THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 20, 1891.

Notes and Comments.

—Mr. L. H. Davies boasted, a few weeks ago, that he had twelve objections to the petitions filed against the election of himself and Mr. Welsh—"any one of which was fatal." The fact is that not one of the objections has been sustained!

—The contingency which has arisen in respect to the first application of the new law concerning the juries in the Supreme Court, was pointed out, while the bill was in transitu, by the Leader of the Opposition But the Leader of the Government was cocksure that the attorneys would not fail to give the required notice in cases in which a jury was wanted. It is now stated that the Patriot's attorneys in a libel suit are among those who failed to give notice and that one of the Patriot's counsel is Mr. Fred. Peters!

—The Patriot approves of the action of the Local Government in dismissing "Tory officials to make room for Liberals," and hints that partizan officials in the Dominion civil service should also be summarily dealt with. The Patriot evidently believes in the "spoils system." However, if the partizan Dominion officials were all dismissed there would be a great many Grits out of a job. Perhaps a taste of the medicine now being administered by the Local Government and which the Patriot evidently relishes, would do good all round.

—The Empire says: There is a moral for the Canadian producer and shipper in the remarks of the Manchester Guardian upon dairy shipments from New Zealand. It seems that either through want of proper precaution in packing, or suitable accommodation on board ship the export industry is "threatened with partial collapse." Britain is the best outside market in the world for dairy produce, and the care taken in preparing shipments for it is never thrown away, while any mistakes made are full of dangerous consequences to a valuable and expanding trade.

—The official census figures have brought an unwelcome roost home to the boomsters of the western territories which have lately been admitted as States of the Union. Idaho's population, represented as about 125,000, is reduced to 84,385. Wyoming suffers a drop from 105,000 to 60,704. Nevada is brought down to 45,761. It is the same in other districts. Writers in eastern papers are warning their young men not to go west unless they head for British Columbia, where the growth is steady and solid. The Canadian territories on the whole compare favorably with those of the States, and when our census returns have been made it will be found, it is safe to say, that we have made no great cry over little wool and that the settlers who have gone west in Canada have reason to be satisfied with the country and its prospects.

—The Montreal True Witness, the organ of the Irish Catholics of the Province of Quebec, publishes the following in its editorial columns:

"It is to be regretted that so excellent a journal as the New York Catholic Review has permitted itself to be deceived by one of the type of 'reptile pressmen,' who make it their business to misrepresent Canada in the publications of the United States, apparently under the inspiration of the Cartwright-Wiman body of conspirators. The falsehoods of these people have become familiar in the secular papers, but it is new to see them cropping up in a section of the press which hitherto has been regarded as trustworthy. We regret to read in the Catholic Review, on the responsibility of 'Correspondent,' that Sir John Macdonald has departed and left nothing after him save a great and much loved name. All parties are at sea, the unity of the Dominion is threatened by the discord of the provinces, and as our Canadian correspondent showed last week the sentiment of annexation is growing in every quarter." We are happy to inform the Review that it is in error and that its correspondent can give not the slightest proof of his unworthy assertions. Great as is the loss Canada has suffered by the death of Sir John Macdonald, though his person has left us, his principles remain and the order of our ship of state has not and will not be changed a single point.

Fishery Bulletin.

(Fisheries Intelligence Bureau Report.)

HALIFAX, July 18.—The codfishing is reported to-day as follows: Very good at Fox Bay and good at English Bay, Anticosti; very good at Long Point, good at seven Islands and Marie River, Quebec; poor at Perce and Grand River, fair at Newport Point, but poor at Paspebiac, owing to bait not being procurable. There were no reports of codfish being taken on the coast of New Brunswick: only poor catches at Alberton and Souris, P E I. In Cape Breton fair catches are reported at Port Hood and St Peters; good at Arichat. The cod and haddock fisheries are reported fair at Isaacs Harbor, Spry Bay and Musquodobit Harbor, N S; poor at Yarmouth. The herring fishery is good at Perce, but poor at all other stations in Quebec. Fair catches reported at Souris, P. E. I., Louisburg, L'Ardoise and Arichat, C. B., but poor throughout the whole coast of Nova Scotia A few mackerel are being caught on the north side of P. E. Island, and at East Point and Black Bush. Reported schooling off St. Peter's, C. B., and quite plentiful in Musquodoboit Harbor, N. S., but no large catch. Squid reported very plentiful at Canso.

It is difficult to judge from the conflicting published accounts how much Russian grain, if any, will be for export from this year's crop. The fact that speculators are endeavoring to corner the crop and that American speculators are engaged in vigorously shouting down the reports of failure from Russia would indicate that the outlook is serious enough. Free Russia, the organ of the exiled nihilists, in its current issue quotes from the Volga Messenger, the Russian Gazette, the Volhynia and other papers, a number of extracts which go to show that there is actual famine in the provinces of Perm, Kostroma, Kazan and other places, while there is a famine of corn in Odessa, Sebastopol and other cities. "So far," say Free Russia, "the picture is certainly black enough, but what will be its further development we have yet to see."

Election Petitions.

PRELIMINARY OBJECTIONS DISMISSED.

