

Horse Expert Perlman Started Career By Luck

By BORIS MISKEW
NEW YORK (CP) — On a warm autumn day 44 years ago J. Samuel Perlman, a youthful Winnipeg lad, was struck with a determined desire to see the World Series and quite by accident was launched on a sports-writing career that rocketed him to national heights.

Perlman recalled the incident the other day during an interview in his luxurious Fifth Avenue apartment overlooking Central Park.

Immaculately dressed in a business suit, Perlman told of the circumstances that landed him as sports writer for the Winnipeg Free Press and eventually as editor and publisher of the New York Morning Telegraph and associated newspapers, the final authority on horse racing in North America.

Agile of mind and body, with only a trace of greyness in his sandy hair, few would guess Perlman's age if they were not aware that recently he retired as editor and publisher of The Morning Telegraph upon reaching his 65th birthday.

Long before his retirement, he is continuing as a consultant to the publisher and a columnist and director of the Laurel race track in Maryland. Perlman was widely credited with salvaging the racing daily from almost inevitable death.

HONEST IMPROVED

He changed the entire appearance of the newspaper and made it highly respectable and prosperous, as he watched respectability come to a sport that had been clouded in a somewhat questionable past.

"There has been a tremendous improvement in the honesty of horse racing in recent years," said Perlman, attributing this mainly to better supervision and policing of the race tracks.

He engaged correspondents in the major racing centres in the United States, Canada and Europe in a successful effort to change the paper from a statistical publication to what it is today.

"When I took over," said Perlman, "I changed it, introduced special editions for such occasions as the Kentucky Derby, expanded coverage and set up columns."

Himself erect and conservatively dressed, his influence soon was reflected in The Morning Telegraph which in time also took on a conservative, well-tailored appearance.

He inaugurated the Horse of the Year awards that now are one of the turf's important functions.

WON MANY HONORS

Perlman has been honored by many racing organizations and in 1938 he received the only award ever presented by the Thoroughbred Racing Association—an organization that includes every important race track in the United States and Canada.

The award was presented for "his objective approach in the reporting and editing of his journals" and for being "a force for good in all segments of the sport" through his efforts to increase public confidence in thoroughbred racing.

The following year Perlman was honored by the Ontario Racing Commission, the Ontario Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, the Ontario Jockey Club, the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders and Racing Association of Canada, the Vancouver Thoroughbred Association and the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society "in recognition of his great contribution to thoroughbred racing."

Lack of money, after finishing high school, prevented Perlman from entering law school and he joined the Canadian Pacific Railway in Winnipeg, intending to save enough money to continue with his education.

By 1921 he had been long enough with the railway company to qualify for a pass. And what was foremost in his mind? A trip to the World Series between the New York Yankees and the New York Giants.

But how was he going to get in to see the games? He got to New York? He approached Bill Finlay, Winnipeg Free Press sports editor at the time, and suggested that he cover the series for the newspaper.

Finlay, who knew Perlman as a catcher with an amateur baseball team in Winnipeg, agreed—despite Perlman's lack of newspaper experience.

The excellent coverage Perlman provided resulted in a job offer a couple of months later, and Perlman joined the newspaper's sports staff.

He became night sports editor and travelled extensively throughout Western Canada covering hockey, football, baseball, soccer, curling, and, of course, horse racing.

Perlman married Whetta Trill of Neepawa, Man., and by 1925 had decided he'd earn more money by starting a racing paper. He left The Free Press and founded the Winnipeg Sports and Turf Digest which became the official publication of thoroughbred racing in Western Canada.

In 1938 he sold his paper to Triangle Publications which by then owned all the racing newspapers in the United States, but continued to operate it.

When in 1943 Walter H. Ansenberg needed a general manager to take charge of Triangle Publications, Perlman was selected to fill the position. And four years later he was appointed editor and publisher of The Morning Telegraph and associated newspapers, with editions published in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Miami, Seattle, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, all under his direction.

