IN MEMORIAM

MRS. FLORA TOOMBS
Friends far and near were saddened at the passing on February 14th of Mrs. Flora Toombs of Kensington in her eighty-fourth year. Mrs. Toombs was the daughter of Frederick and Eliza MacNeill Woolner and after her marriage to the late Hammond J. Toombs, they lived for many years in North Rustico. Their home was always noted for its hospitality and goodwill and together they exerted a powerful influence for good in their church and community.
In 1924 they moved to Kensington where they spent sixteen happy years, made many new friends and entered wholeheartedly into the work of their church and its various activities.
Since the death of her husband, she has resided with her sister and close companion for many years, Mrs. W. G. Simpson, to whom the sympathy of the whole community goes out in full measure.
Although she had passed her four score years, she was remarkably young in spirit and her fine mind was alert and interested in many worthy objects, especially the cause of missions. For many years she had given herself, her talent as an organizer, her gift of public speaking, her time and her means to the furtherance of the aims of the Women's Missionary Society.
She was a life long Sunday School teacher and will long be remembered by a host of young people who acknowledged with gratitude the inspiration they received from her teaching and personal influence. At the age of eighty years she walked to her church and taught a class of ten-age boys at Vocation School. She took delight in imparting the word of Life to them and endeavored to incline their young minds towards uprightliness and truth.
The funeral service was held on Tuesday, February 17 from Kensington United Church and was largely attended by relatives and friends who assembled to do honour to the departed and to show sympathy to the sorrowing family.
The service was conducted by her beloved pastor, Rev. L. M. Murray, assisted by Rev. George Gough of Cavendish. Mr. Murray gave a most inspiring and comforting address from the text Heb. 11-16 and offered deep sympathy to those near and dear to her and also expressed a great sense of loss occasioned by the passing of this good servant of God who, throughout a long and useful life, exemplified her trust in God and faith in His promises.
He paid tribute to her wonderful personality, her intellectual gifts and her capacity for service. Although separation for a time is necessary, faith in the promises of God turns grief into thankfulness and joy, remembering that the heritage of God's children is eternal life in the Father's Home. It may truly be said, "Death is swallowed up in victory." Like "Obituarian," as described by John Bunyan, "She has crossed over the River and all the trumpets have sounded for her on the other side."
There are left to mourn, her sister, Mrs. M. G. Simpson, one brother Benjamin C. Woolner of North Rustico, and a large number of nephews and nieces. One niece, Mrs. Erskine MacMurdo, was a member of her home for years and tenderly cared for her during her last illness.
The hymns sung were, "The Lord's My Shepherd," "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "The Sands of Time Are Sinking." The pallbearers were Erskine MacMurdo, Roscoe Walker, David Caseley, Capt. Edward MacDonald, Bruce Paynter, J. Harry Brown. Interment was in Cavendish Cemetery. Sweet be thy sleep, dear sister. Here may the morning sun shine brightly and clearly, and the flowers of spring bloom earliest and sweetest.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JAMES M. STEWART
-The community of West Point and surrounding districts was greatly shocked when, on the morning of January 25th, the sad news was received by the residents, of the sudden passing of a very highly respected resident in the person of Mrs. James M. Stewart in her seventieth year.
The deceased was in her usual health and attended to her household duties the day previous, but death came suddenly and unexpectedly during the early morning hours.
Her husband, a semi-invalid for a year past, who had been her constant care, and whose death took place two weeks later in Charlottetown, was mercifully called by the Angel of Death and so closed the doors of the earthly home here below.
There are left to mourn her passing a brother, Herbert Avery, of Alberton, P. E. I., and a sister, residing in U. S. A., besides a host of other relatives and friends.
The funeral was held on Tuesday morning to the Immaculate Conception Church, Brae, where a High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by her pastor, Rev. Louis Dooley, who also performed the committal services at the grave.
The pall-bearers were Messrs. Edward MacWilliams, James Auld, John R. MacDonald, Herbert Avery, Arnold Avery and Lawrence Stewart.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank kind friends and neighbours for their many acts of kindness; also those who sent messages of sympathy; Dr. Auld for his kindly attention during my recent sad bereavement.
Mrs. M. G. Simpson.

IN MEMORIAM

JAMES MALCOLM STEWART
-In Charlottetown, on the evening of February 8th, there passed to his eternal reward, James Malcolm Stewart, a life-long resident of West Point, Prince Edward Island, at the age of seventy-nine years.
He was the son of the late Philip and Annie (Donahue) Stewart and was the last surviving member of a family of five sons and four daughters. All his life was spent on the old homestead which now stands as a shining example of honest labor coupled with thrift and a fine sense of duty.
Although forced to retire from active labor for the past three years or more, he still took a keen interest in the affairs of the day. Later, as a semi-invalid for the past year, he was tenderly cared for by his faithful wife. Her sudden passing just two weeks previous to his demise was undoubtedly a great shock to his
