

MR. AND MRS. PRESTON DEWAR

Wedding Vows Pledged At Two Ring Ceremony

White, yellow and mauve mums decorated St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church recently where Georgina Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Dingwell, Montague, became the bride of Preston Daniel Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Dewar, Brudenell.

Rev. Basil C. Lowery performed the double ring ceremony.

Lila Dewar, organist, accompanied the soloist, Sharon Stevens, as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" after the bride had entered the church and "O Perfect Love" before the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white organza over satin, with scalloped neck-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a floral head-dress adorned with pearls. She carried a nosegay of red roses.

The bridesmaid, Barbara Nelson, wore a street length gown of blue organza over satin with

ELLEN'S DIARY

There Is No Monotony To Life On This Farm

Delightful surprises, these summer days bring us at Alderlea. Contrary to notions we have sometimes heard expressed about our occupation, there is no sameness, no monotony, to life in a farm. It is decidedly not "the same thing over and over" we come to each morning. Even the hearthfire is different.

This morning, hurried a bit by James, who having found no dew on the grass to delay it, was anxious to be off as soon as he could to the affairs of the hay, it was pine sticks we used. Pines were sure from that great weathered stump in the woodland, the same from which in raspberry times now gone, we would break chips, and carry away in our apron, so to have the tea-kettle sing quickly—or maybe to hurry the dinner-fire, after a morning in the berry-patch that has been summer-cool, serene and very lovely, and had given us nice fruit for our stay.

Raspberries, served with sugar and cream would be our dessert, we would plan, quickening our steps down the home-path lest our outing should cause a delay in the progress of the farming, which has its times and its lulls. And with the nona-fire we would see to it, that pies of the fruit, among James' favorites, would be made and baked. What delightful days those were, in which Island farms were more self-sufficient as to foods, than now!

No, no sameness. We can make no prediction when we step into the morning as to what surprises the new day will bring. Today it was a lad born and reared on a farm of this road, with James welcomed, one who in busy seasons gone, would come by to lend a willing hand at the work. The youngster of then was a dependable, sincere chap, as is the man who now holidays from a responsible position on a farm in Ontario. He is well pleased to come back with his wife and little daughters after an absence, to contact friends and loved ones again.

Recently we were privileged to entertain another boy of this road, one who at the age of fifteen set out alone "to see what the Canadian West looked like." He, as he said, "learned the hard way" to face life's trials, and now "not by any means rich, but then not poor" had with his wife and young family returned on his first holiday after an absence of some years, to his native island and boyhood home again.

Both are only boys yet, as ages go, but men in the responsibilities they have assumed—good fellows, industrious and canny, a credit indeed to their island of birth.

On this morning the sun crept in over the hills to gild the farther slope of the valley. And a pretty wind came down from the creek. Presently there were sounds of machines moving, as the hay on a once more caught its stride. "Now no sleeping on your feet today!" I advise the crew once with a twinkle. "We should, by rights be done of our haying by this!"

Now pillows call. Birds have found their night-nests. Lights go out in homes along the valley. Day is done.

Until tomorrow — — — Diary — Good-night.....

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Rev. Lowery proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Vera Dewar, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon trip to New Brunswick, the bride wore a two piece blue suit with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of tinted blue carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewar will reside in Brudenell.

NEVER TOO YOUNG

Not everyone can start a bank account at the age of three, but young David Dickson (now six) did, and his little brother, Kevin (two and a half) started even younger. These youngsters are photographers' models for the catalogues distributed by two large Canadian mail order houses in Toronto. Mrs. Walter Dickson (formerly Elizabeth MacDonald) and the boys are returning to Toronto today after visiting for five weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe MacDonald of York and with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dickson, Darnley. Mr. Dickson accompanied his wife and children to the Island but returned home earlier.

Basketball Team Celebrates 50th Anniversary

EDMONTON (CP) — Members of the Edmonton Grads, a team which dominated women's basketball throughout the world in the 1920s and 1930s, celebrated the club's 50th anniversary at a reunion here in mid-July.

Thirty-four players joined the team's coach, Lieutenant-Governor J. Percy Page, in the festivities which included a prominent role in the city's Klondike Days exhibition parade.

The women, who long have graduated to the roles of mothers and grandmothers, came from as far as Hawaii and Libya and throughout Canada and the United States. The team disbanded in 1940 but in recent years the Grads met annually for reunion celebrations.

Grads won the world crown four times—in Paris in 1924,

Amsterdam in 1928, Los Angeles in 1932 and Berlin in 1936. Mr. Page acted as coach, banker, bookkeeper and baggage supervisor on the club's many tours, and his wife and daughter assumed the roles of chaperone and mascot, respectively.

The team, formed in 1915, disbanded after winning 17 consecutive international crowns. It has permanent possession of five trophies—the world, international, French, Canadian and Alberta women's championships.

In the 25 years of active competition the club won 502 of 522 starts. Only 38 players wore the club colors.

BRISTOL

Word has been received of the sudden passing in Boston of a former resident of this vicinity, Urban Hughes, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P.J. Hughes. He left here as a youth and spent all his working years in Boston, but often came back to the old home again. His sisters and brothers all reside in the U.S.A. except Lotie, who lives in retirement in Bristol.

She recently returned to her home here after attending the funeral of her brother in Boston.

Shopping List Is Carefully Checked At Fishing Lodge

YELLOW KNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Mrs. Bill Haerr has to be painstakingly careful with her shopping lists—the items come from at least 250 miles away and she has to wait a week longer for anything she forgets.

Mr. and Mrs. Haerr and daughters Sue, 18, and Sandy, 16, operate an isolated fishing lodge on McTavish Arm of Great Bear Lake. Their guests arrive by air, often from distant parts of the continent. "It's like a travelogue with changes each week," says Mrs. Haerr.

She oversees the cooking and house staff and says ordering supplies is the most important part of her work since "there aren't any stores around the corner."

Heavy gems are trucked into Yellowknife and ferried by air 250 miles to the lodge. Perishables and meat are flown in each week with guests.

They come to the lodge in a Second World War flying boat fitted out like an airliner. The old bomb bays are used as observation areas and are useful for taking photographs.

This is the second summer for the Haerrs, who come from St. Paul, Minn. During construction last year they lived in tents, but now they have a permanent building with room for 24 guests.

Soviets Launch New Satellite

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia launched Tuesday another unmanned earth satellite in the Cosmos series, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The Cosmos 77 carried scientific equipment for the continuation of the space research according to the program announced March 16, 1962. Tass added.

The satellite's orbit has a rotation period of 89.3 minutes. Its maximum distance from the surface of the earth is about 180 miles and minimum about 126 miles.

All its equipment is working properly, Tass said.
