Owing to the crowded state of our columns the following paragraph did not make its appearance in the last issue of the Journal. Besides, as in that issue we pitched into the Patriot rather roughly, we did not wish the editor of that paper or any one else to think that we wished to purchase his forbearance by publishing by the side of our bellicose article, one in which though we do but scant justice to Mr. Laird, might be thought to have the effect of softening the tone of his rejoinder. We ask no favors from our contemporary. In any future contest in which we may be engaged, we will hit him as hard as we are able, and expect him to do the same by us, but however hard he may press us, we assure him that we will never have recourse to an unlawful weapon or deal him a treacherous blow.

We do not insert the strictures of the St. John Weekly Telegraph, on an article that appeared in the Charlottetown Patriot on the effects of Confederation on the manufactures of New Brunswick, for two reasons. The first is, that we very much disapprove of the style and spirit of those strictures. The fierce attack made by the Telegraph on the private character of the editor of the Patriot, was both undeserved and uncalled for. In the discussion of public questions personalities should be wholly avoided. A man's private character is too sacred a thing to be at the mercy of every unscrupulous newspaper scribbler who, to gratify a vindictive unchristian spirit, and to pander to the vitiated tastes of the worst portion of the reading public, bares a public man's failings and frailties to the public gaze, or worse still, as in the case under consideration, attributes to a gentleman of pure life and stainless virtue, a long catalogue of the most odious vices. We have known the editor of the Patriot long and intimately; much longer and more intimately, we venture to say, than any of his Charlottetown or his St. John detractors, and as a private man we have nothing to say of him but what is good and to his credit. We know him to be an honest and a sober man, and we believe him to be an intelligently and sincerely pious one. We yield this our testimony to Mr. Laird's private worth, cheerfully and ungrudgingly, though we have taken diverse action and embraced opposite views on many of the political questions which have agitated this colony.

Our second reason is that we consider the discussion premature. It seems to us foolish and puerile in the extreme to expect results good or bad from confederation before confederation has been well established. Both the Patriot and the Telegraph in their unreasoning impatience act precisely as the child does who a few hours after he has deposited the seed in the earth scratches it up to see if it has germinated. We are amused at the impatience of the child, but we are very differently affected at the folly of the men.

THE LATE GALE.

On Sunday night last a gale from the North-east came up, accompanied with very heavy rain, and both wind and rain continued in great violence until Tuesday night. Much damage, we fear, has been done to the shipping. We hear it reported that there is a large ship of 800 tons ashore on Egmont Bay. Several fishing vessels are also reported ashore in Tignish and the North Side; and a large quantity of fish in barrels floating about. We understand that a number of vessels are also ashore off Malpeque. In Summerside, the storm was felt very severely. A new vessel belonging to the Hon. James Muirhead, broke away from that gentleman's wharf, and drifted up under McDonald's Point, on the opposite shore. Two new houses, partly covered in, were blown down, and broken to pieces. In the country many fences were blown down. The Telegraph Line was very much injured by large trees falling on it, and no doubt many more disasters will be heard of.

We have just heard that much damage has been done to the wharf at Point Du Chene. The rail has been torn up, and one of the freight cars washed overboard; a large quantity of coal carried off the wharf, and the goods in the warehouse considerably damaged. It is said that the storm over there was really terrific.

SUPREME COURT

The October Term of this court for Prince County commenced on Tuesday last at St. Eleanor's—his Honor Judge Peters presiding.

The following persons, as we learn, compose the Grand Jury:—

John Beer, Foreman; James L. Holman, John D. Woodman, Richard Reid, Lemuel Vickerson, James Barclay, Isaac Clark, Jas Yeo jr., Nicholas Conroy, Thomas Crabb, John Haszard, James A. Bearisto, Philip Baker, Isaac Schurman, and Hugh Ramsay, Esquires.

Both the Criminal and Civil Calendar are unusually large, and nearly all the members of the bar are present, and seem to be busily employed. On the first day, Tuesday, the following cases were disposed of:—

Mathias McDonald vs. James Ellis—Action of assumpsit for work and labor. Verdict for the plaintiff for £5 and costs.—T. Kelly, Esq. for the plaintiff, and W. M. Howe, Esq., for the defendant.

Ross vs. McGee—Action of debt,—amount claimed confessed, M. McLeod, Esq., for plaintiff, and Hon J. Hensley for defendant.

Michael S. McAlduff vs James Hardy—Action of assumpsit on promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff for amount claimed.—T. Kelly Esq., for plaintiff, and M. McLeod for debt.

