FIRE IN TIGNISH.—Tignish, last night narrowly escaped another great fire. It appears that a match not fully extinguished had been dropped into a box, containing sawdust in the railway station master's office. This ignited during the night and began to burn. Fortunately a son of the station master, who was sleeping upstairs, smelled the smoke and came down in time. We learn that the ticket case, a lounge and the wall of the office were considerably damaged before the flames were extinguished.

L. O. A. B. A.—The Grand Orange Lodge of this Province met on Tuesday in Wright's Hall for the transaction of general business. A very large representation was present from all parts of the Island. The session lasted all day and during the evening. The different delegates reported that considerable work had been done during the past year, the increase of membership being over one hundred. This increase was very gratifying to members of the order. The following is a list of the officers for the current year:

OBITUARY NOTICES.

The dread messenger, is making sad havoc in the eastern part of the Island by means of pneumonia which has, already, carried off many people. Among the victims last week were:

ANGUS MCCORMACK, section man, Harmony Station, leaving a sorrowing widow and a child in the cradle. Mr. McCormack was only one week sick. He had the best of medical attendance and careful nursing; but of no avail. He passed away on Sunday morning,—the funeral taking place on the following day. It was one of the largest ever seen in the neighborhood, almost all of the Souris merchants and business men attending. He was buried with appropriate ceremonies in St. Mary's Cemetery, Rev. Father McDonald officiating. The deceased was an honest hard-working man and highly respected, and his death calls forth the deep sympathy of the community.

PETER MACAULAY, a brother-in-law of the above, was stricken down with the same dread malady while attending McCormack. After a short week's illness he died on Saturday morning, and was buried on Monday morning. The great sympathy felt for his sorrowing widow and little family was fully shown by the large concourse of people of all shades, that followed the remains to St. Mary's Church where High Mass of Requiem was said by Rev. Father McDonald, and afterwards at the grave where all that was mortal was consigned to mother earth. Mr. McAulay was a man that was universally loved by his associates. His good cheer and amiable manners made a lovable companion on every occasion. Mr. McAulay was one of the very best violinists in the eastern part of the Island, and many will be reminded of the stirring melody of his grand music, and think that the hands from which came the soul stirring strains are now cold in death. Few men in the country were liked as Peter was, and the deep and heartfelt sympathy of his host of friends will go out to his sorrowing widow and family. Very remarkable, indeed, is it to see two sisters widowed within one week.

MRS. CAPT. MACKENZIE of Bayfield, Lot 46, has too succumbed to the fatal pneumonia. Her death took place on Saturday, and she was buried on Sunday. The death of Mrs. Mackenzie, was not so heart rending as that of the two preceding, for she was ripe, having reached nearly four score years. She was the mother of Capt. Andrew McKenzie, who was lost last fall in the fishery trip, and the loss of her fine son, in the prime of life, no doubt hastened her death. Her aged husband still lives now in his 84th year, and her one daughter who will have the sympathy of all Christian people.

MARRIED.
At the Manse, Georgetown, on the 16th inst., by Rev. A. W. K. Herdman, Joseph H. W. Digwell, to Henrietta E. McKenzie, both of Lot 43.

DIED.
In East Boston, 23 New St., on the 8th inst., Louis Davies, aged one year, six months and seven days, infant son of Jeff. D. and Jane Gardner.

In this city, on the 10th inst., Annie, beloved wife of Michael McCarthy, aged 47 years. May her soul rest in peace (Boston and Bangor papers please copy.)

At Dromore west, on Feb. 14 h. Doroloy McLean, widow of the late William McCannell, aged 83 years.

The need of a good Spring Medicine is almost universal, and Hood's Sarraparilla exactly meets this need. Be sure to get Hood's.