Can. Age-class Ch'ships Has International Tinge

By MON LEBLANC

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—The national age-class track and field championships—previously an all-Canadian event—could take on an international flavor this year with a dash of United States and British talent.

It's early yet and little has been confirmed, but as many as 10 young British stars and upwards of 40 U.S. athletes are expected among the 450-500 entries in the seventh annual meet here Aug. 27-28.

Meet manager John B. Bell of Saint John says he has asked the English Schools Athletic Association for "10 of Britain's best" to compete against Canadian and U.S. athletes.

About 40 entry forms are to be sent to amateur athletic chairmen in the U.S.

TO SPONSOR ENTRIES

The Royal Canadian Legion's Saint John district council has offered to sponsor six entries from Britain and England's Athletic Association is looking for sponsors for four other athletes, Mr. Bell says.

Britain's association is expected to make its selections for the Canadian meet following its annual track and field championships July 16-17 at Watford, Middlesex County, Eng.

However, association secretary Alf Foyston of Hull, Yorkshire County, says the group may reserve final selection until completion of the international match with Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The match is scheduled for Brighton, England July 24.

Creation of an experimental junior girls division this year will be another first for the Canadian championships, officials hope the division for girls under the age of 20 will encourage girls to continue in track and field beyond the juvenile (under 18) age.

Familiar Faces In Semi-Finals

WIMBLEDON, England (CP) — Christine Truman of Britain and Billie Jean Moffitt of the United States drove their way Tuesday into the women's singles semi-finals at the all-England lawn tennis championships.

Miss Truman, the 24-year-old darling of British tennis, pulled off an upset 6-4, 1-6, 7-5 victory over top-ranked American Nancy Richey before a partisan centre court crowd of 16,000.

Miss Moffitt, 19, produced some of the best tennis seen from a woman player this week in hustling third-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia out of the championship with a 6-2, 6-1 victory.

Miss Moffitt's opponent Thursday will be defending champion Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded No. 1, who crushed Jane Albert of the United States 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Truman faces Australia's powerful Margaret Smith, winner over Justina Bricks of St. Louis 6-3, 6-0.

TOP MEN MEET

The United States sends its No. 1 ranking man, Dennis Ralston, against defending titleholder and heavily favored, Roy Emerson of Australia in the men's semi-finals today.

The other match involves Fred Stolle of Australia, runner-up the last two years, and unseeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa.

The men's final is scheduled Friday, with the women's final Saturday.

Miss Truman was completely overwhelmed by Miss Moffitt's power and speed. It was the sixth time the two have met, and the fifth victory for Billie Jean.

In the quarter-finals of the men's doubles action, Ralston and Ham Richardson of the United States seeded third, beat R. N. Howe of Australia and Ramanathan Krishnan of India 9-7, 5-7, 5-7, 6-4.

Clark Graebner and Mrs. Graebner, the American husband and wife team, beat Ichizo Konishi of Japan and Irene de Lansalut of France 6-1, 6-1, in a second-round mixed doubles match.

Ludwig Heimrath Takes Big Step

TORONTO — Ludwig Heimrath of Toronto, took a giant step toward his third Canadian Racing Drivers' championship at Mosport Saturday when he placed second in the Spring Trophy races.

Driving a highly-powered McLaren-Elva Ford, the German-born defending Canadian champion picked up seven points counting toward the Player's Challenge trophy and cash awards of $1,500.

In two starts this year, Heimrath has collected 11 points to lead the over two litre category. He trails Vancouver's Bob McLennan for the overall prize by two points.

McLennan, driving a Lotus 21, placed second in the Spring Trophy races, but claimed first overall for cars under two litres. That ride gave him seven points to go with the six which he picked up in May for finishing second in the Player's Pacific at Westwood.

Each category, — under two litres, and over two litres — has $1,000 waiting for the winner at the conclusion of the current season. The driver with the highest points total will collect an additional $500 and the Challenge Trophy from the members of Player's cigarette.