George W. Howlan vs Daniel Gillis—Action of assumpsit for goods sold—verdict for plaintiff for amount claimed. T Kelly Esq., for plaintiff, and M McLeod, Esq, for defendant.

On Wednesday the following trials came off:—

Elie Arsenaux vs Alex E Holland—action of trespass for taking plaintiff's horse—verdict for plaintiff for £10 and costs. T Kelly, Esq. for plaintiff, and W. M. Howe Esq., for defendant.

Wm. McGill & others vs James Bowness—Action of assumpsit for goods sold;—Plaintiff was non-suited in this case. M. McLeod Esq, for plaintiff, and T Kelly Esq, for defendant.

James Yeo vs Alex Campbell—Action of debt on an account settled — Verdict for defendant. Hon J Longworth for plaintiff, and T Kelly, Esq, for defendant.

Summerside Bank vs McKay—Action of assumpsit—Verdict for Plaintiffs for amount claimed. Hon J Longworth for plaintiffs—no defence.

The Queen at prosecution of Charles B Saunders vs Mary Ann Connor—Indictment for larceny, for stealing money;—Verdict, Guilty. Hons Attorney General, E Palmer for the prosecution, and W M Howe, Esq., for the prisoner.

The Queen at prosecution of J Woodside—vs Wm Tobin—Indictment for larceny, for stealing a horse—Verdict, Guilty, with recommendation to mercy. For the Crown, Hons Attorney General and E. Palmer; for prisoner, W M Howe, Esq.

The prisoner McNulty, against whom a bill was found yesterday for an attempt to commit arsen, will, we believe, be put on trial to-day.

This number of our paper completes the second volume. To those of our subscribers who have as yet paid us nothing for the past two years, we wish to say that if the amount due us is not paid before our next issue the paper will not be sent. We are happy to say that there are not many such, considering the large number on our subscription list, but we want none such. To those who have hitherto paid in advance we would say now is the time to secure your paper for ONE DOLLAR!

We are very glad to learn that the handsome sum of £71 7s was realized at the Wesleyan Tea Meeting which took place here on the 25th ult. Had the day not been so windy it is thought that many more persons would have been present; however it was very well attended, and everybody seemed satisfied and well pleased. After the tea was over and the auctioneer had sold some fifty nice cakes, the Revds. Messrs. DesBrisay and Frame, and Mr. Harry Lawson addressed the meeting, after which Mrs. T. Walsh played God Save the Queen, and the company dispersed, seemingly all well pleased.

We had almost forgotten to state that the children of the Sbbath School received their tea at the same time, at a table set apart for that purpose

We have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of two boxes of beautiful apples,—one from Thomas Dark, Esq., of Orchard Hill, and the other rom W. B. Tuplin, Esq., of Margate. They were the best samples of apples that we have ever seen, that were raised on the Island. We really did not think that such beautful eating apples grew on this Island as there were among those sent us by Mr Dark. We believe the raising of apples could be made a very profitable business, and we wonder that more of our farmers do not turn their attention to it. Any number of grafts may be purchased at "Orchard Hill."

Since writing the above we have received a sample of some splendid apples from Mr Archibald Ferguson, of the Town Road. One apple measured ten inches and a half around, and was taken from a tree only four years old.

The prisoner named Sharp who a few days ago made his escape from Charlottetown Jail, was re-taken from on board a vessel laying at the Wharf in this place, on Wednesday morning last, by two Plicemen who were up here on business. He thought to have got aboard of the steamer, but in consequence of her not arriving until late in the morning he missed it.

Mr. Colpitts, for some time resident in the outhern parts of North America, form the Msionary deputation for Summerside. Rv. We trust the evening will be fine, and bespeak a large audience.—Com.

Another Fire.—A Fire broke out yesday between 9 and 10 o'clock, a. m. in the hy loft of a stable belonging to Capt. Samel Mutch, on Water Street. The Fire, it is sai, originated in a Tar Barrel and though a pt of the hay also became ignited, the whole wi speedily extinguished as the Engines wer promptly on the ground. About 2 o'clock a other alarm was sounded, and the citizen were not a little surprised to find that the fir was at the same place. This time the flame were first seen close to the wall of the hay loft, at a place we hear, where it is not at all probable that any embers could be left from the previous fire. But little injury was done either time to the building. If the reports which we have heard be true, there is too much ground to fear that both times the fire was the work of an incendiary.—Pat.

Among the shipping from the port of Charlottetown during the last four weeks were 34 horses, 267 sheep and lambs, 148 barrels of oysters, 5200 barrels mackerel, 2880 bushels oats, 4300 bushels potatoes and 200 bushels barley.—Pat.
