Montague Junior Board of Trade Receives Charter At Dinner Meeting

..*The Montague Junior Board of Trade received its charter last night from Mr. Montague F. Aldous, national president of the Junior Chmber of Commerce. The presentation was made at a special dinner meeting held at the Rainbow Room of the Bison Restaurant. In making the presentation to Mr. James Cudmore, president of the Montague Junior Board of Trade, Mr. Aldous said that he was very happy to welcome the Montague unit into the organization, and hoped that future years would see the growth and development of the local board.

Mr. Robert Younker, president of the Charlottetown Junior Chamber, introduced Mr. Jack Morris, Maritime regional president, who introduced Mr. Aldous.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Aldous stated that he had returned home, and in explanation said that his great-great-grandfather, the Hon. Sir John Aldous had been sent to Canada as a representative of the British Government and had settled in Montague, P. E. I. His great-grandfather, and grandfather, he said were born in Montague, and he had been informed that the ancestral home was still in existence in Montague. His grandfather as a young man sailed from Montague and eventually settled in Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. A son, Allan Cameron Aldous went to the west coast as an engineer on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and now many years later his son, Montague F. Aldous, had returned home.

Mr. Aldous went on to give a brief outline of the history, growth and aims of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, stating that it had its beginning in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1915. He traced its growth in Canada where in the last few years it has gained additional impetus. Its primary aim, he said, was the training of young men in leadership to take their place in a community and assist in its growth and progress.

Its members, he said, must be strong in faith and principles, cultivate and promote the ideal of freedom, and the brotherhood of man. It was each person's duty to obey the law, and the duty of the law to give justice to all men. Besides helping its members to a better understanding of and preparation for more useful citizenship, one of its aims was to help others, not only locally, but throughout the world to achieve their innate desire for freedom and to appreciate the true dignity of man. Through the labors of the members, he could forsee a bright future for Canada as each in his own way contributed to its growth and prosperity.

Mr. Don Carlisle, secretary-manager of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada, gave a comprehensive outline of the whole organization from the local unit to the national and international level. He stated that the national headquarters was a clearing house for the exchange of ideas, and helped members to broaden their ideas and thus benefit their community the more. The main program of the Junior Chambers, among others, was leadership training, community betterment, municipal and governmental affairs, effective speaking, traffic safety and others.

Other speakers were Major John A. MacDonald, M.L.A., vice-president of the King's County Board of Trade, Dr. G.S.A. Inman, Walter LePage, Ignatius MacDonald, regional vice-president, and Mr. Ralph Beck.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Clay for a very delicious dinner served by a competent staff.

The meeting closed with the singing of The Queen, with Mr. Robert Murray as pianist.

Mr. James Cudmore, president of the Montague Junior Board of Trade.

The correspondence was read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. H. Barrett. Letters were received from Miss Helen Pendleton and Miss Doreen Ellis acknowledging prizes donated by the Aid at the nurses' graduation; and also from Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Gordon Leitch and Miss J. O'Holloran.

Mrs. Laird reported on the gift cabinet at the Hospital, and gave the list of knitted articles on hand.

Miss Jones of the Cundall Home was authorized to purchase material to cover backs and arm rests of the chesterfields and chairs in the sitting room of the Cundall Home.

Mrs. R. D. MacNeill was appointed convener of a rummage sale to be held the latter part of October.

The president requested that as many members of the Aid as possible attend the League of Mercy Tea on the 19th of October.

Mrs. Allison MacMillan volunteered to attend the T. B. League luncheon as a delegate from the Aid.

A pamphlet was read to the meeting from the president of the National Council of Hospital Auxilliaries of Canada.