The points standings in both categories were jagged slightly as a result of last weekend's activity. Thornhill's Etzel Meier received four points in under two litres and moved into a third place tie with Greg Elyson, Saskatoon. Michael Bell, Vancouver, has three points.

Greg Elyson, Saskatoon, leads under two litres prior to Saturday's race, dropped back to second place since he did not compete. He has nine points. Wayne Jamieson, Winnipeg, has nine points. Wayne Kelly, Trenton, Ontario, has three points.

Overall: McLennan (13); Heimrath (11); Jamieson and Reisman (9).

SPORTS FRONT

Minor League Holds Banquet

By JIM CULLEN

The Charlottetown Minor Hockey Association held their annual trophy night at the Basilica Recreation Centre, last night, with Prince Edward Island's most famous hockey player, Forbie Kennedy as the guest speaker.

Ivan Doherty, president of the league, was unexpectedly absent and Mike Campbell and Bill Murphy shared Ivan's master of ceremonies duties in his absence.

All the winning teams in the respective divisions of the local league as well as provincial championship teams were honored at the banquet as well as several individual prize winners.

Forbie spoke briefly to the youngsters and reminded them that everyone doesn't have the ability to become a big league hockey player and so they shouldn't neglect their academic courses in pursuit of a hockey career.

Kennedy also mentioned that whenever these Island youngsters play on foreign soil that they should remember they are every bit as good and maybe a little better than minor league players in some of our larger centres.

There was a large head-table, but one of the figures which stood out among all the other minor hockey enthusiasts was Brig. W. W. Reid, past-president of the association who for many years was the nucleus of the minor hockey program in Charlottetown.

This columnist remembers Bill Reid best carting him off to the hospital in his car for a couple of stitches in the chin received in a minor hockey game. Bill was always ready to help any of the minor league players in any way he could either on or off the ice.

The banquet was a huge success from beginning to end and we would like to take this opportunity to offer our sincere congratulations to president Ivan Doherty and all those connected with the local minor hockey system during the past winter.

Tid Bits From Here And There

We have heard through the grapevine that Levi Young, Cherry Valley, has a Price Tag colt at the Charlottetown Driving Park that has been running some good miles recently and should be at the races in the near future. High Price a fellow Price Tag horse captured a heat at the local Raceway on Saturday night and Levi has apparently got visions of his horse being the same. We wish Mr. Young the best of luck with his horse.

The City golf championship will be played at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club Thursday with the men's draw set to get underway at 9:00 a.m. The ladies draw is scheduled to get underway at 11:00 a.m. Entries for the trophy will be accepted at the pro-shop.

The Charlottetown tennis courts are available for use now and the city recreation department has provided rackets, balls and an instructor for any youngster wishing to play tennis. Igal Huggan has been hired to take care of the courts as well as instruct the youngsters and anyone desiring to take part is asked to register with Mr. Huggan.

Nova Scotia owned Bob Brook was fourth in a six horse field after leading most of the way in the featured $5,000 In-ventional Pace Monday night at New York's Roosevelt racetrack.

John Roseberry and Jim Gilliam drove in a total of eight runs and Sandy Koufax became the major league's first 13-game winner Tuesday as Los Angeles Dodgers whipped San Francisco Giants 9-3 in a National League game.

City Softball Gets Rolling

In City league softball action last evening the Sportsmen downed the BIS Shamrocks by the score of 3-0. Junior Flanagan won the route on the mound for the winners, striking out 8, walking 1 and scattering 3 hits. Losing pitcher was Harry Turner who allowed 8 hits while striking out 1. His team committed 2 errors on him.

The big blows of the game for the Sportsmen were doubles in the 1st, 4th and 6th by H. McGee, J. Flanagan, and S. Gillis respectively. Leading hitter for the Shamrocks was Rolfe Diamond with a single and double in 2 times at bat.

In Mondays action the Main Brace edged the National Park squad 11-3. Next league action is scheduled for this evening when the BIS Shamrocks will host the Main Brace.