The Chief Justice this morning gave judgment in the controverted elections cases, dismissing the preliminary objections with costs These objections were argued on the 2nd July. The return of each of the Liberal members for Queen's and Prince Counties was protested. The petitions were served in Ottawa. Eleven preliminary objections were filed against the sufficiency of the petitions and the service in Queen's and Prince Counties, and in Queen's an additional objection was made that Davies and Welsh should have been returned by acclamation as it was alleged that Ferguson and Blake could not resign their seats as members of the Provincial Legislature on account of petitions against their return having been filed and still pending. The other principal objections were that the deposit was not made with the proper officer of the court; that the service in Ottawa was insufficient; and that the petitions did not show jurisdiction. Hazzard and Peters appeared foa the respondents, and W. A. O Morson for the petitioners.

La Grippe.

A report on la grippe prepared by Dr. Parsons, an officer of the Local Government Board in England, is given in outline in the Times of the 4th inst. The complaint is said to be "communicable in the ordinary relations of individuals to one another." The common belief has been that it fell upon certain localities all at once as the result of some miasmatic influence. But there seems to be abundant proof that a few dropping cases have preceded the epidemic in every locality; and that, as the disease is manifestly one of a very short period of incubation, there has been ample time for each of these dropping cases to act as a centre of unsuspected contagion. More than one sudden outburst appears to have followed some local gathering teacher of people, such as at church or at market, where there were at least opportunities of free communication betweeen infected peop'e or convalescents and the healthy. The period of incubation, as nearly as can be ascertained, seems to range from sixteen hours to two or, at most, three days, although a supposed interval of five days has been recorded. The shortness of this period is alone sufficient to produce an apparent suddenness of invasion which, when the facts have not been carefully sifted and scrutinized by competent observers, has been mistaken for simultaneous incidence upon the whole population of a locality. Dr. Parsons shows that persons remote from human intercourse, as lighthouse-keepers, deep-sea fishermen and others, have been remarkably free from the disease. The supposition of another expert is that the contagium of la grippe is a microbe which enters the system through the surface of the eye, and which exerts its chief effect upon the nervous system. This hypothesis derives some support from the fact that equine influenza is commonly called pink-eye, but it cannot yet be regarded in any other light than as an ingenious suggestion. If it were hereafter established, the chief defence against la grippe would probably be the employment af parasite-destroying remedies in the form of eye lotions.

Personal.

THE COMING GIRL.—An exchange says: The coming girl will cook her own food, will earn her own living and will not die an old maid. The coming girl will not wear the Grecian bend, dance the German, ignore all possibilities of knowing how to work, will not endeavor to break the hearts of unsophisticated young men, will spell correctly, understand English before she affects French, will preside with equal grace at the piano or washtub, will spin more yarn for the house than for the street, and will not despise her plainly clad mother, her poor relations, or the hand of an honest worker.

News Notes.

Manitoba farmers expect the largest yield on record from their lands.

Speculators attempting to corner grain in Russia are to be prosecuted.

An English syndicate is said to have got control of the American glucose market.

Roumania's Russian borders have been cordoned with troops to prevent the influx of Jews.

The British Sea Commissioners left Vancouver, B. C., for Pribylon Islands, on the 15th inst.

A German engineer has been heavily fined for hypnotising a girl, thus causing her to go mad.

Salton Lake, in the Colorado desert, continues rising. The overflow now reaches 2,000 square miles.

The Democratic convention at Cleveland pronounces in favor of closer trade relations with Canada. Mr. Campbell was chosen as candidate for governor.

The Bank of Italy and the Bank of Rio de la Plata in Buenos Ayres, which recently suspended payment, have resumed business.

The Navajo Indians in Arizona have warned the settlers to leave their part of the country. They are very defiant, and United States troops are to be sent against them.

A movement is on foot to build extensive wharves at Copenhagan which will make the port accessible during the winter. It is hoped to make it a terminus for Atlantic and Baltic vessels.

The Bank of Spain has negotiated a loan of $10,000,000 with the Banque de Paris and the Rothschilds. The Bank of Spain gives treasury bonds as a guarantee for the repayment of the money.

A large party of expelled Russian Jews reached Montreal a few days ago per Hansa line steamer Pickhuben, and they are being cared for at the Baron Hirsch Institute in that city. The tales they tell show great inhumanity on the part of Russian officials.

It may be taken as settled that the last stronghold of free trade in Australia has fallen, and that New South Wales has passed into Protectionist hands. The Melbourne correspondent of the London Times says: "The New South Wales elections are now completed. The approximation of parties is as follows: Ministerialists, 48; Opposition, 56; Labor, 31; Independent, 6. The majority of the new members are in favor of Protection and Federation."

A Handsome Prize.

AN EVIDENCE OF WHAT A GENUINE MAGAZINE COMPETITION OFFERS.

On Friday there arrived from Toronto, for Miss M. Hora, a handsome Shetland Pony, harness and cart, being the first award in the Royal Quilt Competition of the Canadian Queen Magazine. It attests the genuine nature of the magazine's contests by its excellent condition and value. The Queen has frequent competitions and has made innumerable awards, displaying a generosity quite surprising to those who have had experience of the limited field of Canadian journalistic enterprise. But the Queen has been a success as a business venture from the start, and is growing in literary excellence steadily. It covers the field of fashion, as well as light reading; talks to the household, the young and indeed all home classes. The competitions have been used to assist the introduction of the magazine, for where it is introduced it is quite certain to remain a monthly guest. The leading prizes have been made, as instance this latest to Kingston, while many smaller prizes have rewarded the moderately successful among competitors. The Canadian Queen is truly royal in its ways.—The Kingston (Ont.,) Daily British Whig, June 27th, 1881.
