Island Government Will Co-operate

Dr. Lorne Bonnell, minister of welfare, today announced that the government is prepared to co-operate with the Alcoholism Treatment Foundation to initiate a program for the drying out and rehabilitation of alcoholics in the province through the establishment of a half-way house treatment center.

The aims of the program will be as follows:

- To encourage active participation by the alcoholic in his own recovery program;
- To facilitate the use of community facilities, agencies and interested persons in providing self-help for alcoholics;
- To provide housing and meals for their occupants during the period when rehabilitative services are being utilized;
- To assist the co-operation of and to function in cooperation with Alcoholics Anonymous, Al-Anon and Al-Teen groups.

ADMINISTRATION

The half-way house administration will be in the hands of a board of directors chosen at large among interested citizens and professional men representing a wide variety of community services and interests with a common concern for the plight of the alcoholic.

Dr. Bonnell stated that this program would be initiated in the vicinity of Charlottetown and could be expanded to other centers at a later date if the need should arise and the program is found to be of value in the rehabilitation and treatment of alcoholics.

Branch Librarians Stage Convention

Branch librarians from 15 island centers attended a one-day convention yesterday at headquarters for the P.E.I. Librarians, in Prince of Wales College. The program included a talk by Dorothy Cullen, provincial librarian. "You'll find that reading is very nice," which covered an ideal reading program for children, teens, and adult readers. This was followed by a discussion on worthwhile books, in which the branch librarians participated.

Miss Cullen introduced something new in library books in the form of "large print" editions of popular titles, especially designed for people who have difficulty with small-print editions.

A session on the Dewey Decimal classification system was conducted by W.A. Ledwell, of headquarters staff, and the balance of the workshop was given to discussions on library routines, booklists, periodicals, request system, and reading habits.

GUEST SPEAKER — Guest speaker at a noon luncheon, held at MacLaughlin's Motel, was Douglas Boylan, librarian at Confederation Centre. Mr. Boylan explained the planning behind the Canadian Centennial Commission's gift to Canadian libraries, the aim of which is to locate Canadian books in libraries across Canada which will enable the reading public in any given part of Canada to become better acquainted with other parts of the country, through books, in keeping with the aims of the 1967 Centennial.

As far as P.E.I. is concerned, the gift will amount to something in excess of $10,000 worth of Canadiana.

SDU Students Withdraw

St. Dunstan's University students voted yesterday to withdraw from the Canadian Union of Students. The vote was taken in a referendum called three weeks ago at a general meeting of the student body.

Only 167 of the 755 registered students cast their vote in the referendum, and 78 favoured retaining membership, while 89 opposed. The ballot was marked "in your opinion, should St. Dunstan's Students' Union retain membership in the Canadian Union of Students? Yes. No."

St. Dunstan's joins seven other Canadian universities to opt out of the national organization. Main issues involved in the dispute were political activism and overextension of the Secretariat and CUS programs.

Despite the withdrawal from CUS, the Students' Union will retain membership in the Association of Atlantic Students, a regional branch of Maritime institutions modeled on C.U.S.

New Act Proclaimed

The minister of tourist development, Dr. Bonnell, stated following yesterday's cabinet meeting that the Unsightly Premises Act has been proclaimed. The minister feels that this act will be of great assistance in the beautification of the province under the rural and urban beautification program. This act was passed in the last session of the Legislature but had not been proclaimed.

The Unsightly Premises Act will give the minister responsible, the authority to have removed from any premises 500 feet from the center line on a highway any and all unsightly objects which render the country side less beautiful.

Tougher Immigration Laws Aimed At Criminal Element

OTTAWA (CP) — Manpower Minister Marchand's proposed new immigration policy aims at making it tougher for criminals to use Canada as a refuge or hunting ground for new illegal enterprises.

"The grounds for refusing admission to criminals... need to be broadened," says an immigration white paper he tabled Friday in the Commons.

"International crime is so organized today that the leaders frequently escape conviction or even detection for the crimes they instigate and profit from."

"Moreover, Canada is altogether too convenient a place of refuge for criminals of all kinds who find it prudent to avoid the law enforcement agencies in their own countries."

What Mr. Marchand proposes to do is to add to the list of prohibited persons—it now includes criminals—"the person who is known or suspected on reasonable grounds to be associated with criminals or who is a fugitive from justice, even though not actually convicted of any specific crime."

Are Today's Filter-Tip Cigarettes Really Safer Than Plain Ends?

How "safe" is the cigarette you smoke? How much harmful tar and nicotine is in the smoke you inhale into your lungs? For years Doctors have warned that tar and nicotine in cigarettes can be dangerous to health and can cause deadly lung cancer. Now, U.S. cigarette manufacturers must label packages with a caution: warning. But, when you buy Canadian cigarettes there is no way of knowing how much tar and nicotine they contain. The current Reader's Digest features a factual, new laboratory report showing the latest tar and nicotine content of 26 leading Canadian cigarettes and reveals that some actually contain 300% — or more — tar and nicotine than others. It shows that in some cases the smoke from filter-tips actually has a higher content of these injurious substances, than the smoke from some plain ends. The latest, strange developments provoked by the U.S. ruling requiring warning labels on cigarette packages, are also reported in this interesting article. This Reader's Digest article will be talked about from Coast to Coast — every Canadian who smokes cigarettes should read it. It's in November Reader's Digest — on newsstands now.
