CONTRACT BRIDGE

The bidding:
 East South West North
 1 ♠ 3 ♣ Pass 5 ♣

Opening lead—seven of hearts. If you steal in everyday life, there is a good chance you will get caught and wind up in jail, but if the attempted larceny occurs at the bridge table, you occasionally get rewarded instead of being punished.

Here is a case in point. South got to five clubs, though three trumps would have been a much better contract.

West led the seven of hearts and East cashed his A-K. Declarer very cleverly dropped the 10-Q. He could not spare the jack of hearts, which would make the deuce a trick, so he discarded a diamond in the hope that declarer would not realize that the king had been left unguarded.

But South, remembering that East had opened the bidding and had to have the king for his bid, led a diamond, went up with the ace, caught the king, and thus made five clubs.

Mr. Gallagher said. "If these safety people haven't the courage to present their brief they shouldn't be looking after the lives of my people."

Conference chairman, Dean Murdoch MacKinnon of the University of Guelph, explained the background of the Humanities Research Council and outlined its role in the Maritime regions. He pointed out that the weekend session was a "self-help" conference in which delegates were encouraged to participate by questioning and presenting any problems encountered in their research programs.

Mr. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College, of Charlottetown, said "no person or institution deserves the title 'professor' or 'university' if he is not interested in research."

Delegates were presented with several research papers ranging from "regional humanism" to the teaching of Spanish in Canadian Universities to the "Analogue of Milton's Major Poems."

The brief said the high rate of deaths and injuries in industrial accidents in Ontario indicates the present prevention system does not work. It suggested an administrative overhaul of compensation, inspection and other services.

100 Attend Humanities Conference

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—About 100 delegates from all Maritime Provinces universities attended the conference of the Humanities and Social Sciences at Mount Allison University this weekend.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
