time at Ottawa and discussing our problems with us," Hon. Mr. O'Brien in conclusion.

Hon. Mr. Cullen moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was seconded by Mr. S. H. Burhoe, president of the Fisheries Association. Mr. Cullen spoke briefly referring to meetings held at Moncton and Summerside where the matter of one season was discussed. "We had hoped, in the Department," he said, "that a one season arrangement would do some of the self-discipline that a future monarch requires. He rarely cries. One of the few times was when his mother said farewell to him before her tour of Canada."

Much as the Prince must hold back his feelings in public, he is allowed to let out pent-up steam upon his return to the palace nursery. There, he is free to beat wildly on his toy drum, blow on his trumpet or sing at the top of his lungs.

Special Speaker At Service Of Thankoffering

Rev. Donald A. Campbell of New London was the guest speaker on Wednesday evening at the Thankoffering service of the W.M.S. in the Summerside Presbyterian Church. He delivered an eloquent address, basing his remarks on the 9th and 10th verses of the 16th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. "And a vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stood a man in Macedonia and prayed him saying 'Come over into Macedonia and help us.'"

The speaker said that these were among the most important verses in the Bible as they mark the turning point in the world when Christianity crossed from Troas to Macedonia and made Paul the first missionary. Christianity then spread west through Europe to the British Isles and to America to which place people had emigrated for the privilege of worshipping God in the manner they wished. Mr. Campbell remarked that "our being here tonight goes back to the time that Paul listened to the voice and went to Macedonia."

The speaker referred to his being in Palestine where he visited the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. His comparison of these two seas showed that the former with its green banks and sparkling waters contributed to the richness of Palestine, while the latter, which had no outlet and contributed nothing, was dead. Therefore the only way for Christianity to live today is to reach out, and extend a helping hand and be witnesses for Him.

Mr. Campbell went on to say that the Women's Missionary Society was begun many years ago in order to send forth ambassadors for Christ and to help sustain them and in conclusion said "Let us of the W. M. S. dedicate ourselves once more to His service."

Mrs. J. Perry presided at the meeting and was assisted in the devotional period by Mrs. J. W. MacKenzie, Mrs. Mark Gaudet, Jr., Mrs. Fred Moose and a quartet, comprising Mrs. R. W. Wood, Mrs. W. E. Forbes, Mrs. Maurice Mill and Mrs. G. F. Cameron, as they sang "The Garden of Prayer," Mrs. Cleve Whalen was organist.

Wings Parade At Summerside
Air Commodore F. S. Carpenter, A.F.C., C.D., presented wings to a group of graduates in a course of air navigators at a wings parade at R.C.A.F. station at Summerside yesterday afternoon.

Sgt. J. C. Rault of the French Air Force was honor student in the class composed of airmen from Canada, Great Britain, France and Belgium, who received their wings.

Shortly after his arrival at 1 p.m. on the Summerside Station, A/C Carpenter addressed the specialist navigation officer course.

Past graduations had been held on Fridays, but with yesterday's wings parade, future ones will be held on Thursdays, so as to enable the graduates to depart from P.E.I. without delay due to the normal week-end holiday.

Last evening a dining-in night was held on the station for the new navigation graduates.-S.

Prince Charles
So far, Charles has shown signs of supporting his mother's hopes. His nursery is crowded with toy soldiers, specially made for him to include every regiment in the brigade of guards.

Shows Spirit
Whatever career the blonde Prince takes, he has already shown a determined spirit of his own. Once on a walk with his grandmother, he asked to take over the controls of a crane working on the grounds.

"When you are a bigger boy you shall," said Queen Mother Elizabeth.

"No, no, now," the Prince demanded. Being a grandmother, she gave in. The Prince mounted the crane platform and handled the levers while workmen stood around beaming.

The Prince has already absorbed some of the self-discipline that a future monarch requires. He rarely cries. One of the few times was when his mother said farewell to him before her tour of Canada.

Much as the Prince must hold back his feelings in public, he is allowed to let out pent-up steam upon his return to the palace nursery. There, he is free to beat wildly on his toy drum, blow on his trumpet or sing at the top of his lungs.

then dashed to a window overlooking a rear courtyard. "I held him as long as I could," she sobbed. "Then he fell."

Mrs. Feller received reporters in her apartment and broke down at times. "He felt he had too many things to do and couldn't get them all done," she said.

She said he began to "crack up" about two weeks ago and that lately he had been "unable to concentrate on things."

Associates said Feller was a close friend of Alger Hiss, former State Department official now in prison for perjury.

LIE'S VIEW OF DEATH
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP) - Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations said today his legal counsel, Abraham Feller, killed himself because of the strain of defending U. N. employees "against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

Feller plunged 12 storeys to his death from his New York apartment earlier today.

Lie, in a formal statement to the press, said Feller "was worked day and night under my direction to uphold due process of law and justice in the investigations against indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

"This placed him under a prolonged and serious strain. The terrible tragedy of his death today is the result."

Lie said both the grand jury and the U. S. senatorial committee had informed him that there was not the slightest intention of questioning Feller about any of his activities, and that his appearances were strictly consultative in his capacity as U. N. general counsel.

The Secretary-General said Feller's jury and committee appearances were made "as my representative."

"New Look" Is Given Old Prince County Hospital

A "new look" has been given to the old Prince County Hospital, and the finishing touches of next week, which will have transformed this run-down building into one which has been completely renovated and remodelled from the top floor to basement.

Following an inspiration by Dominion and Provincial Government officials, which may take place next week, it is understood that the date of the official opening will be announced.

An addition has been built to the north end of the building which will contain the Summerside offices and clinics of the Department of Health and Welfare. One of these offices, that of children's welfare, is already located here.

So far as can be learned, no definite decision has been reached regarding the use that will be made of the remaining main part of the building although several suggestions have been heard of its possible use. Some of these it that it might be used as an addition to the new hospital. Others remarked that it would be ideal as a "home" for elderly persons however, the government has not as yet indicated its intended use.

This building has had many alterations which add to its safety, convenience and appearance. It has also been thoroughly cleaned and painted from top to bottom. Considerable new tiled flooring has been laid in many rooms in harmony with the attractive pastel shades used in painting the whole interior; and gleaming highly polished hardwood, covers the floor in all other rooms.

Bright attractive semi-private rooms and small wards are located on the sunny end of the building on all three floors in the part of the building to be used for hospital space; and sun-ports on the sunny end of the building provide a "nice homey" atmosphere.

Beds are being set up in various rooms and furniture added to make them ready for occupancy at any time. The whole building is so bright, clean and attractive that it prompted one man when asked what use would be made of the main part of the building, to say "I don't know. But if they find no other use for it, they could open it as a hotel."

moved along the Labrador coast and headed for Greenham. "This east coast capital bore the brunt of the season's third big blow which hit with hurricane force of 70 miles an hour and gusted between 40 and 50 at the U. S. Argentina naval base and Gander Airport.

The wind tore at roofs and chimneys and whipped a big chunk off the top of a department store building on downtown Water Street.

Heavy Snowfall
Along the high and craggy Top-sails region of Central Newfoundland a three-to-four-foot snowfall promised a repeat of last year's winter which gave Canadian National Railways its worst season in years. A push-plow was being prepared for duty late today but trains remained on time.

Gales and freezing rain and snow flattened power lines across the island. The paper town of Corner Brook remained isolated for most of the day. Telegraphic communication with Sydney was later restored but the link with the capital was still broken early tonight.

The big blow stalled a mercy plane which has been trying for three days to reach a young girl seriously ill with meningitis at Flowers Cove on the northern peninsula.

Strip-Tease Dancer Awarded $12,500
NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP) - A Supreme Court jury today awarded $12,500 to a strip-tease dancer who claimed she was unable to practice her art because of a visible scar from a dog bite.

The verdict, returned by an all-male jury, was in favor of Carol Lord and against the owner of the dog, A. J. Deveu.

Suing for $50,000 damages, Miss Lord claimed that on July 1, 1948, she was attacked by the "ferocious and vicious police dog."

In addition to the scar on her right thigh, she said she also suffers from "erysiphobia"-fear of dogs.
